Walking to class are Kathy Connolly, Diane Eadie, and Maria Wooten.

"Listen Jon Samsel, I have something serious to tell you," says Esther Alvarez.

Rhonda McKusilk phones home.

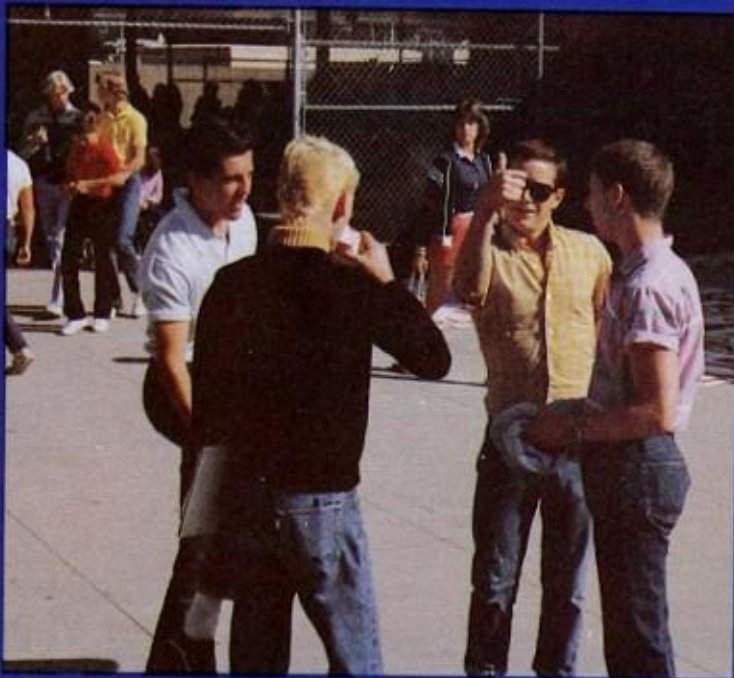

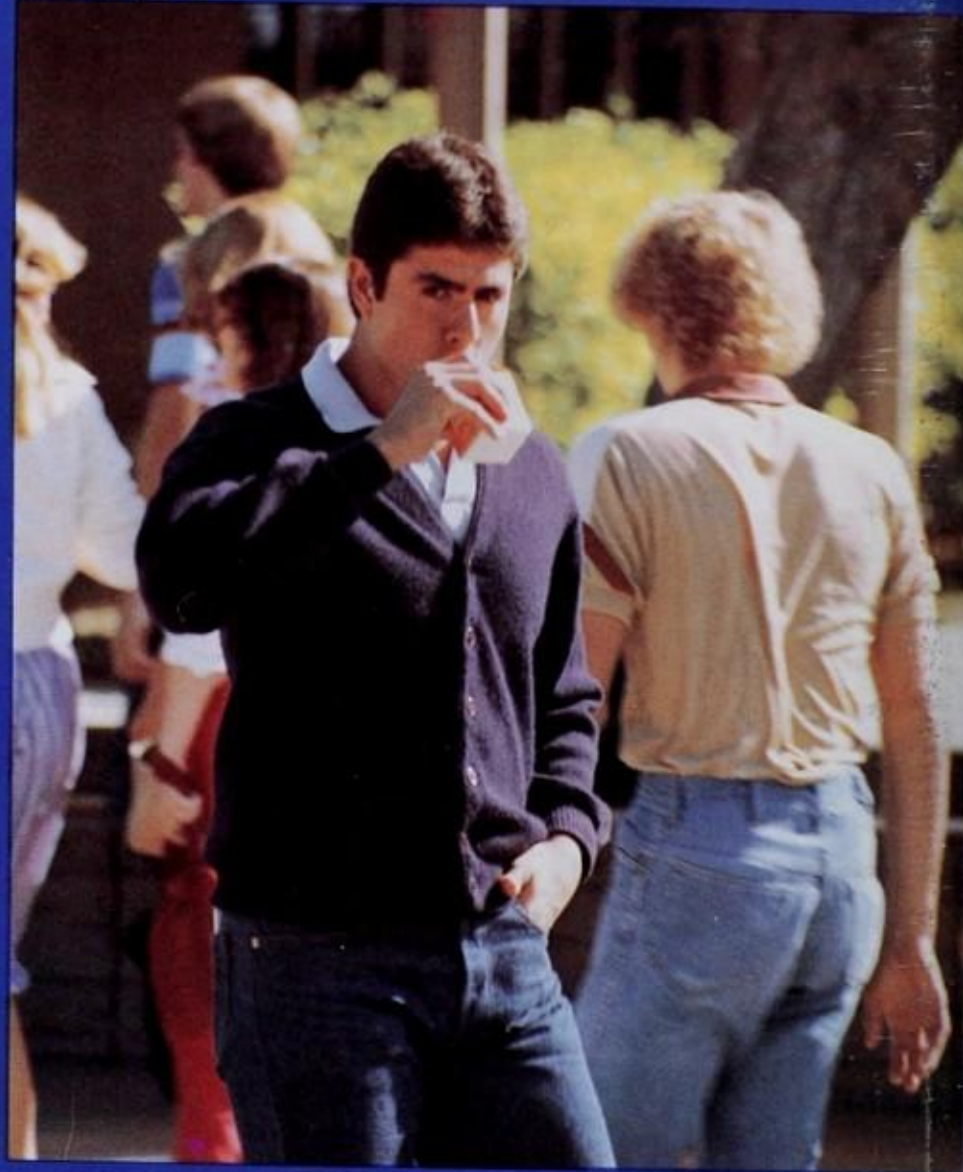

Opening a new chapter in

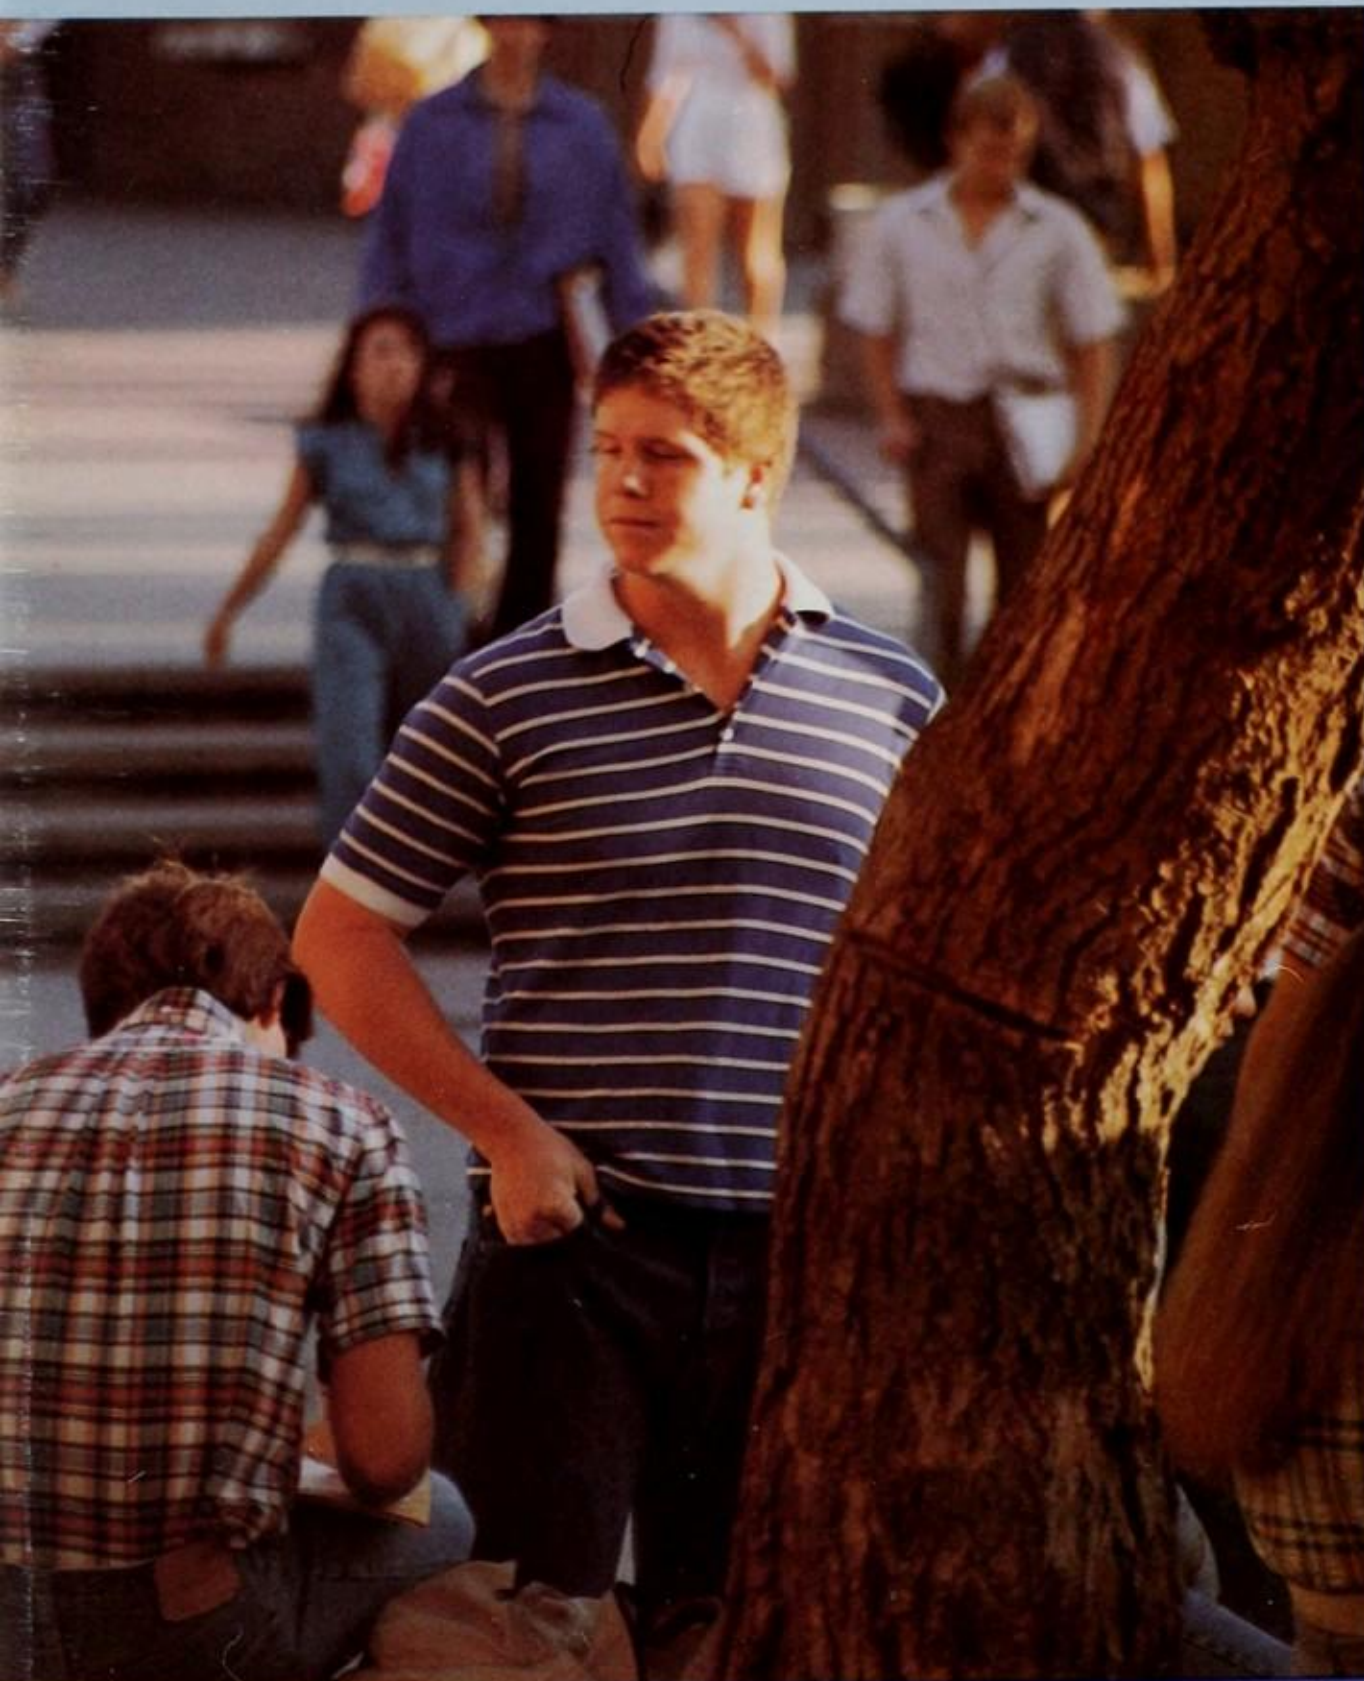

Richard Sandoval wants you to drink orange juice too, because it tastes soooo good.

Greg Cornelius flicks his imaginary bic, but his friends don't need the practice.

"There's a what in my hair?" asks Kata Conlon.

the book of LIFE

Richie Lawson is perturbed at his best friend, the tree, today.

Cathy Garity and Dawn Harp can't believe that people actually wear the clothes that Pam Evlington is showing them.

As summer came to an end we worried ourselves over trivial things that we needed to start off another school year, and were upset about things which now had restrictions.

There was no more sleeping in till late in the afternoon, and especially no more staying out until late in the morning, (especially on weekdays). We tried to catch up with our soaps as much as possible before we had to say goodbye to our favorite characters, and we hit the beach as often as possible before we had to say goodbye to our beautifully dark tans.

With the first day of school right around the corner, we got in touch with old friends to confirm schedules and to do last minute shopping until that we've been dreading all summer comes along.

When it finally came, we dragged ourselves out of bed, twelve hours earlier than usual, and started our first day of a new routine, which would last for the next nine months.

Although we dread this day, we've never been more excited to see all of our old friends and watch all of the incoming students adventure their first day of a new school.

Now that we're here, and have been here, we've experienced love, friendship, hardship, independence, unity, spirit, and we've conquered, and will continue to conquer, hundreds of pages in various books.

This is just a small chapter in the book of our lives which we open with the opening of every new school year.

Castles In The Sand

Sharing friendship are Jack Obrey and Susan Hibler.

Lloyd Turner and David Rodriguez give looks to freshmen as they pass the Senior Quad.

Derek Brown watches a cute chick walk by.

Kerri Duke is really interested in the way Naomi Murata eats her chocolate donuts.

By the expression on Pam Evington's face it looks as if she bit into a sour grape.

It was so long ago
 At the time it all began
 When all that really mattered
 Were castles in the sand
 Then the day came
 When mom told you
 Soon you'd be going
 To a place called school
 And so away you went
 With lunch in hand.
 Crying because mom
 Wouldn't go along to hold your hand
 Soon you were older;
 You found yourself in camp
 And you phoned home everyday
 Because you were tired of the cold and damp.
 Then being away from home became quite simple;
 No fears to surpass
 Growing-up in a place called high school
 Yet, those years have gone by much too fast.
 Now those long ago fears are returning.
 Seniors need someone to hold their hands
 Things beyond are so uncertain
 And there is no time for castles in the sand.

Traci Jennings

Julie Stow ponders on life as Lisa Conklin looks away.

Laura McAvoy and Laurie Padilla look at a freshman candid.

Rene Weir watches the time fly by as she is late to her class.

"Amy, you got blueberry pie on your face again," grumbles Judy Nerhus.

Steven Spielberg, creator of E.T., the Extra-Terrestrial, has symbolized El Dorado students in a unique way. Indirectly, he has put the story of E.D., the El Doradian, into a full-length movie.

E.T. and E.D. are brothers. They are alike in many ways. Their adventures are identical, but told in two different ways.

The Extra-Terrestrial starts out unaware of his surroundings, and feels he doesn't belong. The El Doradian also begins unaware, as a Freshman. After sometime, both E.T. and E.D. start meeting people and slowly develop a sense of belonging, similar to a Sophomore.

When E.D. turns into a Junior, he becomes an upper-classman and people look up to him. E.T., after being looked down upon for a long time, was looked upon for wisdom and knowledge.

E.D.'s Senior year and the ending of "E.T." is very special. E.D. and E.T. have to venture out into their own real world's. E.T. is trying to get back home and E.D. must break from the sheltered high school life, into the real world and venture upon college and a career. This is one of the most critical points of E.D.'s life.

Finally, El Doradian has gone to the movies. The Extra-Terrestrial is very similar to an El Dorado student, both share similar problems but both have the same goal, to get home. So live your life in the real world, to become successful and worldly.

SPIRIT IGNITES

Spirit week was filled with exactly that, spirit! The week was full of fun-filled and exciting activities everyday. Activities that shined with golden spirit.

The week was started off with the first lunch time dance of the year. Held in the gym, many students participated in the active dancing to rockabilly and new wave music.

Also held, was our first ever in E.D. history, Toga Day. Though many students didn't participate because of rain, the turn-out was good. There also was a freeze dance during lunch with the victors receiving prizes.

There was also a day of class recognition. Seniors wore hats, Juniors wore green, Sophomores wore shades, and Freshman wore ties. The rest of the week consisted of a musical hugs contest, being won by the Seniors. An old times dress-up day, and to end the week, Halloween dress-up day.

The last thing on Julie Dalena's mind is whether or not Billy Cohen got the signal.

The students listened intently at the Homecoming assembly as Kimiko Maeda and Matt Arletta sang "Friends in Love."

"Here we are, come get us you big toga man you!" exclaims Tami Brown and Lori Hogan.

Even though he's a Freshman, Dan Sutherland has school spirit.

Kathy Llado, Pat Devaney, and Tom Hummer check out what they're getting themselves into.

Michelle Harmon, member of the Honorary Karate Club, practices the martial arts during our lunch-time dance.

Richard Sandoval is careful not to step on any cockroaches during the freeze dance in the gym.

IN MANY WAYS

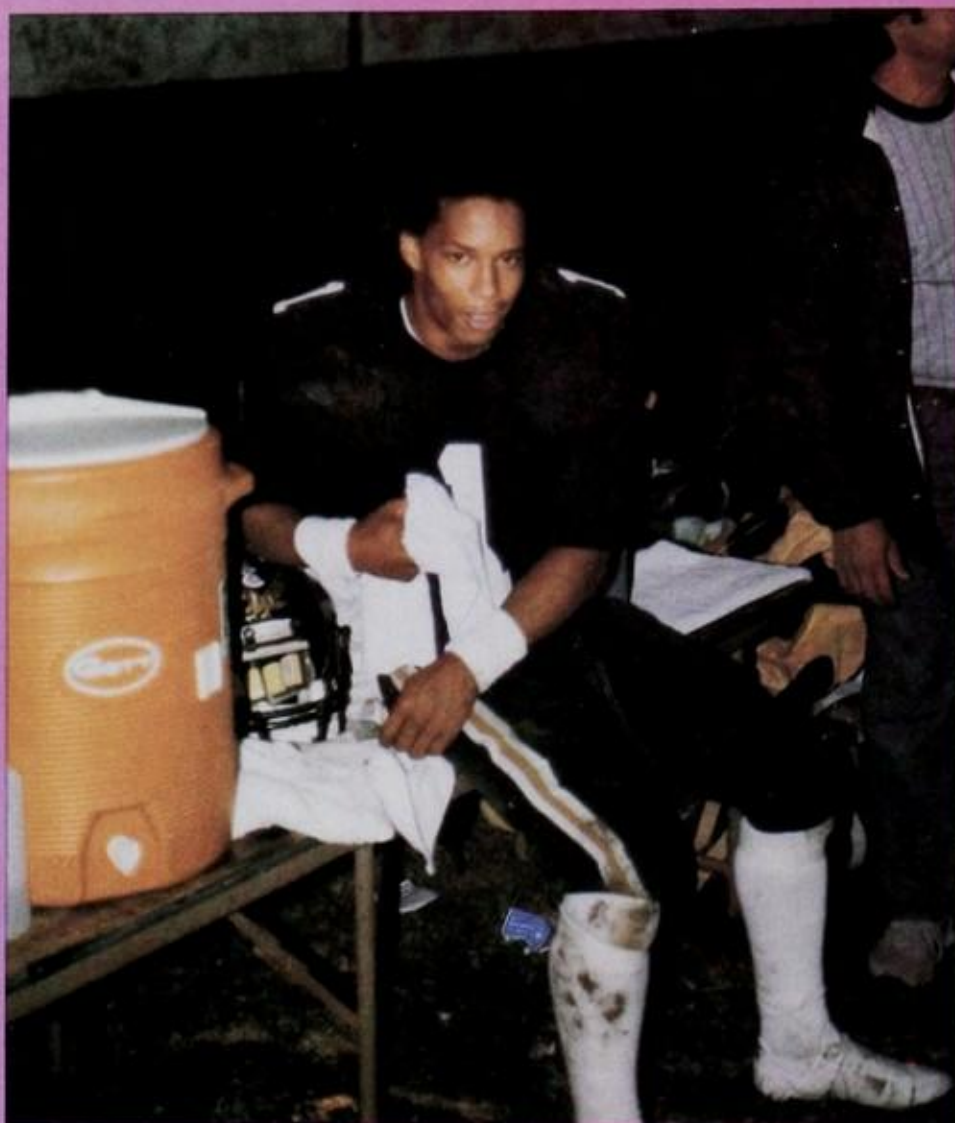

Remember The Good Old Days?!

The Homecoming Game was a nightmare for the entire football team, but a dream come true for the queen, Judy Van Den Bosch.

The Homecoming Game was held on Thursday night with the Hawks battling Kennedy. Kennedy had the luck of the Irish, defeating the Hawks by a score of 18-8.

Although everyone mourned the loss of the game, Judy Van Den Bosch was on cloud nine for she was crowned Homecoming Queen. Tears of joy streamed down her face but she said that as soon as she saw the photographers she stopped crying.

Returning King and Queen, Clark Smith and Tina Schroeder remember the "Old Days."

Tom Hummer dives to make the catch for the first down.

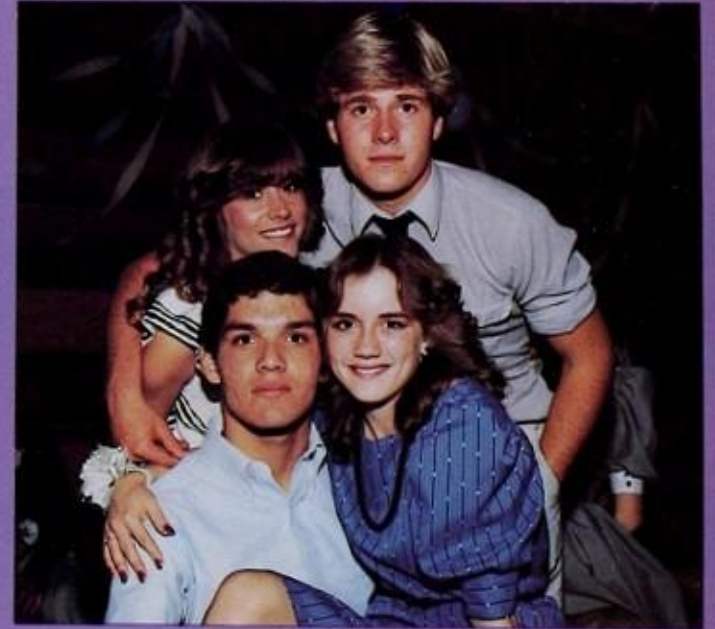

The balloons soared, the band played, and the crowd cheered as Judy was crowned the Queen.

The Good Old Days''

The dance "The Good Old Days", was a great way to start off a new year. Being the first "true" dance of the year, many couples showed up to hear the band Evergreen, socialize, and of course to dance.

Comments about the dance were nothing less than great. "Everything was perfect, especially the atmosphere presented by the decorations," was a comment made by Carl Pierce. Kata Conlon said, "Our dance was much better than Troy's, and the tickets cost half as much."

Another attraction at the dance was the Homecoming Court consisting of Mark Alex, Judy Van Den Bosch, Lori Hogan, Sara White, Kelly Dresser, Jenny White, and Arlene Perry.

Kermit the frog tip toes through the theatron on the lookout for Miss Piggy.

"Aren't we just livin' dolls?" asks Kelly McQuade and Kelly Trivers.

Women bikers Elaine Dutton, Shelly Skidmore, and Donna Stefoni won the costume contest for best group.

Brent Fisher, a big great white shark, roams the campus looking for his lunch.

Why Not?

An ostrich with a rider, a girl taking a shower all over campus, and a plain wrap ghost? How does this fit in with the lifestyle here at E.D? Well, for Halloween, it was perfectly normal.

Following tradition, October 29 was Halloween Dress-up Day. A variety of costumes could be seen around campus, ranging from cute and cuddly to the risen dead.

A lunchtime contest determined the scariest, most original, and best dressed. Winners were Tonya Fraser, Sandy Conners, Elaine Dutton, Shelly Skidmore, and Donna Stefanik.

Tonya Fraser frightens students and takes the scariest prize.

Laura Halstad wants to stay clean so she stays in the shower all day.

It looks like Sandy Conners can't find the stirrups, but she took the prize for most original.

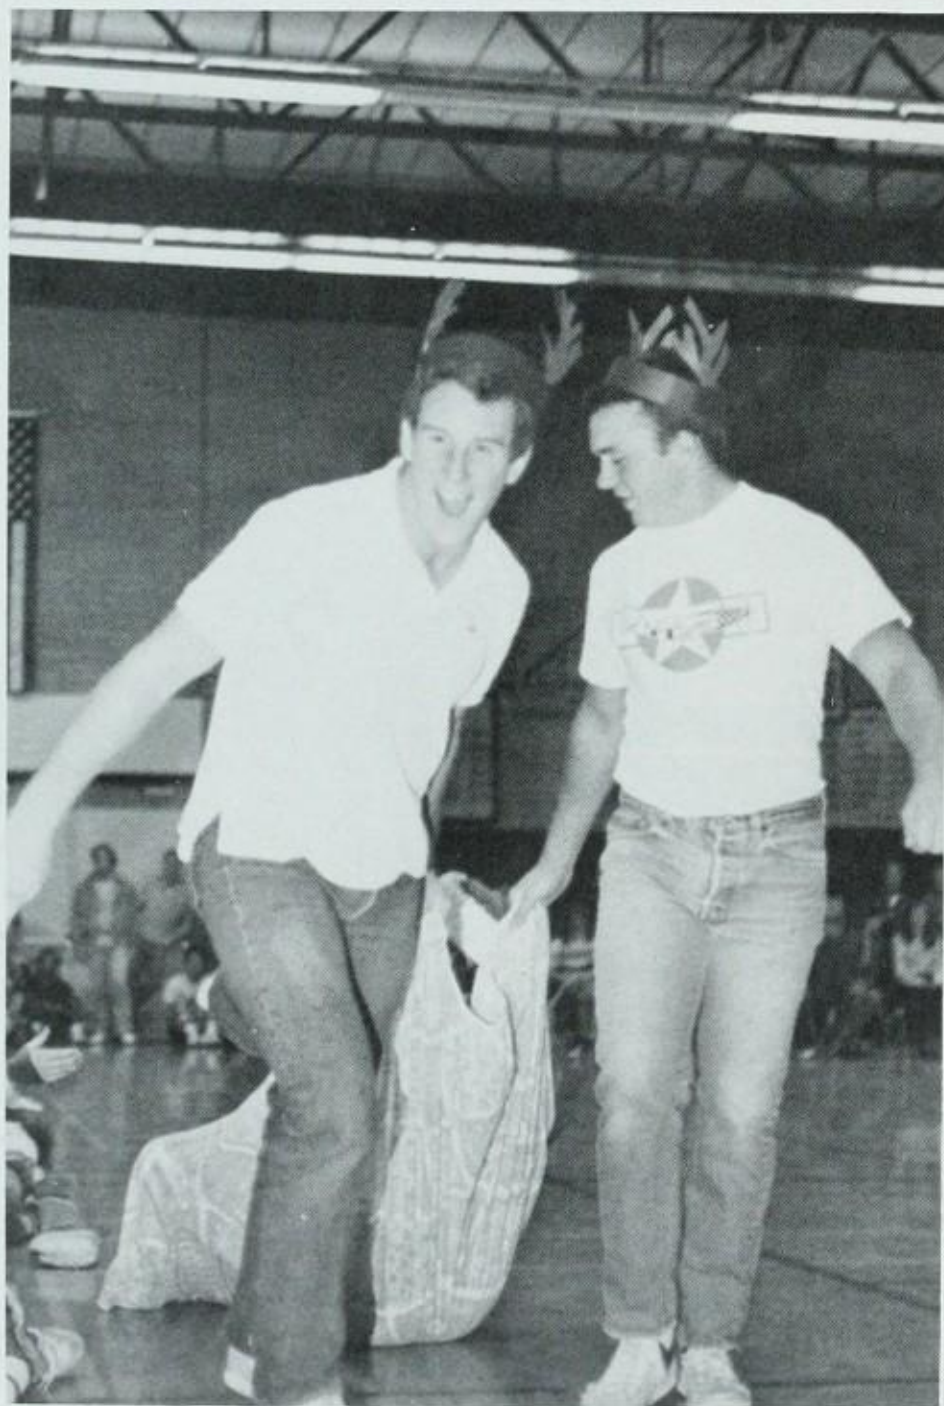

The Backbone Of Spirit

The assemblies provided the students with some entertainment and time to "kick back" away from the drudgery of schoolwork. They also served to rally teams and student body to many triumphant victories, showing that they are the "Backbone of Spirit."

Assemblies proved instrumental in making the year more exciting for all the students. Whenever a pep assembly was held, students, teachers, and alumni deluged the gym. The air was charged with tension and the blare of the band thrilled the crowd. Skits, class competitions, slide shows, commendations, and choreography enhanced the assemblies. Two of the most entertaining assemblies during the year were the Homecoming and Christmas assemblies. The Homecoming assembly witnessed the nomination and crowning of the Freshman, Sophomore, and Junior princesses. The Homecoming King was also named, and the Senior runners-up were named. The Christmas assembly treated the students with Christmas carols sung by visiting pre-school children.

Class Competition

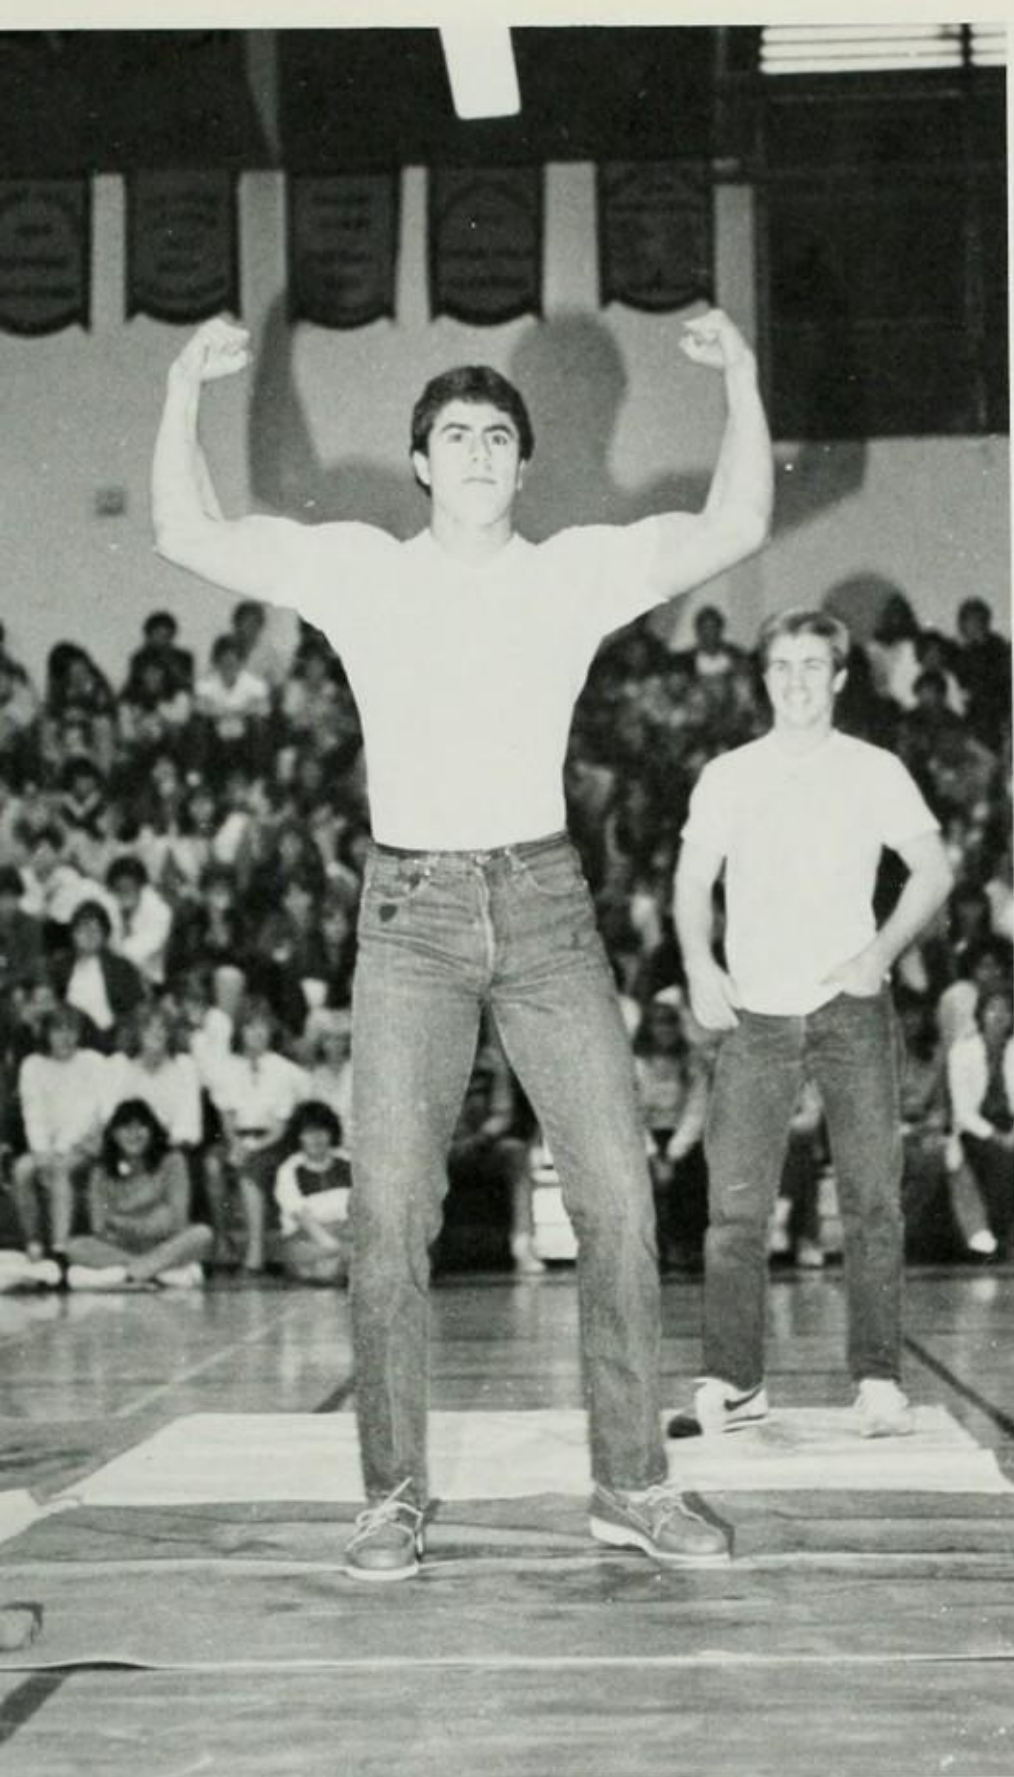

As the third year of class competition came to a close, we found that the Seniors had placed first once again. Not to be outdone by the classes prior to theirs, the Seniors wanted to make sure that grad night would be a memorable one. You see, winners of the class competitions receive money toward their class fund, which is in turn invested in grad night festivities, for the most part. This year's bizarre events included the banana pass, musical hugs, and the much acclaimed "male wet T-shirt" contest. All of these events are arranged by the student council, which may explain these most unusual activities. The student council works hard, however, to plan each competition so that everyone gets in to the act.

Tom Hummer and Kevin Kirwin anxiously await their next hug.

After Richard Sandoval made a pass at Cecilia Perry she gave him a cold shower in return.

Typical Richard Sandoval trying to be a macho man.

Fred Zarrow and Joey Husovsky look in awe as Lori Johnson shows how to pass a banana between her legs.

83: Mankinds Endless Search For Security

The 1982-83 school year witnessed many tragic and inspiring events. It was the year of the unemployed, while nations of the world tried desperately to recover from the world wide recession. It was also the year that held little respite from the toils of war as over one fourth of the worlds nations clashed over differences caused by their own greedy ambitions. But the one recurring theme in all world events this year was mankind's innate need to feel secure. This theme took shape in many obscure ways: in the START talks and the arms race between the U.S. and U.S.S.R.; in the nuclear protests in Europe; in Barney Clarks heroic quest for life with an artificial heart; and even in the movies as a benevolent extra-terrestrial tried to find his way home.

Sluggish economics and a number of armed conflicts dominated the news in 83. Every nations leaders tried a number of programs to bring back economic prosperity but none could be judged brilliant. The military operations, however, had no such problems of importance.

The Isrealis launched a massive attack in Lebanon which successfully erased the PLO threat against Isreal's northern border and may have destroyed the Arab dream of eliminating Isreal by force. But the operation ended in a nightmarish massacre as Arab civilians were slaughtered by Lebanese militiamen in a refugee camp. In the Falklands, too, Great Britain won a "smashing good" victory after an old dispute with Argentina flared up.

Drew Barrymore makes friends with a creature from outer space in the blockbuster E.T.

Argentine troops overran a small company of British marines on the island. England then responded by deploying a task force which recaptured the islands in less than two weeks.

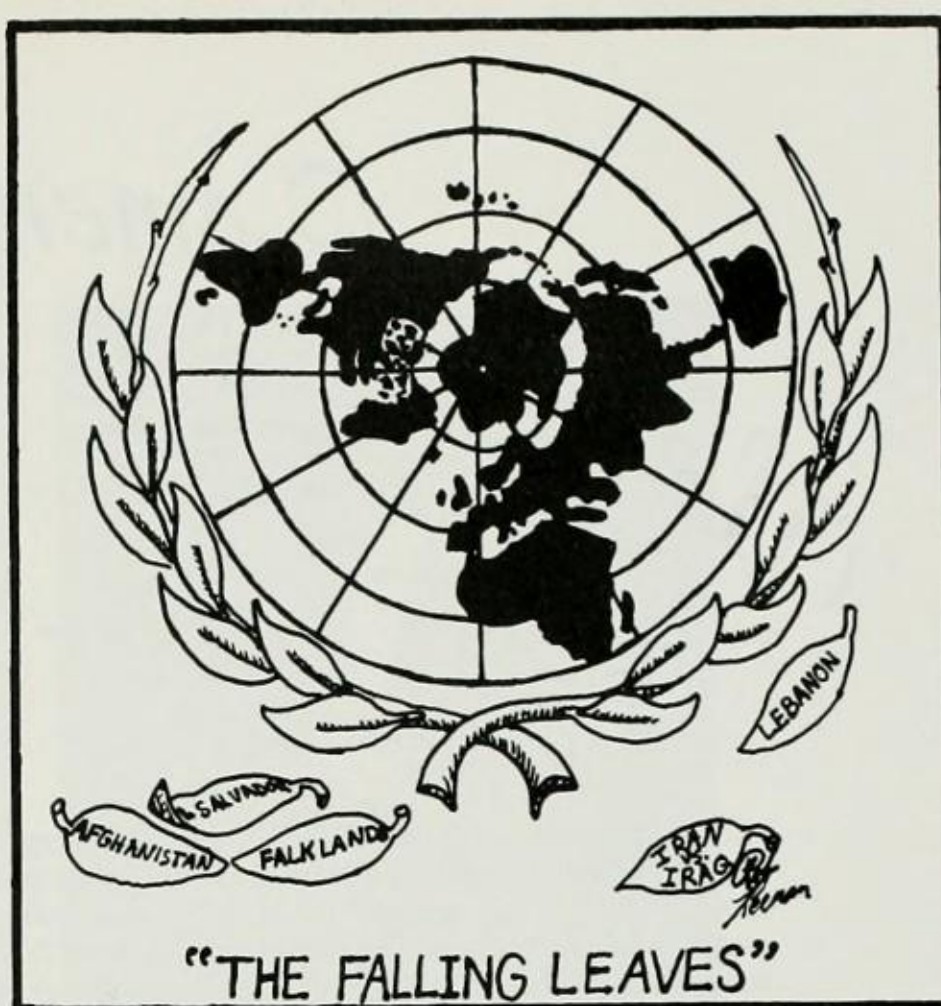

Poland's armed conflict against its own citizens reached a successful, but repressive conclusion in late 1982. The military government imposed martial law which successfully thwarted political demonstrations. Four thousand protestors were arrested and the Solidarity Union was outlawed.

Other conflicts raged endlessly on. Iraq which had invaded Iran two years past suffered heavy losses as Iran invaded Iraq in retaliation. Neither side, however, managed to win decisively. Russia, too, became more involved in their war in Afghanistan committing over 100,000 troops to the already beleaguered country. The Russian forces had major setbacks against the Afghan rebels.

Brutality took on many forms other than war. Violence both accidental and calculated claimed many victims. The IRA killed more than its share of people as they maliciously placed bombs in cars on crowded streets in England. America was not immune to this bestiality. There was a rise in the murder rate and other violent crimes. But nothing shocked the nation more than the gruesome cruelty of cyanide laced Tylenol capsules that took the lives of seven innocent people.

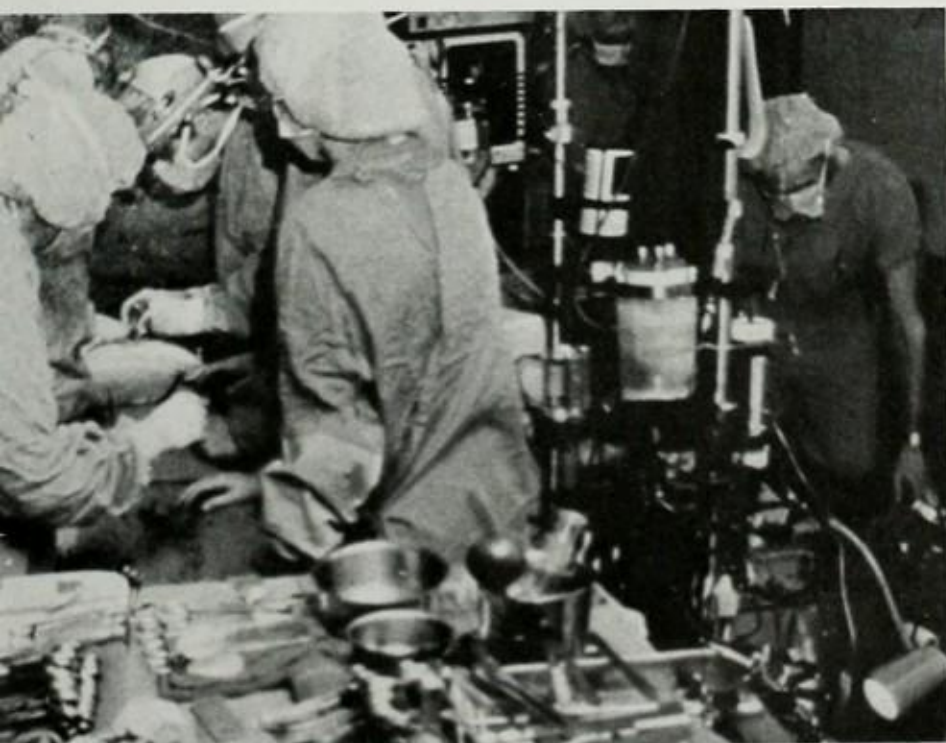

All the peoples of the Earth waned grievously under the shadows of turbulence. Not surprisingly, 83 saw the birth of many peace movements which held demonstrations advocating a bilateral nuclear freeze and eventual disarmament in a last ditch hope to rekindle what's left of mankind's sanity. The results of their efforts, however, were questionable as the Geneva disarmament talks made little progress and the dedication of the diplomats to the eventual goal of the nuclear freeze became doubtful. Both the U.S. and U.S.S.R. made proposals to eliminate nuclear weapons that were specifically designed to sway world public opinion in 83 as President Reagan declared the development of a new U.S. missile defense system.

The world was robbed of many great public figures this year. Most significant of these, was the changing of the guard in Russia when their leader Leonid I. Brezhnev died of heart failure (he was succeeded by Yuri V. Andropov). America lost many entertainment greats including Henry Fonda, Ingrid Bergman, Arthur Godfrey, and Princess Grace of Monaco. The nation also paid its final respects to the fallen war heroes of Vietnam during the long overdue, but none the less appropriate dedication of the Vietnam War Memorial in Washington Mall.

1982-83 had its high and low points. It brought the launching of a new Canadian Constitution and the sinking of the Equal Rights Amendment in the U.S.; the inspiring flights of the space shuttle Challenger and the sickening crash of a jetliner in Washington's Potomac River; the formation of a new United States Football League and a greatly abbreviated NFL football season; social violence and the arrival of an egg-domed extra-terrestrial whose message of gentle wisdom seemed, indeed, unearthly.

A permanent artificial heart is implanted inside the chest of Barney Clark, in the first such operation in history.

Changing of the guard in Russia.-Leonid Ilich Brezhnev died of a heart attack in November at the age of 75.

"Un Moment Enchantant" Winter Formal

"Un Moment Enchantant". Those words captured the mood of Winter Formal perfectly. Held in the Plaza de Cafes, the Winter Formal had an atmosphere that was not only enchanting but romantic as well. The Yearbook Staff outdid itself in sponsoring the affair and their efforts were obviously appreciated. "They were very good and played a variety of music" remarked Jeff Van Den Bosch, about the band Scandal.

Hawks Do It With Style

The new fashions of the '80's, as fashions always have, are constantly changing. Considering this and the rising prices of clothes, it seems almost a miracle that anyone could keep up with them enough so as to be called "fashionable." But with their seemingly endless supply of funds most students at E.D. managed to remain "stylish" throughout the year.

This year's fads and fashions continuously fluctuated from one extreme to another. Often people change fashions just to stand out and be noticed, while others are striving to be unique. Another possible reason why fashions change, however, is that fashion is a "form of ugliness so intolerable that we have to alter it every six months."

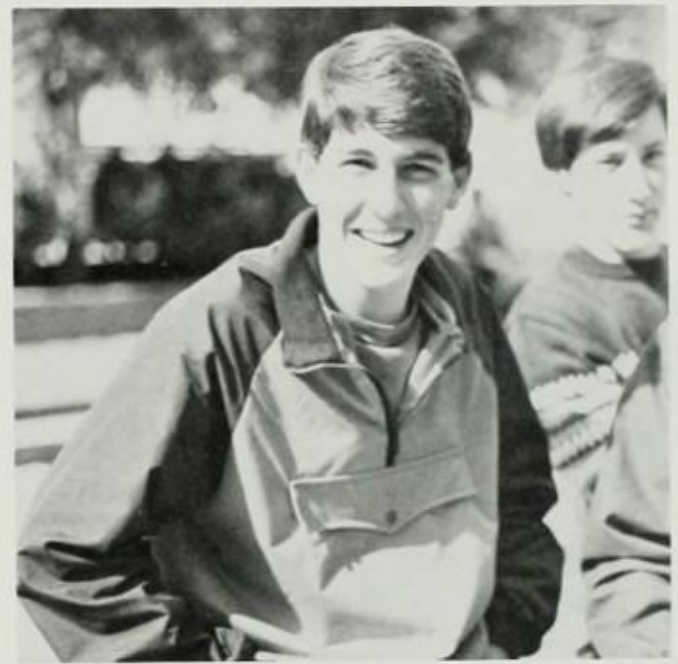

Most of the new outrageous fashions were started by popular music groups. The Punk Rock, New Wave, Rock-A-Billy, and Mod styles, for instance, were all recently inspired by rock groups. The Mod fashions included the wearing of old raincoats, thin ties, and other distinctions reminiscent of the British Invasion into America in the early '60's. Rock-A-Billy fashions came basically for the '50's, and included greased back hair and clothes mainly from that time period. New Wave and Punk Rock with their outlandish hairstyles and gaudy clothing still survived the everchanging tide of popular fashion this year.

Other fads and fashions were bermuda shorts, combat fatigues, loafers and walkman radios. Items, that in all likelihood, will lose their popularity within a few months. With all the differences of opinion on what is stylish it became hard to tell what was "in." Perhaps the wonder of fashion really lies in its diversity, because it allows everyone to express his unique style, even if that "style" will be outmoded in a few months.

Jim Leonard showing off his stylish Mod outfit, waves to his loyal fans.

"We don't have burritos in Alaska," exclaims Steve Alleveto as he shows off his typical Mod trench coat.

Wearing 501's and a new concert t-shirt was a favorite style among many students as Brendan Sharp displays.

Valerie Rodriguez shows off a popular hairstyle among the girls and wonders if going to her next class is worth it.

Scott Wilson shows he's in style with his two-tone jacket, a favorite among non-skiers as well as skiers.

Chris Ames smirks because he knows he's in style with his argyle sweater. A favorite fashion among girls as well as guys.

Penny Loafers were a favorite among students that wanted to be in style.

SADIE GOES HAWAIIAN

Sadie Hawkins went Hawaiian, and so did the 200 couples who attended the Hula Hawkins dance. Clad in brightly colored shirts and sarongs, they rocked the night away to tunes by the band Rollercoaster. The Hula Court King Mark Neu, Queen Joanna Keating, Prince Tony Bell and Princess Jenee Gill boogied to the contemporary rock sounds of the band. Authentic hula dancers demonstrated some hip-swinging moves and mischevously encouraged some students to display their hidden dancing talents. Various groups sponsored booths, such as the "officially-unofficial" marriages, food stands, and the Drill Team's traditional jail, where numerous people spent a lengthy three minutes after being captured. For the second year the event was put on by the National Honor Society.

FLORIDA

Some Nights To Remember

"YEAH MOM, WE'RE GONNA SEE A MOVIE!"

There was more to school this year than just getting an education. The students instituted a "Nightlife," a "Social rampage," escaping the trauma of school. Students escaped to many different places. Arcades, parties, restaurants, and concerts were just a few of the local hangouts.

Centipede, Dig Dug, Galaga, and Kangaroo were a few of the most popular video games. Junior Dave Sims said, "Galaga is the most radical game around, but hardly any arcades have it." The most popular arcades were at the El Dorado Plaza, at Camelot, and at Malibu Grand Prix.

Along with the arcades were the concerts. There were many memorable concerts during the school year, including The Who's Final concert, Judas Priest, Jethro Tull, and Missing Persons New Years Eve Party.

If it hadn't been for these and other outside school activities, school would be very dull. El Dorado students were no longer bored, thanks to their established "Nightlife," and their own significant "Nights to remember."

Spending an educational evening in the local arcade, Lloyd Snyder demolishes the invading foe.

El Dorado's "Ladies of the evening" strut their stuff at Knott's Berry Farm.

Kata Conlon is just "hanging around" on the San Diego Harbor Cruise.

Kimiko Maeda sings, "I'm back in the saddle again."

Summer

All students spent their free time differently. Summer gave us a chance to express those pent up emotions. Some students got jobs, most went to the beach at least once, a few went on vacation and alot just made fools of themselves. Sophomore Elise Adamson said, "Summer school was boring but it got better." Freshman Sandy Connors simply "tanned her neck" while Senior Kata Conlon had "a remarkable exciting time at Year-book camp." Senior Erika Locey stated, "Anything is better than school." No matter what anyone did, everyone had some sort of fun. All the enjoyment of last summer has past but more of it is on the way and we can't wait. El Doradians are true Summer Lovers.

Flying through the air with the greatest of ease is David Brown.

"I got a big one!" exclaims Dave Sims.

Returning home from England the El Dorado Basketball players are welcomed by everyone.

Lovers

Dreaming of things to come is Jim Gilliland.

Laurie Rudyk, Lori Johnson, Jennifer Lawson, and Debe Richards show true "Toga"-thensess.

The Eldoradians

Home Sweet Home

The class of '83 has made El Dorado its home. Four years ago the young "El Doradian" was welcomed into a new environment just as the "Extra Terrestrial" was welcomed by Elliot in the movie E.T. Just as Elliot helped E.T. reach his goal, El Dorado has served as a stepping stone for reaching the goals in our lives. Thirty years from now E.D. will be remembered as our home away from home, just as E.T. remembers earth as his home away from home.

"Did you really faint when you saw me?" Jon Stofer asks Kim Newman.

"I'm going to have a hard time explaining this camera in my eye," says Pam Evington.

"You know it's medically proven that fingers are edible," says Kelly Trivers to Kelly McQuade.

Steve Desko does his Telly Savalas imitation.

Debe Richards is definitely eating school food.

"I accidentally glued my arm to my belt, so this is the only way I can carry my purse," says Lisa Collier to Terry Rae.

Just another day at the office for Tom Plantamura and Cubby Bear.

"Are these earrings really lowering my ears," says Kathy Lado to Erika Locey.

"Jasmine, I told you if you call me short one more time I am going to deck you," says Mark Alex.

Football Fever . . .

Friday night football games are as much a part of high school as Math, English, and Science. They are as important a part of our school's tradition like Homecoming and Senior Ditch Day. Every week hundred's of students attend these football games. Ask any high school student why he/she attends the Friday night football games, and you may get a surprising answer. Senior Robin Stoll stated "I go to help support our school team." Senior David Guidry replied, "I go mainly to see how people act away from school, but I mainly go to have fun." While Kata Conlon simply said, "I go just to get out of the house." Whatever the reason students attend, we do know the football players appreciate it. When asked, Delphus Montagne replied, "Just knowing the people are there rooting for us, even when we're losing, helps us."

The fans know we're no. #1.

Greenlaw - Related To Einstein?

Every school has outstanding students, but at El Dorado we have someone who outshines the rest. His name? Joe Greenlaw, and we think he just may be the next Einstein. Joe who was a Senior this year, maintained a 3.9 grade point average throughout his four years of high school. He averaged three and a half hours of homework per night, and he was ranked fourth in his class at the end of his Junior year. But Joe didn't just study he was also active in school organizations. Last year he was President of the French club, and is a second year veteran of the math team. Joe also was a very active member of NHS, and CSF, in which he served as vice-president in charge of fund raising. Joe's favorite subjects are math, science, and working with computers. In fact, computers interested him so much that he volunteered his summer, to help instruct our teachers in computer operation. When asked what the most remarkable thing he ever accomplished was, he replied, "Well, I got a score of 790 out of 800 on the mathematic section of my SAT test." That score, along with his verbal score, earned Joe the award "Merit Scholar," an honor given only to the top five percent of the students in the country who take the test. That alone is proof of the talent that Joe possesses. He also secretly revealed that he didn't even study for his SAT test. Some people have recognized Joe's talent, self-discipline and wish to succeed as a result, he was picked as one of the six people in El Dorado High to compete in the 1982 Orange County Decathlon. Joe plans to attend Stanford when he graduates, and major in physics. When asked to comment on his hard work and accomplishments, Joe smiled and responded, "It was worth it."

Food For Thought . . .

Food is an important part of socializing. And everybody eats, especially students.

After the Varsity Football games, fast-food joints were popular hang-outs. The Great Western Pizza Company and Taco Bell were the most popular.

Food is needed to survive. It is one of the three factors of living: food, shelter, and clothing. School, work, and entertainment all include food. Food can be expensive or cheap. It can be homemade, fast-food, or gourmet. But food is important to everyone.

Senior Sounds

Pop, Punk, Heavy Metal, New Wave, Jazz, Country, Rockabilly, Classical and so on and so on. All of these sounds, and plenty of them, were heard on campus this last year. Radios and people played music which was a unifying factor among students who have nothing in common.

During break or lunch, many a student gathered around portable stereo systems and listened to the likes of John Cougar, Crass, Iron Maiden, Oingo Boingo, The Dazz Band, Dolly Parton, The Straycats, and at least once, Beethoven. A unifying factor in about as many forms as there are.

Says Dave Cravotta, "Beethoven is cool, but Crass makes a social statement."

Good-natured sectional rivalries developed between many groups. Punks would argue with rockers and they would argue with rockabillys about which kind of music was the best.

Not only could these sounds be heard on campus, but also at places like The Forum, The Whiskey, Radio City, the Irvine Amphitheater, and Perkin's Palace.

If this weren't enough, there were many students who formed their own bands. Our own Senior Class President, Kevin Kirwin, was in a band called Armed Citizen. Phil Van Der Most, of Armed Citizen, is also part of a band called Tension. "All members of Tension play a major part in how successful we are, even though my brother and I write most of the music," offered Phil.

Music. It eased tensions, provided conversation, and unified uncommon people on a common ground.

Medford Bound

Mike Walker and John Mansfield really enjoy the challenging sport of bicycling. After riding together for only a year they have finished in the top ranks in numerous races. To get ready for their summer trip to Medford, Oregon, they have been training by riding about 30 miles per day. They also have ridden to numerous locations along the coast including San Diego and Santa Barbara. "Training is a big part of bicycling" says Mike. "John and I have been training for about 9 months now."

John feels that, "As school ends and summer begins Medford becomes less of a dream and more of a reality!"

Time Well Spent

When Freshmen first start high school they are, understandably, very nervous and confused. High school is a very scary place, at least at first. But shortly after the initial shock of the new year the uneasy, timid Freshmen begin to meet new people and start new relationships. As they grow and mature they become involved in academics, clubs, and sports. The young students feel more comfortable at high school. By the time the students start their reign as Seniors they have become well versed in the workings of the school.

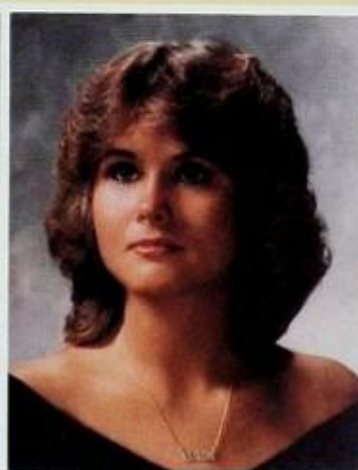

The end of school becomes a time to think back and reflect upon all the memories and friendships. It is also a time to look forward to the future. The Seniors have become elated at the prospect of graduating and going off to college to set new goals for themselves. Diplomas in hand, the Seniors leave the security of high school to face new problems they have yet to overcome.

Students Support Hawks

Many students at El Dorado were very supportive of the successful Hawks sports program. The El Dorado Varsity Football team drew many students to Bradford Stadium to scream and cheer for a Hawk victory. But more than that, the students felt that they were a part of the school and furthermore, that they were a contributing factor to the success of the team.

Seniors especially gave their all, knowing that this was their last year. They were the heart of most of the rowdy cheering sections, hoping that somehow, someday, their graduating class would be known as the wildest, winningest class in El Dorado's history.

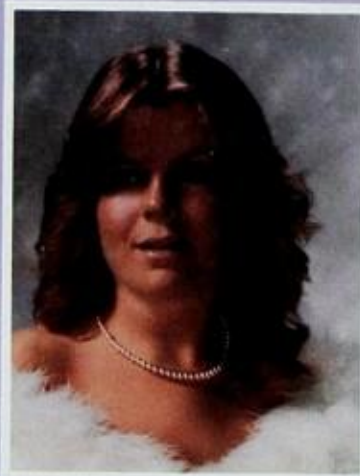

All in all, in the past and in the future, El Dorado's students have backed the sports program 100%, be it Girls Volleyball or Boys Basketball. The students have experienced the sweet smell of victory and the agony of defeat. El Dorado's Seniors-to-be will eagerly await their chance to be the best class in the history of El Dorado.

Senioritis

7:49 A.M.-The phone rang. Strange things were happening to the Seniors and the faculty wanted me to investigate. Within minutes I was in the Senior Parking Lot searching for clues. I noticed something very peculiar; all the Seniors had left their books in their cars! I then proceeded to the Senior Quad. The Seniors were everywhere; so I played it cool mingling with them. Classes soon started. The Seniors were in no hurry to move out. I soon figured out what was wrong with the Seniors. They had Senioritis.

Life As A Senior

Dave Dracoules finds humor in Freshmen Brent Fisher's school enthusiasm on toga-day.

When you're going through the first three years of High School, to be a Senior meant to be "Top Dog"- terror of Freshmen, and Underclassmen in general. You think "When I'm a Senior, nobody is going to push me around. I'll be the boss. I'll be able to walk with my head held high." But as you become the almighty Senior, you realize that things are a little more complex than you thought. You realize that no longer will you get up in the morning and have your day set. No longer is your life "the same old grind". No longer will there be the predictability of high school to rely on. No longer will you be in high school.

Soon, you'll either be getting a job, and taking on bigger responsibilities, or going on to college. In some cases, that will mean leaving home. That brings on more fears about your future. What will it be like? What will you do? How will you do it? It's answering these questions that the El Doradian's journey is all about.

Seniors: Off Campus

Senior life goes beyond books, tests, and grades . . . There is also a time for fun, on and off-campus. Some go in for parties, dances, and sports events while others may prefer going to the beach, cruising Skyline Drive, hanging out at "Scamelot," or just spending a quiet moment with a friend. Recreation is a big part of Senior life. Without it, books, tests, and grades would be the only source of excitement, which could lead to "Senioritis," fortunately, Seniors do engage in extra-curricular activities. These activities are what made this year so great.

While walking to his next class, Senior Jeff Whan plans out his weekend.

Movies Play Roll At E.D.

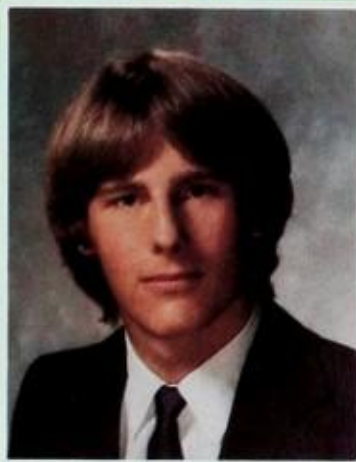

Many students around the E.D. campus did various things, be it homework, work, or even play at the local arcades. But many students, Freshmen through Seniors, were avid movie goers. Movies can control the students emotions; there was Jason, the three dimensional character from Friday The 13 th. three, that kept students awake at night. Then there was the frantic comedy of Fast Times At Ridgemont High, which had the audience rolling down the aisles. Don't forget E.T. who dealt with students emotions by trying to find home.

Movies played an important role in the life of E.D. students; they started new fads, created new gossip, and even inserted new words to our dialogue, such as narly, and bogus.

Most E.D. students attended movies in the evenings, maybe with a date, if they could afford it, and could get a date. Others attended early matinees, because it was cheaper and their younger sister was paying their way any how. Movies were expensive and varied in price from two dollars up to five, but most students from El Dorado attended these movies because they were a great source of entertainment and offered an interesting topic of conversation during a hectic school day!

A Model Senior

Going to school for only four hours a day was ideal for Senior, Adam Traub. "I have only four classes and am hardly on campus. With my schedule I have become a model Senior," said Adam. After Adam's four classes he works four hours daily as a "Recreation Leader" for the City of Placentia. "Working for Placentia has been an experience that I'll never forget. I have done everything from assisting the City Administrator to cleaning bathrooms," explained Adam, with a grin. He has learned many things and thanks to El Dorado's Work Experience Program received credits for doing it.

Adam likes to help people and would like to help anyone who needs it. He stated, "I can't stand watching people get hurt and would like to contribute to them in any way I can. I would like to become a psychologist or a social worker so I can achieve my goal." He would like to go to Fullerton College to complete his general education and continue to Cal State Fullerton for completing his major.

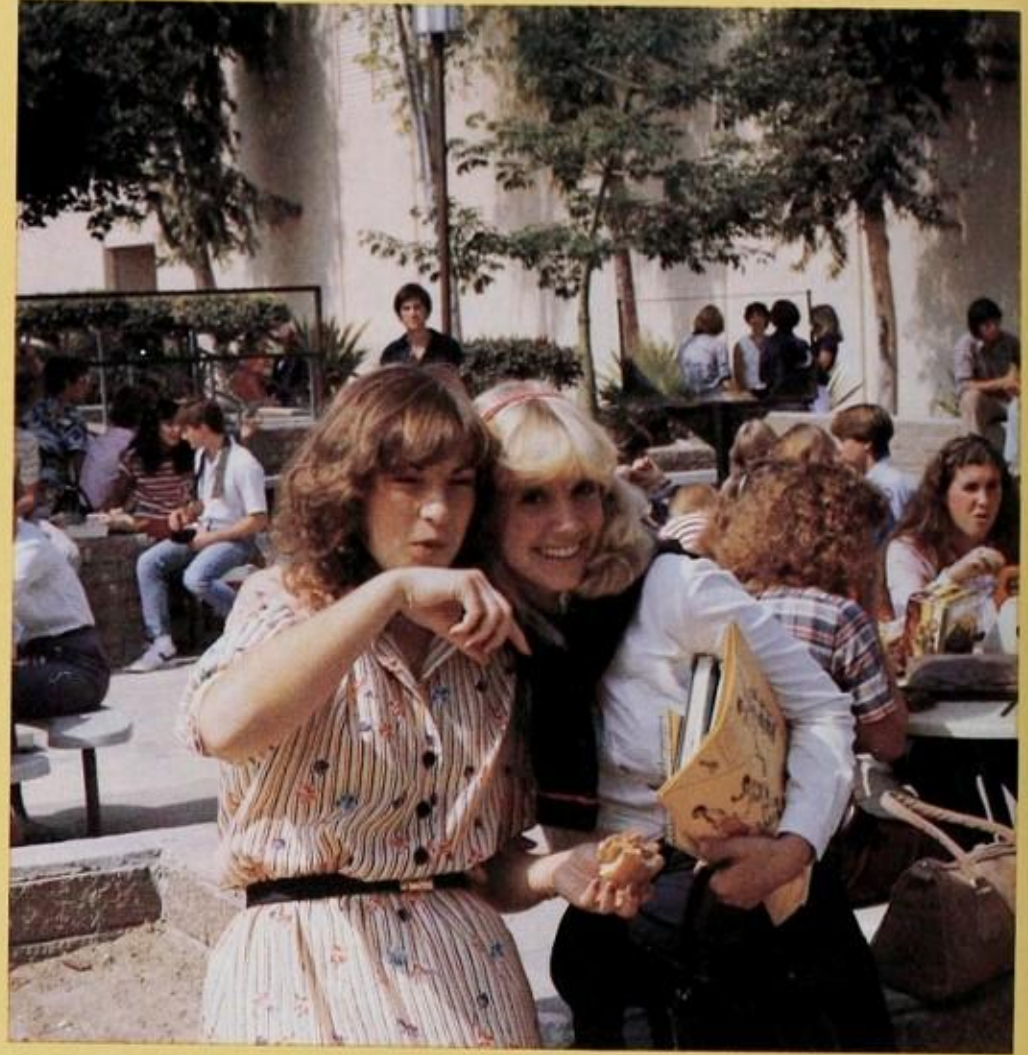

His main goals are to become successful in anything he may pursue, becoming famous and wealthy and to become "happier than he can imagine."

In conclusion, Adam said, "My parents have given me the support I need to achieve my goals. I feel they are a main power source in my life. Without their love and concern I would be nowhere."

Seniors Know The Way

All Seniors are one of a kind. The class of '83, however, is a very special kind. We have experienced the ups and downs of high school and now we must look toward the future. The future, of course, will leave these high school years behind us. Of these years we have accomplished much, and the memories we have will never leave us. We must set new goals for ourselves and continue to climb higher. We have confidence in ourselves - After all, we know the way.

Taking Up Time . . .

The school day for many students at El Dorado, is a hectic, pressure filled experience. The whole day is spent trotting to and fro, from class to class. Then in each class the students are suddenly bombarded by a salvo of tests, and annoying "pop" quizzes, given by teachers who think the most important thing in the world is their class!

The torment does not end there, however, before students leave school they are plagued by a torrential influx of homework assignments that teachers hurl at students from every side. It is readily understandable why homework has always been a very unpopular after school activity to most students. The free time of practically everyone in school was taken up by this dreaded affliction known as "Homework."

"Mom, I am going to the library to study," is an over-used excuse, incorporated by many Seniors to get out of the house. Later the library became simply a much needed break from the drudgery of school and a time during which students could talk about the activities during the day. Most students used the library for the quiet atmosphere and accessible resources. This is what some Seniors had to say about homework-

Kevin Larson - "Totally unnecessary"

John Tobin - "Homework?, What homework?!!"

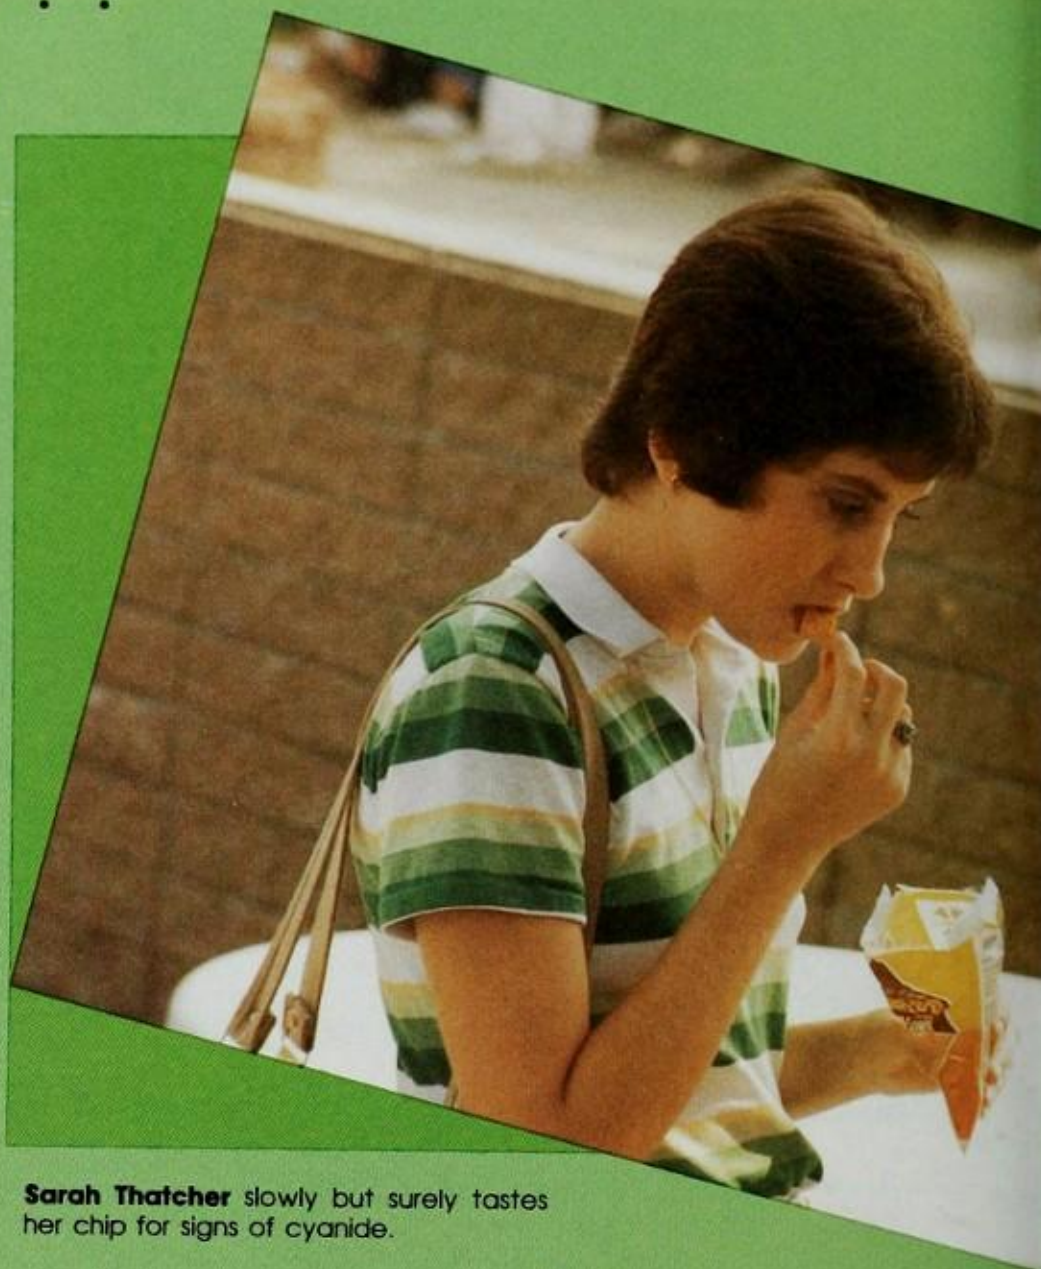

Thomas Trerise - "I am entirely oblivious to the social ramification of homework."

Jeffrey Raskin - "What a joke!"

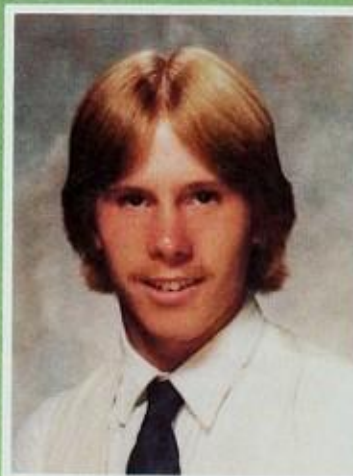

Paul Soto - "Some teachers think they are the only ones who assign homework, and don't have any consideration."

Jamie Arnold - "I like homework because it gives me something to do during commercials."

Rick Gundzik - "I enjoy doing homework so much I stay up all night doing it."

Stray Cats

Stray Cats, besides being one of her favorite musical groups, are one of Laurie McAvoy's interests. Whether it's a stray cat, a lost puppy or a harbor seal, Laurie loves them all. The friendly Senior maintained a 3.8 GPA throughout high school. She was a member of NHS as well as CSF. She served on her sophomore cabinet in the publicity position. A two year veteran of the yearbook staff; she acted as assistant editor her senior year. One of Laurie's many interests and talents is writing. She has had several poems and articles published. She plans to pursue this field, with a communications major at CSUF, hoping to make it her career.

After school hours separated the structured school day from busy evenings and had a certain personality all their own. Students who stayed at school for publications or club work appreciated the calm that descended after the chaos of full classes, bells, and announcements. Students who went to jobs appreciated the change from brain work to physical work.

The majority of students, however, went home after the final bell. The first order of business was usually eating. Some gave in to the weariness caused by a school day and crashed on the nearest couch. Probably the most productive use of these hours was getting a start on the next days homework while the house was quiet.

The Togetherness Of Seniors

Money was probably a key word this year. It was an economical fact that a student simply could not survive without the American dollar bill. During one year, a student could easily spend over a thousand dollars.

It was hard getting through a school day without handing over some money. Every Friday there was usually an athletic game and spirit ribbons to buy from the cheerleaders.

Not only did a student find himself putting forth the dollar bill at school, but he also spent money to buy clothes that were an absolute necessity. Records were big items as the trends of music changed and new groups appeared on the charts. Dances, dates, and movies were important social expenditures. If a student was lucky enough to have a car, he had to battle the power of the pump as gas prices continued to be high.

A common denominator among all student spending was food. And while cafeteria lunches weren't popular, they beat starvation. Most universally accepted were the fast food chains. A check at any one of them at almost any time would reveal at least one E.D.H.S. student willingly handing over his cash.

Seniors Pass On Their Pride

Freshman have never been able to relax around the other classes of E.D. That was until the student council decided to change things. Last year a student suggested a Big-Little Brother and Sister type of program. "This", said Julie Stow, "is a good way for freshman to meet more people. We are hoping it'll make things friendlier." The idea is to have Seniors help the Freshman around campus and to simply enable the Freshman students to meet more people-especially the Senior class because the Freshman rarely have classes with Seniors, and they don't always have the opportunity to meet them. Hopefully, this will start a new tradition within the El Dorado campus.

"Discipline seems the only way in which he'll ever learn", states Jeff Raskin of his little brother Greg Clark.

Memories Of El Dorado Life

"She's not listening to me", Patrick Devaney exclaims to his friends, as Susi Hibler, fed up with him, looks away.

Two true friends, Kimi Maeda and Cathy Llado.

Growing up at El Dorado left us with several memories. All the social events will never be forgotten. All those dances, the dances when nothing mattered but that super important date; all those football games when alot of us didn't know the score of the game, just the details of who's with who, and all other surrounding gossip. Those frantic food fights, "pegging" the guy across the way, when, hopefully, no one was looking. And the crazy assemblies, which we either let get out of control, or made the best of, with El Dorado's well-known spirit. Canning a freshman seemed to make anyones day, unless you happened to be the freshman. When thinking back to all the good times, it's hard not to remember all the loves and losses, and sometimes those good times weren't always so good. But, they seem to always leave you with a smile. Most of the El Dorado students made the best of their E.D. life, whether or not they were in school. Those special friendships will most likely be retained for years to come. Reminiscing over past parties, and the rest of the fun, will probably be the fabulous end to the fine year of 83. Education was perhaps the most important part of attending El Dorado . . . but E.D. fun made the time spent learning more enjoyable.

Seniors . . . Reaching Out

Seniors. Reaching farther, growing stronger, looking toward their goal in life. Remembering their past as if it were yesterday. Moving from the top back down to the bottom again. Searching for new goals: the goal of a freshman is to become a senior. The goal of a senior is to become successful in life.

Seniors are people who have worked hard for what they have and where they are, getting ready to work harder for what they want and where they want to go. Seniors are . . . Reaching out.

Senior Officers "Having As Much Fun As Physically Possible"

Senior Class President Kevin Kirwin tried to get the job done this year with "as much fun as physically possible." Kevin quotes, "I wanted more student authority. Year after year the teachers and administrators have had the last say in all decisions. I feel the students should have more say in the final out come of things." All in all Kevin had a fun year as Senior Class President.

The cabinet as a whole helped develop Senior Parking, which was a success, and special plans for Grad Night. They also sponsored the "Get Acquainted" dance after our first football game.

Can you believe that after all these years, Jasmine Murata is afraid of heights.

While performing with the drill team, Captain Tiffany Bose gets her feet stuck in the mud.

Becky Van Bibber and Christy Jimmerson experience hectic moments while preparing for the $1.98 beauty show.

"Give me the knife!" Alyssa exclaims, "He's not that bad of an advisor."

Dave Sims and Kia Conlon really know how to Year-book beyond Deadline!!

And Beyond!!

"Now if Jeff doesn't know about our plans," think the editors, "we can get that centerfold of Tom Selleck in the Senior Section. How can we sneak it by?" ponder the panoply of plotters.

The yearbook staff consisted of an interesting group of people which went together to form a family. We will always recall the Frantic Friday Deadlines, with everyone running around with their heads chopped off, but we will always make our deadlines. Everyone in the class always put forth an effort to help.

The "Picas", Bobsey Twins, Alyssa, Myron, Kiah, and Bubbles were just a few of the nicknames given to the members of our staff. We will always recollect Colin and his jolliest of caption which kept us going on deadlines.

This year we engaged in contest, a jump-a-thon, a Winter Formal, and a few fun-filled field trips, and some parties. However, we still put this yearbook first on the list. We will always remember the rumors about E.T., the Senior Index, on the Spring Supplement. The book couldn't have been put together without all of our talented class. From our award-winning photographer, to our award-winning artists, to our layout designers and copy writers, even though sometimes weren't pleasant, we still had fun. It is our hope that you enjoy reading this book as much as we enjoyed creating it especially for you.

Writers Do It With Flair

Experience is not always necessary to turn out good results, as the El Gavilan newspaper staff has proved. Charles Titus, advisor, said, "This year has been a rebuilding year. Fifty percent of our staff are unexperienced in that they have not taken Journalism."

Because the staff was not fully trained, most of the year was spent on teaching the staff the finer points of Journalism. Rick Mil-

"Fifty percent of our staff are unexperienced. . . But everyone has improved and we did better than I thought we would."

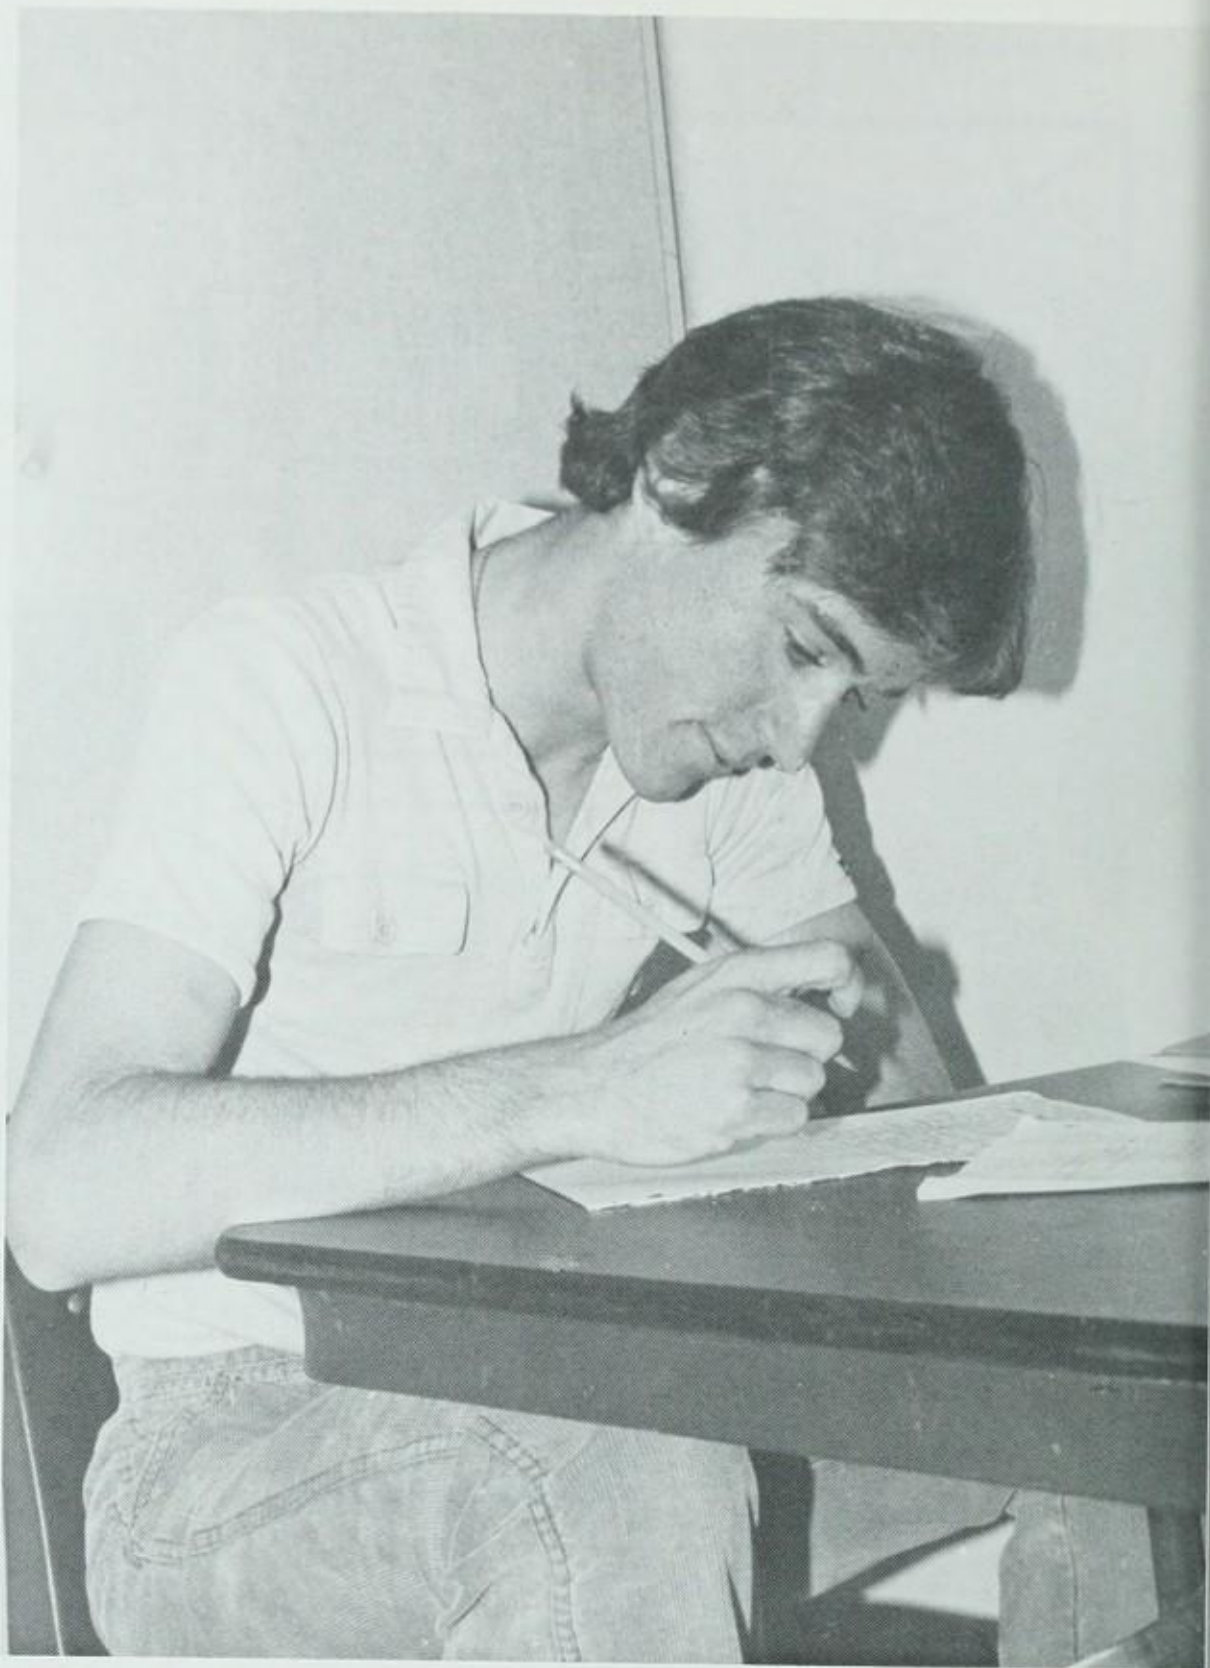

tenberger, Editor-in-Chief, commented, "We made more mistakes than in the past, due to our unexperienced staff. Everyone has improved and we did better than I thought we would."

Mr. Titus wanted to experiment with the newspaper. He tried new layout ideas and designs. He said, "Every year the layouts are basically the same, so I liked to see the staff break out of the mold."

Rick Miltenberger smirks as he decides to redo the copy.

"Hut Two, Three..."

Superb. This word sums up the results of this years marching band. Placed highly in every major competition in California. At the California Band Review, they won sweepstakes trophies for street, field, and direction marching. "We won sweepstakes at Mission Viejo Band Review, first place at the Chino Band Review, first place at the Orange High School Band Review and sixth out of eighty-five schools at the Long Beach all Western Band and Review." said Richard Watson, Band Director.

Watson said, "This years marching band was young but had come farther than any other band in the past." Watson announced, "This band is the best field and show band we have ever had. They have received the highest scores of all field bands."

For the fifth time, Watson tried to get the band into the Rose Parade. "I can't understand why they won't let us play in the parade. We are in the top ten of all bands in California, but it might have something to do with the name of our city. If they pronounce it wrong, they might get embarrassed." replied Watson.

El Dorado's Marching Band depends on our student leaders. Since there were one hundred fifty-eight students in the band, Watson looked to the veteran section leaders to drill pride, tradition, and showmanship to newcomers. He said, "This band has an outstanding bunch of leaders who have helped the program tremendously."

"The band needs to be more inventive on field pattern marching. With all of these accomplishments there is only one word to describe this year's marching band ... Superb!!"

Making The Sounds Happen

Concert Band was formed at the start of the second semester. The group is made up of those stepping out of Marching Band, which ended after the first semester. Consisting mainly of underclassmen, the band concentrates on performing contemporary band literature. The Concert Band played in the District Festival and also the Regional Festival, which requires a superior performance. Accompanying the band this year were some guest soloists who enhanced the concerts with their own musical talent. According to Rich Watson, the band's director, this year's band is "one of the finer concert bands in several years." He also added, "The trumpet section did extremely well this year, along with the percussionists and saxophonists." Next year he hopes to participate in a spring concert tour.

Superior Musicians

Beethoven, Bach You name it; they'll play it. THEY are the Wind Ensemble a very select group, chosen from only the best musicians at El Dorado. "It's a real honor to be involved in the organization," trumpet player, Eric Halverson stated.

Most of the musicians in the Ensemble have at least five years experience in music and practice ten hours a week. Just a few of the outstanding musicians in the group according to Mr. Watson, the band director, are; Ken Moll, Kelly Ward, Stewart Pringle, and Stephanie Wang.

Festival judges have rated the ensemble "Superior," a performance level Mr. Watson expects from the group.

According to Watson, the orchestra members are "dedicated, working towards perfecting their music." Watson said, "The music is a joy for me as a musician and teacher.

A March To The End...

Drill Team has been a part of El Dorado since a year after it opened. The school year of 1982-1983, proved to be their last year at El Dorado. It was hard for the girls of the team, as they faced several hardships. Their friendship helped them with each arising dilemma through the months they were together. Without the help and aid of an advisor, they found it difficult to come up with solutions that confront a team of any kind. They had to organize outfits, shows, parades, fund raisers, and any other situations that confronted them, which under normal circumstances were taken care of by an advisor.

Mrs. Zot, as her students called her, was the Drill Team advisor for 12 years. "We thank Zot for all the help in the past years," stated Captain Becky Gomez. In 1982, Mrs. Zot was transferred to Kraemar Jr. High for economic reasons. Mr. Jertberg, Principal, explained that it was "expensive to keep teachers on staff when their classes only obtained a few people." When Drill Team first started, forty girls were enrolled; year by year the amount has steadily decreased until the 1982-1983 had only 17 people in it.

Drill Team rarely competed. They allowed the band more opportunity to compete. But they did hold their Spring Show. They did go to camp and placed 3rd in the Chico Competition.

Co-Captain Tiffany Bose said, "Everyone did their part to make it work. I respect them a lot for that." It is obvious that their friendship held them together. They were dependent on each other. Captain Becky Gomez wanted to keep everyone close and have fun. She wanted everyone to be friends and to do more things with each other outside of school so that it was more than merely a class, but more of a family. Becky would have liked to have seen Drill Team get more recognition within the school. "I really feel bad there will be no Drill Team next year. I hope it will return to El Dorado someday."

A Song In Their Hearts

The most talented and trained voices belong to it- the El Dorado Vocal Ensemble. Every year the Vocal Ensemble consists of 16 members, both male and female. This isn't "just another class." Director John Tebay and the Vocal Ensemble work hard to achieve a few common goals - to sing with the best of their ability and have fun. The 1982-83 Vocal Ensemble was the first to go to the Chapman College Choir Festival (along with the Concert Choir.) This was not the only activity they participated in. In order to raise money for a possible tour that didn't take place, the students held car washes, performed singing telegrams for Valentines Day, and sold candybars.

UNSUNG HEROINES

Have you ever heard of Women's Chorus? A first year singing group for girls, Women's Chorus was full of hardworking voices with good potential. Although not very well known, the chorus was successful. They did not compete often because most first year groups mainly learn and prepare for future years in mixed groups, but the Women's Chorus sang with spirit and talent. Director John Tebay has led the Women's Chorus here for 2 years and stated "Women's Chorus improves every year."

"Mr. Tebay, is that b flat or sharp?" questions Sheri Llado.

"If that girl hits the wrong note again I'll kill her." plots Cynthia Lopez.

Matt Arietta, Christy Jimmerson and Jeff Whan practice until perfection.

"But Mr. Tebay, I don't know the tune to Death of an Oreo Cookie," mumbles Christy Jimmerson.

1982-83 Concert Choir worked and rehearsed hard to achieve the honors they earned, superior ratings and raves from all who heard them.

"But Scott I don't care what Mr. Pence says, dead cats can't sing," says Mr. Tebay.

Carving Out History

The 65 members of the Concert Choir have carved out their own piece of El Dorado's history. This year the choir received, its first-ever, invitation to perform at the prestigious Chapman College Festival. Pressing onward with the El Dorado tradition of excellence, the choir received rave reviews.

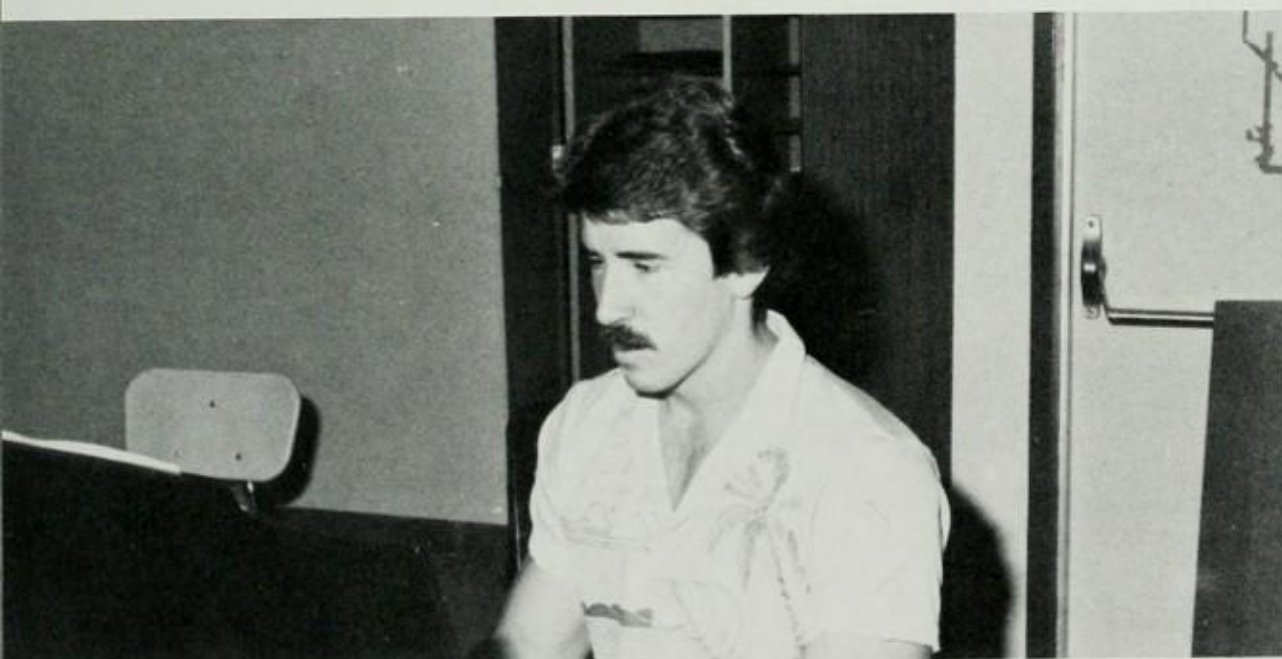

Choir is not only an organization in which a student's vocal talents are strengthened and perfected, but it is a place where friendships are made and strengthened. "Choir is a very big part of my life," singer Jennifer Bruns revealed. "I love it!" choir director John Tebay exclaimed.

Kimiko Maeda seems more interested in her new issue of Motor Trend Magazine than her song book.

Kara McDermott and Steve Hensley practice their ventriloquist singing for the class.

"Bethoven eat your heart out!" Ponders M. Tebay.

PUTTING THE MUSIC TO ACTION

"Hard workers, dedication and a little bit of ham" is what Melanie Alexander looked for in her dancers, and that type of dancer is what she found in every girl that made it for the team.

Mel, as her students in her dance classes call her, said, "this group of girls is closer than any of the other groups in previous dance classes. I guess they're close because of all the dances they've had to learn in a hurry. They learned a dance a week for five weeks in a row. They had to learn so much in so little time. They're also a smaller group than usual."

"I think we had a close relationship because we worked so hard together, striving for the same thing", quoted De De Shoemaker. "We had a blast. We did alot of things outside of dance together." said Karen Conger. "Most of the girls", Karen continued, "Wanted to be involved in the school and wanted to get into an activity that they could do well in. That's why they tried out".

The girls performed more shows than the norm for the dance teams at E.D.. They performed with the Jazz and Vocal Ensemble. They also held a parents night. They held a performance at half time at one of E.D.'s basketball games. "After you do a show you feel great", concluded Karen Conger, "because you've accomplished something".

Dedicated And Hard-Working Cheer

"We are dedicated, hard-working, and one united as one," said varsity cheer squadleader, Kristin Stitt. The group tried to give all of the sports recognition this year. According to Kristin, they have gone to more girl's sports. Kristin stated, "We have given spirit to all sports and tried for unity on the squad."

Fun And Spirit Goals Of Song

"My goal this year was to have a squad that could get along as well as possible, to promote spirit, and have fun in the process," stated Sara White, varsity song squadleader. Sara would like to have more organization on the squad and to have someone teach them their routines. "We make up our own cheers, but we would like to have someone teach us and give us authority," Sara said.

Creating Spirit

How would you like to have fun, perform in front of crowds, and promote school spirit. If this sounds good to you, you should try out for cheerleading. "My goal this year, was to have fun and to get involved. I think everybody should," stated Michelle Norcuff, Junior Varsity cheer squad leader.

It is true that cheerleaders perform, but Michelle and the rest of her J.V. squad said that at assemblies, it shouldn't be a performance. It should be an event where the whole school participates, creating a spirited atmosphere.

"The change in attitude should first come from the squad. Our attitude should be leaning towards more spirit," commented Michelle.

Many of the J.V. cheerleaders would like to become on the Varsity squad, next year. Michelle suggested, "If you want to create unity in the school and make students more spirited, try out for cheerleading."

United As One

The past year, as in previous ones, the frosh cheerleading squad was harrassed by upper classmen. Because freshmen are new to the campus, they are looked down upon and laughed at. "I only wish at the assemblies that everyone wouldn't boo us and that the students would be more spirited in other ways," stated squad leader Deldre Stanton. The squad consists of all freshmen. At summer camp, all of the freshmen cheerleaders got acquainted and became friendly. "Camp was fun and was the highlight of the year, we also won three ribbons," stated Deldre.

All of the cheerleaders got along, but Deldre's goal for the squad was to get them united as one.

According to the cheerleaders, being a pepster is a rewarding experience. Deldre commented, "Everyone who wants to be a cheerleader should, you get to meet people and become more outgoing."

All We Need Is Unity And Food

Unity is very important to Melinda Rischman squad leader of varsity flag. "All of us girls have grown closer to each other and we learn from each other," said Melinda. The group cheers at games, performs at half time, and they go out to dinner before the games. Melinda concluded, "This year has been a real challenge for our squad. At first we didn't know each other, but now we are close and meaningful friends."

Crazy But Special Friends

"I like to amuse people, and I have fun being in front of people," said Jenny Gill. "We don't have to be like other cheerleaders. We can be different." Heather Campbell added that she would like to see more school spirit, and see more people take part in activities. Both mascots love to be crazy and off the wall, and Heather concluded, "The best thing about being a mascot, was being able to work with new people and making special friends."

To Pep Up The Rest

To get more people involved in school the Pep Club changed their name to "The Rowdy Bunch".

President, Lori Hogan, held occasional meetings which were open to whoever wanted to attend. During the meetings, Rowdies discussed how to promote school spirit and also how to get more people to go to the games.

The Rowdies not only cheered with the cheerleaders, but they also cheered on their own, sat in their own section, sang their own songs, and painted signs at poster parties all in an effort to promote school spirit.

AFJROTC Rates Super

The Air Force Junior Reserve Officer Training Corps, was unlike any other class on campus during the 1982-83 school year. "The extra curricular activities are special. We have organizations within the organization," said Lt. Col. Sam Tussey.

During the year, the AFJROTC won a plaque and $500 dollars for winning a national essay contest on the history of aerospace. Tussey states with a smile, "We were very honored to win the essay contest. It was a group effort and was a highlight of this year."

According to Lt. Col. Tussey, the AFJROTC teaches responsibility, leadership, and knowledge of aeronautics. His students are also involved in community affairs. Throughout the year the AFJROTC helped in the Toys for Tots campaign, and also contributed to the canned food drive. AFJROTC members are learning more than aerospace. To the students of El Dorado:

I'm sure this school year had left something to be remembered by everyone. Activities, clubs, and special dances were always the favorite of students. Changes were made for the better of the school, such as the creation of Senior parking, even though some students were not in agreement. I've always felt there is more to school than sports and activities and that has been proved this year by the morale of the student body. 1983 has been different from past years in that the Hawks were not all winners. We took some downfalls in football and basketball, but we stood behind our teams as best we could. Our student body learned an important lesson in school pride because we were not used to losing. With the help of alot of creative members on council we were able to carry on a productive year. I'm proud to be graduating from E.D.H.S. and I hope a strong enough precedent has been left so that others will be equally as proud in future years.

Strive For Spirit And Unity

There was a group of students at El Dorado dedicated to improving the school. "We tried to organize activities for the school to better it and help students with problems," said Student Body President, Tami Brown.

The student council consisted of creative people who came from different groups of friends. Tami admitted that not everyone on the council got along because of the different people they hung around with, but together they worked to make the school year fun.

Among the usual dances and lunch time activities that the council worked so hard to give to the students, council members escorted students from Japan around El Dorado to visit and learn about the American school system. "The most memorable extra-curricular activity that we had was the Christmas pictures with Mr. Titus dressed up as Santa," Tami grinned.

As a working force, the council created special car parking privileges for the Seniors which, they hope, could be better enforced next year. They also changed the school's constitution adding to it and eliminating different things. "Under the changes, we have more representatives from all the different clubs," stated councilmember Jamie Arnold.

One thing that Tami would like to have changed is the attitude of the A.S.B. and council. She feels that everyone could be more spirited and that more people could have gotten involved, although many did. "I wish that when people complained about the activities we provided them, they could tell us what's wrong with them so it could be better," Tami contemplated.

In conclusion Miss Brown said, "The council worked well together. We had pretty good activities that got alot of people active and were very productive."

Drama Club Went Out Of Their Way . . .

For the past four years of my life, I have been extremely involved in the El Dorado Theatre Department. I have made many lasting friendships that I will never forget. The memories that all of us involved with Drama have are very special. The opening nights, the weekend festivals, the applause and the winning. Of course there were the not so good times. For instance, 102° temperature on opening night, rehearsals until 12:30 a.m. on a school night, and not finding your name on the cast list. Even with all the bad, it could never outweigh the good experiences that we all shared. If we never go any further into the theatre at least we have had the unselfish love of a cast, or of a director, or of a best friend.

To Bring You A Great 1982-83 Season

What would it be like if there were no plays? No entertainment, no fun, and no excitement. All of the plays and dramatic productions were all possible because of Drama Club. To join the club, a 75 cent membership fee was required. In return, the members recieved a discount on tickets to the plays. "This due, along with other fund raisers such as Halloween Make-up and Singing Valentines helped with the extensive costs of putting on a show," stated Drama Club member Kata Conlon.

According to Kata, "Dark of the Moon" and "Grease" were part of the efforts that Drama Club put forth. If you think that all Drama Club did was raise money, you are wrong. Some members participated in the D.T.A. Festival in which "Actors Nightmare" placed third in the "Humorous" division. Others went to the Occidental College Theater Festival in Pasadena in Janurary. Another member Lonnie Haralson concluded "No matter what Drama Club members were doing, they participated and had fun."

Drama Club members Kata Conlon and Teresa Christian are waiting for Jeff Raskin, who obviously isn't an actor, to say his cue.

Dark Of The Moon

The Ballad Of Barbara Allen

A witch-boy from the mountain came,
A-pining to be human,
Fer he had seen the fairest gal ...
A gal named Barbara Allen.

O Conjur Man, O Conjur Man,
Please do this thing I'm wantin'
Please change me to a human man,
Fer Barbara I'd be courtin'.

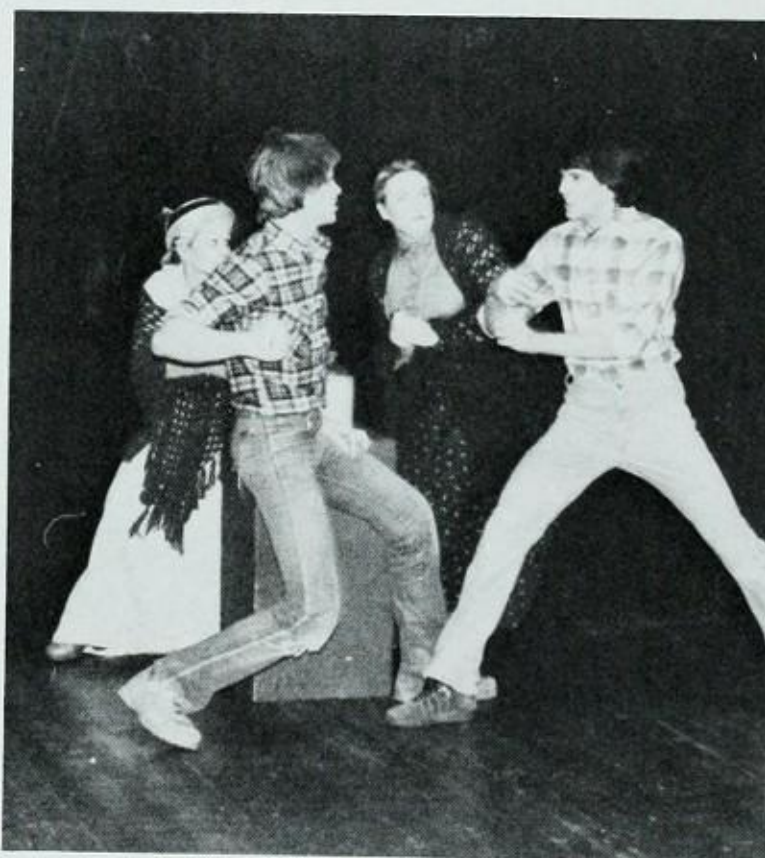

Now, Barbara had a red, red dress
And one she had of blue,
And many men did Barbara love,
But never was she true.

Oh, you can be a man, a man,
If Barbara will not grieve you,
If she be faithful fer a year,
Yer eagle, he will leave you.

O Barbara will you marry me,
And will you leave me never,
Oh, yes, my love, I'll marry you,
And live with you ferever.

We Go Together, Forever!

"It was one of the best musicals that we have ever put on," was the response of Grease director Gai Jones. The musical about the fifties was a big success. The Valencia Auditorium was sold out on the second night of production, Saturday, February 5th. The profits helped with the great expenses of the show. "The audiences were fantastic. They were great," stated Senior Kata Conlon. Kelly Trivers, who played Frenchie said, "It took a lot of hard work and time but I enjoyed every minute of it. It was well worth it." Audience member Jasmine Murata replied, "It was very well organized and entertaining. It was great seeing a variety of people in the cast." Danny Zukko was portrayed by Billy Cohen; Sandy Dumbrowsky was played by Cherie Rolapp; Rizzo Kenikie, Jan, Roger, Frenchie, Doody, Marty, and Sonny were all played by Kimiko Maeda, Tom Trerise, Jenee Gill, Tom Hummer, Kelly Trivers, Matt Arietta, Chris North and Lonnie Haralson respectively.

Sonny, Lonnie Haralson, asks Danny, Billy Cohen, why he is wearing his underwear while Frenchie, Kelly Trivers, decides whether or not to take the job at the burger palace.

"Hey, Fongool!!!" exclaims Rizzo, Kimiko Maeda, while playing that "Sandra Dee bit."

The casts reaction after singing "We Go Together."

Sandy, Cherie Rolapp, can't believe the off-color joke Jan, Jenny Gill, just told.

"Mr. Latierra!! Aren't you supposed to be in class right now??" scolds Miss Lynch, Jill Westphall.

Danny and Cha-Cha, Dee Dee Shomaker, execute the stunt which wins them the dance contest while Becky Van Bibber and Tom Hummer watch in awe.

After a radical change in appearance, Sandy puts Danny in his place, but "Rump" Roger is quite content with the way things are going.

Aspiring Artists

Independence, and the chance to earn 10 college credits are the two factors that set Honors Art apart from any other class at E.D. The Honors Art class is part of the advanced placement program in Studio Art. It is a national program that allows students to earn college credits for work done in high school. The AP program also offers courses in English, Mathematics, Science and the Musical Arts. At the end of the course the AP students are required to take an examination to record their progress in the AP course. The exam is also used to determine whether or not a student's work warrants the giving of 10 college credits possible for him to earn.

Because of the nature of the work done in studio art, however, there can be no formal examinations. In place of an exam the students must submit a portfolio of their work for examination by a national committee of artists and teachers. The portfolio is mailed to judges in Princeton N.J. who evaluate and grade the portfolio on a college based level. If the portfolio receives the score of 3-5 (5 being the highest possible) the student can receive college credits before entering college.

The Honors Art class is advised by Mr. Wright and Mrs. Hutcheson. The class is intended for highly motivated students seriously interested in art. The students (generally Seniors with 3 yrs. of art experience) must be recommended by the Advisors. The five students this year are Jasmine Murata, Ron Cozart, Renee Weir, Mike Van Bibber and Kristie Sweeney.

"... And I'm gonna have chickens in the hen house and cows in the barnyard, and ..." says Renee Weir.

"How do they expect me to finish this?" says Jasmine Murata.

"Holding my pencil like this I bet they think I drew this picture," exclaims Kristie Sweeney.

Look Out World Here We Come

Graduating from high school is a goal for most every student. Graduation means something. It means growing up, it means gaining responsibility, it means new experiences. Graduation is something one has looked forward to since the first day in kindergarten. The Yearbook Staff would like to take this time and congratulate all graduating students. You have worked hard. This is the time for new adventures. Good luck!

SPORTS

Having left the Orange League in 1981, E.D. will compete in the Empire League for the second year in a row. Despite the jeers and criticism hurled at our teams, El Dorado did remarkably well in 1981-82 season. Yet, even after totally disproving the oppositions criticism last year, E.D. is still judged to be out of its league. Consequently, El Dorado must again dispel the over presumptuous criticism this year.

In the following 1982-83 season it is believed that some of our teams (unfortunately) will be in a transition period, caused by the exodus of graduating Senior players. So the underclassmen will be asked to fill the shoes vacated by the graduating Seniors. But El Dorado's teams will still uphold the winning tradition.

The Football team, coached by Mel Morales, was young and inexperienced. The 1982 season, therefore, will be a growing period for the team. Starters like Shawn Ray, Jeff Jones, and Steve Rotuna should be invaluable to the team.

Don Chadez's Cross-Country team will be looking forward to another league title. Ric Allen, Scott Hakeman and Mike Wood should help Chadez keep his winning percentage.

In Wrestling, Frank Gonzales and Jeff Roberts are hoping for another league championship. Returning CIF champs Ty Pembleton and Mark Alex should again do well. It is hoped that the team will win league again this year.

Coach Tom Mylich and the Water Polo team will try to regain the first place title lost last year. Tony Bell, John Hodges, and Chris Ames will help turn Mylich's first year into a winning season.

In Basketball, Iran Novick will be looking to improve on last years record. Two upcoming Sophomores Jim Mansfield and Bart Hakeman will be expected to greatly improve the team along with the help of Senior Rusty Flora.

And in Soccer, Richard Garcia is hoping for another good year. Top returners like Todd Waterman, Ross Columbe and Richard Sandavol will support the team through the season.

Baseball coach Steve Gullotti is hoping to match last years fantastic record. Anthony Marino, Ron Cozort, and John Stofer are expected to do well this year.

In Tennis, Larry Lindsey and Rajen Ramsamooj should soar to the top of the C.I.F. rankings again this year. While Jeff Roberts' Golf team with starters like John Mansfield and Brian Holman should swing their clubs to the top.

Prospects for a good season are also as high in girls sports. In Basketball, Nash Rivera is looking for another great season. Top players expected to do well are Meline Palmer and Margaret Ziegler.

Robin Sutterland and the Volleyball team will be looking to improve on last year's record. Meline Palmer and Annette David will be expected to do especially well.

The girls Track team, ably coached by Charles Titus, is hoping for yet another good year in the new league. Tami Beauchamp and Sharon Leonhardt should contribute a great deal during the year.

And in swimming, second year coach Susan Clark is hoping to put E.D. on top again. Holly Wunsch and Sandra Oberle will be trying to repeat last years record and take first in league once again.

As is plainly evident, El Dorado has always been regarded as a stalwart athletic power no matter what league it happens to be in. Our teams are noted for their pride, winning spirit and dominance overall. This reputation is not limited to just boys sports, but also girls sports. It is believed that this years teams will carry on the winning tradition.

Winning Isn't Everything

"Winners, Hitters, Hawks" is a familiar phrase for El Dorado football players and has been an avid tradition in E.D. football history. But one not so familiar incident occurred this year: the team had a losing season.

Many questions pop into one's head when contemplating the '82 season. Was it coaching? Was it lack of talent? Or was it just lost desire? The Hawk's Empire League record, 1-6, left many students shocked. As the last seconds of the last game clicked off the clock, many spectators seemed to gaze in awe wondering how it all happened.

"It wasn't as bad as it looked," pointed out Senior center Randy Dreyer, referring to all the controversy and rumors that had gone around the Hawk team this year.

"Ya," agreed Senior split end Steve Desko. "In spite of Chuck Ray's getting kicked off the team, in spite of all jokes and rumors about an 8.99 club, and in spite of our own students writing obscenities on the sidewalk, I think we are lucky we made it to the end," added Desko.

Most winning teams end up with a losing season at one time or another. But this year's record does not tell the story: They HAD a winning team. As a matter of fact it showed many winners. Not many men could have overcome the controversies this year's team did and make it to the end!

Unity And Pride

Mighty Shawn Ray outruns defenders for a TD.

Third year coach Mel Morales was working with a team that graduated 14 All-League players the previous year. This year was expected to be one of rebuilding. Many of the key positions were filled by the underclassmen that dominated the Hawk Squad. Seven out of the eleven starting offensive players were Juniors and Sophomores as well as on the defense. This was a young team.

The Seniors were not left out of the picture though. One truly outstanding Senior player was Pat Devaney. This All-County linebacker was sought after by several colleges such as San Diego State and Cal State Northridge.

There was something different shared by this years Varsity Football team. Unity and pride. This team could have fallen apart but they stuck it out and saw the season through.

In order to keep "Winners, Hitters, Hawks" a familiar phrase here at El Dorado we need more players, as well as supportive fans, with the same togetherness, unity and pride.

We're On Our Way!!

Winning Empire League, 8-1, the freshman football team undefeated. The effort put forth in strenuous practices and mind challenging games proved to work out well for the first year team. "The last freshman team to go undefeated were the freshman of 78-79," quotes Coach Leavitt. The goal of the team is to win 4 league champs. They're heading in the right direction, they've got their first. All of them worked hard as a team. "They must continue to work hard, they'll get alot better." said Mr. Leavitt. According to the coach, the football team has never finished less than second in the past seven years, and many on the team will be fine ball players. He said, "They have worked hard and have worked to improve each week." The winner was Jeff Petredes. The best hitter was Scott Schultz. The best Hawk and Doug Sipple. "Coach Gooney worked hard with defense while Coach Lumpy worked hard with the running backs. Komakazi's were good guys and worked hard and achieved self-pride.", commented Leavitt. Helping Steve Leavitt, were coaches Steve Gullotti, Frank Gonzales, and Dane Ilertson.

Consistency, Key To Team's Success

In pre-season they were undefeated. In regular season they hoped for an undefeated record. Their coach was of the opposite sex from the rest of the team. If you haven't guessed who this team is, it is Boy's Varsity Tennis.

According to the varsity team's leader, Senior Larry Lindsey "We want to win league and hopefully lose only a few matches." Larry felt that his team had an excellent chance of winning C.I.F.

What about their coach, a lady? "It was a new experience for all of us," Larry stated as he blinked his eyes frantically. He continued, "Margaret Rasmussen is just as good as any male coach. She gets as much respect as coach Larry Hoekman got last year."

"They all have had individual goals they set for themselves and accomplished," Coach Rasmussen said. She also stated that they were a good group and always wanting to work hard and not complaining. Larry summarized, "We played consistently well and we always played to the best of our ability."

Good, But Getting Better

This year's varsity team had a lot to be proud of. The team, headed by Tracey Brennan, finished the season with a 6-6 record in league and an 8-7 seasonal record. They finished fourth place in league then attended the C.I.F. Individuals Tournament where Terri Glennan, Kristine "Tiny" Glomboski, and Debbie Renaud made it to the quarter finals. Marianne Dinicola and Colleen Hassel also finished third in doubles. This year's team did exceptionally well considering there were no seniors playing. Awards were given to "Tiny" Glomboski for most valuable player, Marianne Dinicola and Colleen Hassel were awarded most valuable doubles team, and Kim Loyd was awarded most improved player.

Young Players Playing With Heart

The Boys J.V. tennis team did surprisingly well during this season. At the beginning of the season it was predicted that the number one doubles and singles teams would go undefeated.

According to tennis player, Bill Smoyer, "The J.V. is young and they show good effort, the strong singles and doubles players proved to be the best quality of the team. The team was made up of mostly underclassmen who will make next years team unbeatable," according to Bill.

"They were a good group always wanting to work hard. There were many good players giving it there all," said varsity coach Margaret Rasmussen.

A Good Season Means Good Times

This years J.V. tennis team had a great season. The team finished 8-7 on the season and 6-6 in league which gave them a fourth place. To end the season awards were given to Rhonda McKusick for most valuable player, Debbie Katkus and Chris Rodriguez were awarded most valuable doubles team, and most inspirational player was awarded to Paula Stephens.

Serve . . . Set . . . Spike

The girls Varsity Volleyball Team had an excellent season. Not only did they physically abuse their opponents by spiking them to defeat, but they mentally abused them through teamwork. According to coach Sutherland who previously coached college volleyball, "This didn't come easy." Sutherland was coaching her second year at El Dorado, and when asked about her team, she replied, "Sometimes I was too tough on them (the team), but a good team needs to work hard and discipline themselves in order to achieve their goals."

With a record of 23 wins and two losses, the team seems to have done it all. They served, set, and spiked themselves to a great season!

Frosh/Soph Shows Their Style

The Frosh/Soph team did very well this season. Competing in a tough league, the team had an overall record of 12-2 and placed second in league. The team was coached by Cyndi Watson and was lead by the most valuable players Libby Kingseed and Kisha Sanneman. The team worked hard to have a good season. Long, exhausting, and strenuous practices put them where they are. Placing second, the girls are hoping to place first next season.

Aggressiveness Was The Key

The Junior Varsity team had a strong, well balanced season this year. With many underclassmen such as Sophomores Colleen O'Higgins and most valuable player Holly Piper strengthened the team, coached by Paul Meckna. "This years team was the most aggressive and hard hitting team that I every coached." commented Meckna. The team compiled a season record of 11-4 and served up a league standing of second place. With a talented team like this, they pose to be a promising team in the near future.

Poise And Pride Help E.D. Make It

Though the varsity basketball team did not have a good season, they tried their best and had fun. Some top players, according to coach Novick, were Rusty Flora, who lead the team in scoring and rebounding. Also leading the team in scoring were Dave Carmo and Bart Hakeman. "We did win two tournaments this year, said Senior Brian Dahmen. "And the thrilling part was that no other team at El Dorado has ever done that before," added Dahmen. Many students and fans were disappointed this season when going to the games, but Senior Randy Dreyer summed it up, "Even though they were losing they kept their poise and stuck it out to the end in the usual El Dorado tradition."

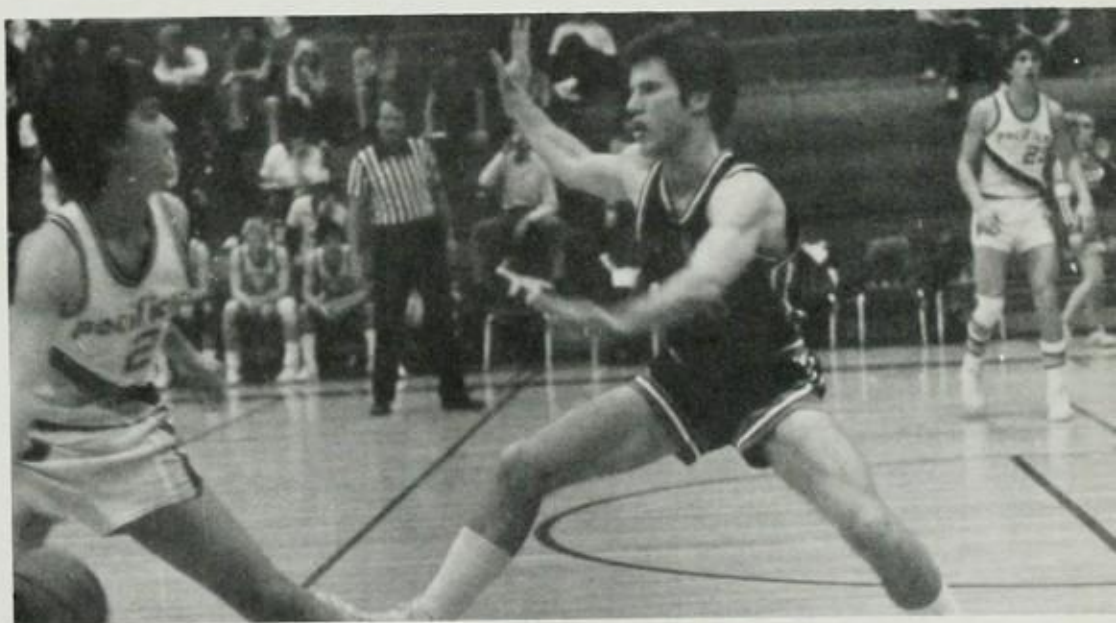

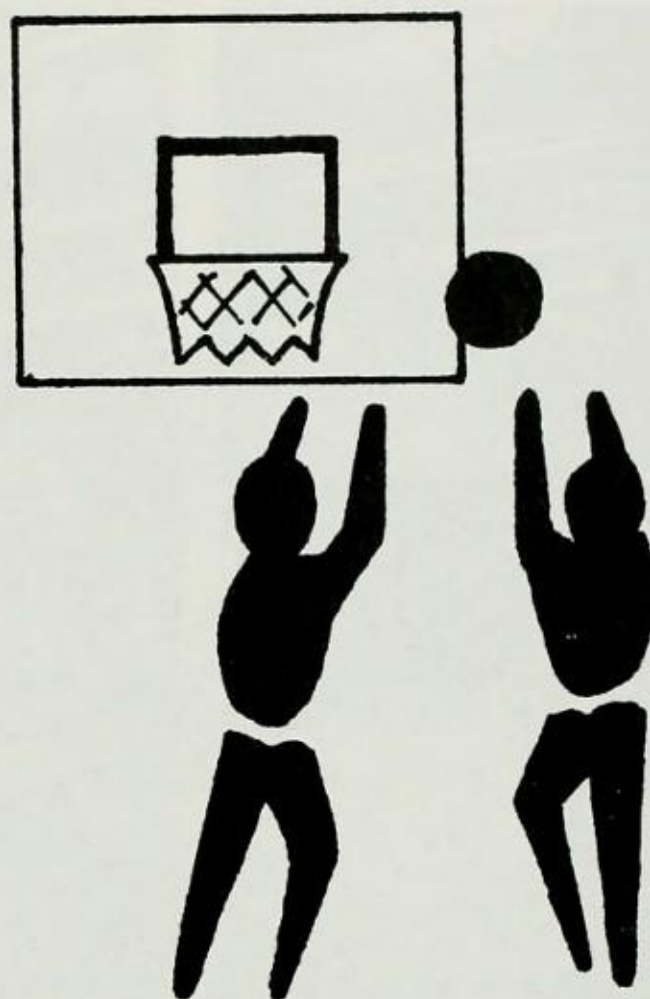

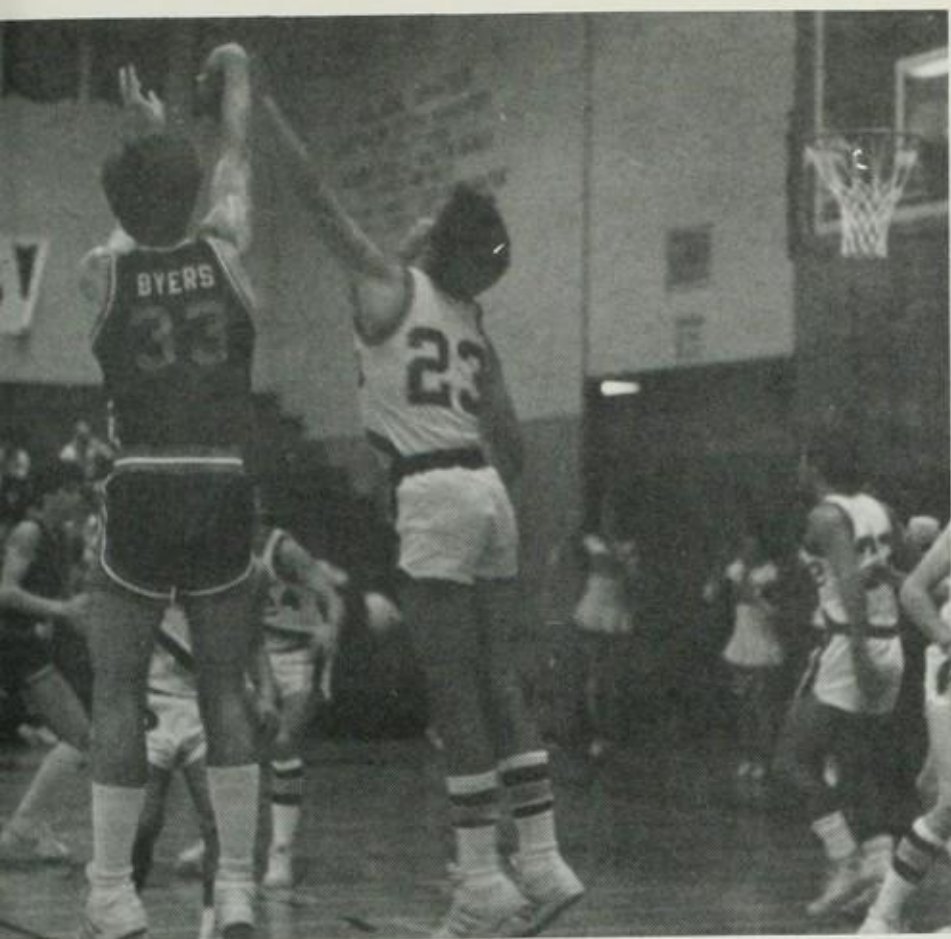

Craig Wilson tries to show everybody the art of shooting.

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

November 12, 1982

To the Members of the El Dorado
High School Basketball Team:

It has come to my attention that the El Dorado High School basketball team did an excellent job of representing our country on a tour of England back in August.

You are to be congratulated not only for your victories but also for your hard work and dedication. I know your families are happy to have you home again where you can continue to strive toward new goals and triumphs.

With my best wishes for a pleasant and rewarding school year,

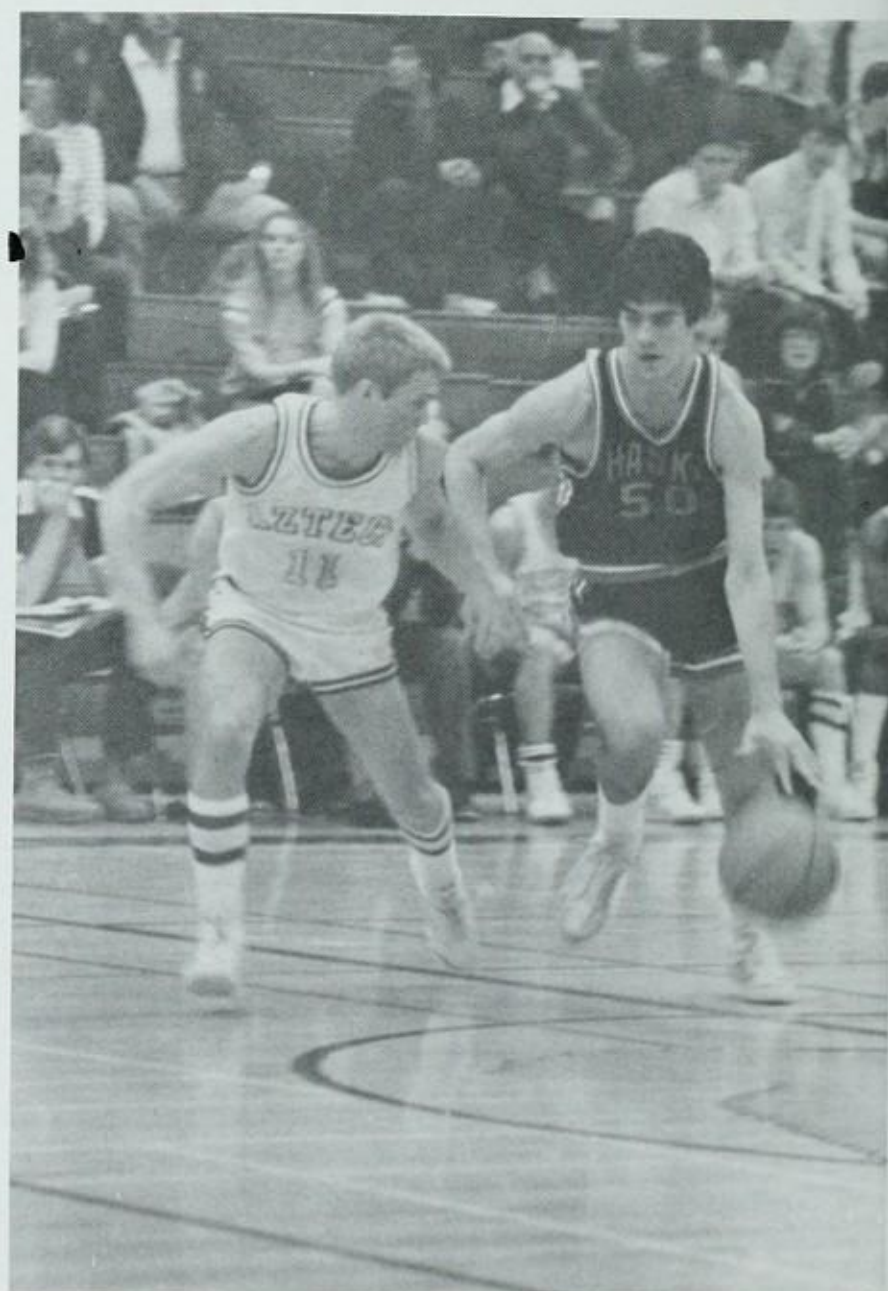

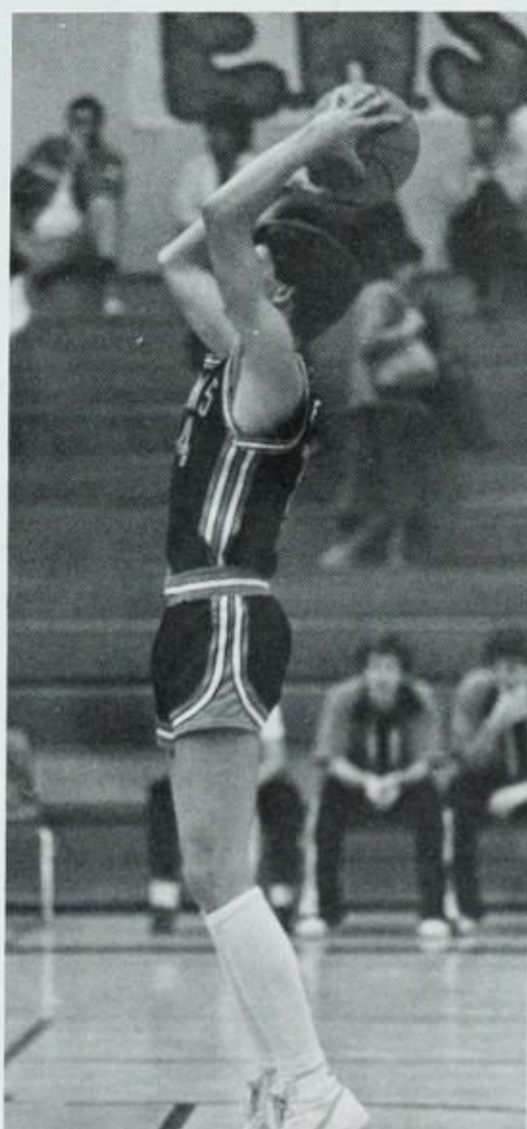

Sincerely,

Ronald Reagan

Balance: Key To Team Success

Even though our team had trouble this season Coach Novick said he is still proud of his boys. "Even though our team did not do well in league they did win two tournaments in December." Coach Novick also added that the 1982-83 team was remarkably balanced with all ten players contributing to its success.

Craig Wilson proves he is the superior jumper.

Rusty Flora enjoys doing one-handed pullups on the basketball backboard.

"Team work and dedication kept the J.V. basketball team from losing," said guard Rob Ramos. With a record of 12-2 in league and 20-3 overall the J.V. team won their league. Jim Sammons, Freshman, was the leading scorer, as Rob Ramos got the most assists. "Captains Gary Raya and Brian Mulvihill held the team together and created unity among us," Rob commented. Clete Walker and Eric Olsen lead the team in rebounds.

Sophomores Sweep Through Season

Freshmen With A Future

Though they didn't win league this year, the sophomore Basketball team had good time and a good year. Under the leadership of Coach Connely, the Sophomores played a 6-8 league record and a 12-11 record overall. A funny thing about this squad, though, was that the star player was a freshman. "Rich was probably the best all around player on the team," stated Kenny Donovan of Rich Howerth. Though there was no championship this year, there was plenty of good spirit throughout.

I've enjoy meeting you. Later,

Taking It To The Hoop

How does he do it? Coach Nash Rivera directed another basketball team to CIF. Leading the way to the Empire League title were returning Varsity players Melanie Palmer, Sharon Leonhardt, Margaret Ziegler, and Michelle Harbord. New face, Jill Matyuch and assistant coach Maureen Flynn, played an important role in the success. The team was small, only eight players, but their numbers didn't mean much when they annihilated opponents such as Esperanza 65-58 and Katella 63-33. Returning letter winner Shelly Shannon summed up the year: "We've improved together as a team." Their record 13-1 in league and 17-7 overall reflects the improvement.

What It Takes

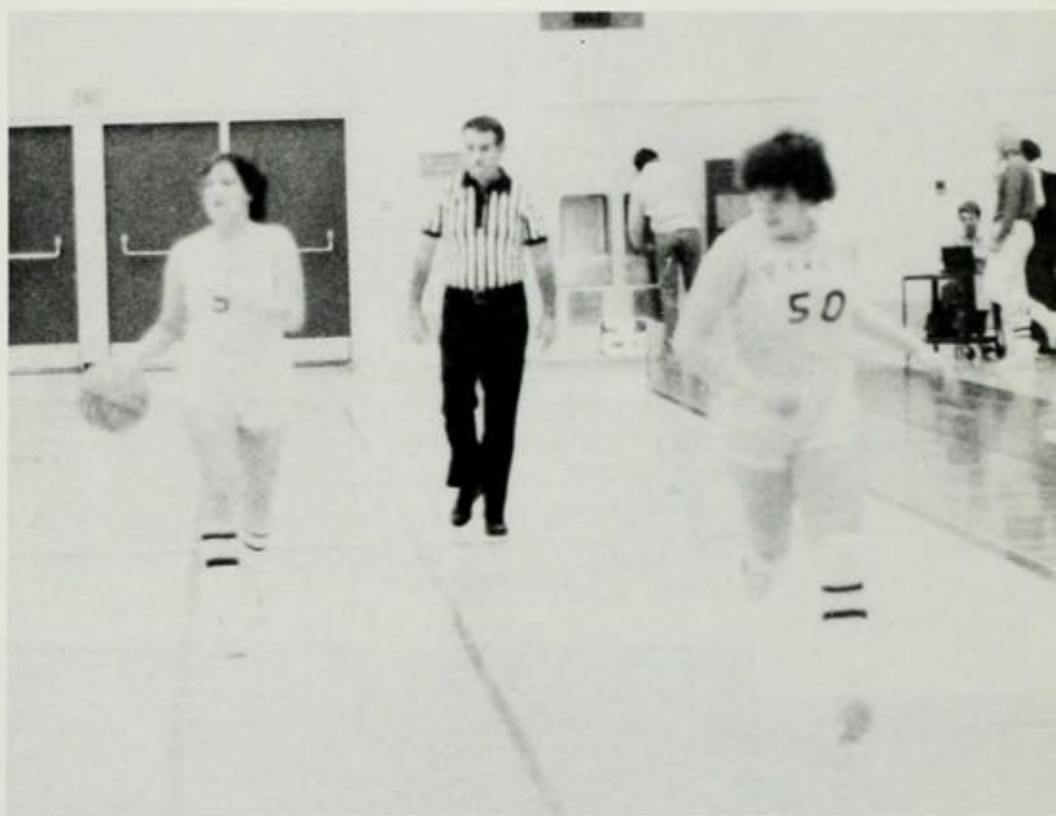

Is there a new dynasty on the horizon? The J.V. girls basketball team may not be a dynasty but they sure have what it takes to be called a great team: 1) Experience, Michelle Bradach, Julie Bjork, and Liesel Smoyer all had varsity experience; 2) sensational newcomers, Freshman Cathy Newvine and transfer Patty Pike "are very enthusiastic and team oriented and this shows in their play," stated Coach Rasmussen. Something sure showed in their play as they demolished such worthy opponents as long-time rivals Esperanza 70-26.

Pembleton . . .

The Varsity Wrestling team placed in every tournament. The teams goal was to become CIF Champions, once again. They felt that they were doing a good job, but could always improve.

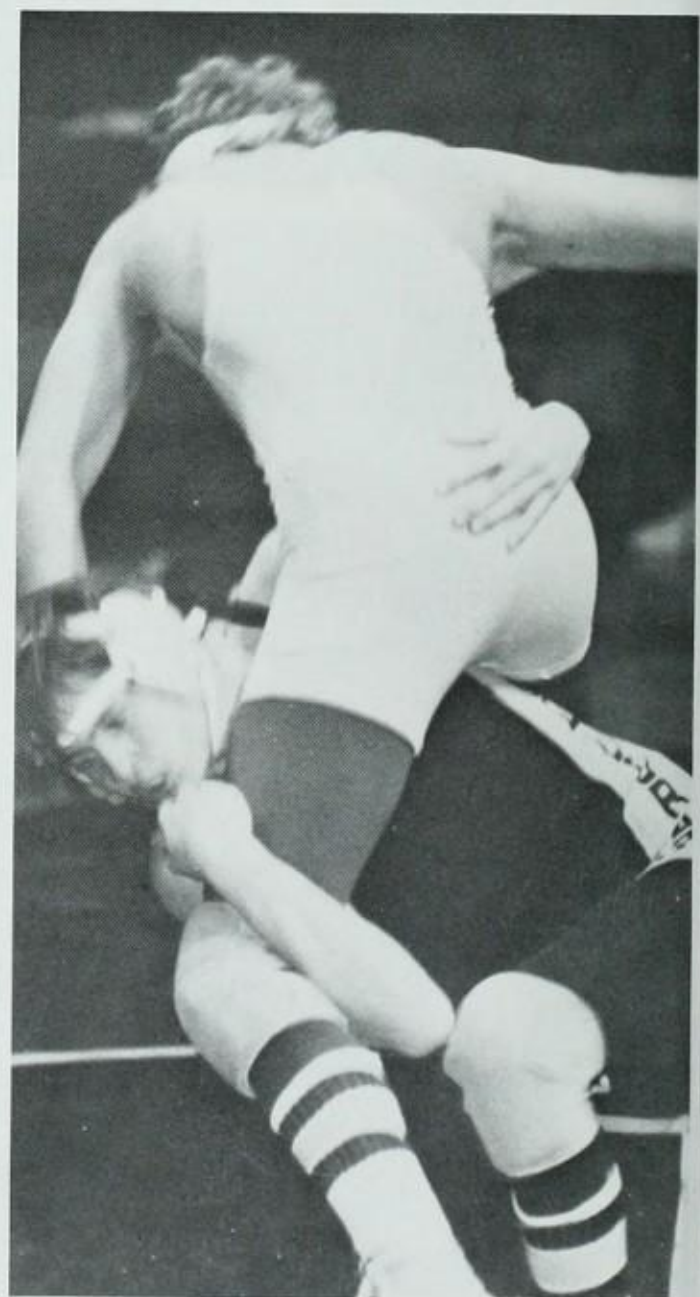

When asked what he'd like to see changed in the wrestling team and program Mark Alex stated "I'd like to see more young players place in CIF and more people come to our matches". As a team they've gone beyond their expectations, working as a whole, supporting each other.

He wrestled in the 135 pound weight division. He only lost 1 match this year and placed 2nd three times in league. If he receives a scholarship, he plans to continue wrestling. He has been to wrestling camp every year and plans to be State Champion. When asked what it takes to be a wrestler, Mark answered, "Dedication, a desire to win, intestinal fortitude and a love for the sport."

Talented, But A Ways From Perfection

"We do have talent. It isn't that our players are bad, it's that we can't get organized," shared Mrs. Lopiccio. The Girls Varsity Soccer team really did have talent, but with a 3-5 league record, it just didn't show. With a 5-5 overall record, the team entered into the last hoping to push it over the 50% mark.

Working with a new coach is always difficult and getting to know and understand Coach Lopiccio was not any different. The coach was known from J.U.S.A. (Junior United Soccer Association) and came here as a walk-on.

Because of the youth of the squad, there is plenty of room for growth. The only starting Senior this year was Lynn Bailey who injured her knee three games into the season. Besides one other Senior the remainder of the team is made up of Sophomores and Juniors.

Soccer Underclassmen Show Talent, Style

Under new coach and alumnus Tom Bezick, the J.V. soccer team completed a winning season of 8-3-3. Said Coach Bezick, "I was very satisfied with the year. I felt that we played up to potential."

Todd Holt, defensive specialist, and Eugene Tjoa, leading scorer, directed the team's direction this year. As their record reflects, the squad was unified and very competitive. "Our Varsity team should be very good next year. We will have a lot of growing to do, though," stated Varsity Coach Garcia. Next year can wait. This year was good in itself.

With the Sophomores playing J.V. soccer, the Frosh.-Soph. team was without Soph. The Freshmen played a successful year of soccer even without them. Under new coach and alumnus, Gary Imai, they are looking forward to a fine session of J.V. soccer next year, too. "Most of the guys have above average talent," related Coach Garcia. This talent will continue the winning tradition of El Dorado soccer.

The J.V.'s provided another year of winning tradition. Consisting of a strong defense and a young but inexperienced offense, they sailed to an 8-2 league season and a 10-2 record overall. Their only losses this year came against rival Pacifica. "We played really hard and we were very team oriented," claimed Alyssa Allen. With such a talented group of players, most of whom were under-classmen, the girls are looking forward to a great Varsity year. Looking back though, it was quite a successful and satisfying year.

Once again, El Dorado proved to be a dominating force in 4A C.I.F. water polo. Though 17-9 overall, they played to a 7-0 Empire League championship record. Their first league game was probably for the championship, reflected Ron Jones. Though they were unranked for most of the year, they forced all of their opponents to play at their very best, including such long time powers as Long Beach Wilson and Newport Harbor.

Because of the suspension of coach Gary Robinett last season, assistant principal, Rick Davis, took the helm to open the season. The day before the Esperanza game, he was relieved by the Junior National Coach, Tom Milich. "Even though we only had two Seniors starting, we played really well," stated Dirk Pinkerton. Said Tony Bell, "We matured a lot and became more team oriented as the year went by. We all gained a lot of experience throughout the season, too!"

Empire League officials felt the squad had much talent to offer, naming Dirk Pinkerton, Ron Jones, and Tony Bell to first team All-League, Sophomore Chris Ames to the second team with Todd Wallace and Scott Mori receiving Honorable Mention. Tony Bell was also named as the Empire League Most Valuable Player.

Next year, the varsity will have five returning starters. Craig Tillman, the only Freshman to make the squad, is one of them. "I'm really happy I made varsity, but Tony helped me so I could stay," shared Craig. With spirit like that, no wonder they're winners.

Flexing his muscles, Ron Jones floats the ball into the goal.

Craig Tillman wonders what to do with the funny little round thing.

... Yes We Did

This year when a person thought of El Dorado water polo, one almost immediately thought of one person. Tony Bell. He could do almost anything involved with prep water polo that he was asked.

Tony has played water polo and swum for years. When he came to El Dorado he passed immediately to varsity as a starter. He has had this role for all three years of high school and has been quite successful at it too.

This year has been his best so far. He was the team's leading scorer with over 90 goals and was the most inspirational person, receiving most valuable player of the team. Empire League officials seemed to feel the same way. They named him the most valuable player of Empire League as well a first string member of the All-League team. The Placentia News

I'm thankful for the cooperation of the team.

Times, ABC T.V. and Dr. Pepper were also impressed with Tony. The Newstimes named him player of the week along with ABC which also put him on television. Dr. Pepper named him Water Polo Player of the Year. To round things off, Tony was chosen to the first team all CIF and possibly could tour Europe this summer with the Junior National team.

"I'm really thankful for the cooperation of the team.", stated Tony. "I wouldn't have done nearly as well without the team's help."

Tony hopes to go either to the University of California Irvine or Stanford when he graduates in 84. One problem with that is he is only a Junior. Who knows how well he'll do next year.

Do you call a frosh-soph water polo team that went 7-0 in league play and won an Empire League championship just like varsity, a copy cat, or yell at the members for not being original? Of course, not!

Success of El Dorado's varsity water polo has come about because of the talent and success based in the frosh-soph squad. The frosh-soph team this year was no exception.

15-4 overall, these Freshman and Sophomores had a great year. "Our toughest game in league was against Los Alamitos," stated David Cote. It was Cote, John Kwillman, and Rick Hawkins that lead the team most of the year. Kwillman was the leading scorer and most valuable player. Hawkins was honored as most improved.

For three years in a row now, the frosh-soph squad has gone undefeated and had sole possession of the championship. They also won the Sonora Frosh-Soph Tournament.

"One of the best things in the season, at least for the Sophomores, was moving up to varsity for the C.I.F. playoffs," Rick Hawkins revealed.

When a water polo program is as successful as it is here, the future water polo players can count on the tremendous winning tradition that has been laid open by the teams of today.

Swimming + Lifting = Victory

With new coach Tom Milich at the wheel the Golden Hawks Varsity Boys swim team competed swimmingly. John Mykkeanan, ranked 8th in the world in the 800 meter freestyle, is an Olympic hopeful. Scott Mori, John Mykkeanan, along with Katsumi Yoshida, Rich Hawkins, Tony Bell and Dirk Pinkerton led the team. Quality Not Quantity

It is "quality not quantity." That saying certainly does apply to the Girls Varsity Swim Team. The team consisted of about 13 with no Junior Varsity team. Even though the team was small, it was strong. Desire McKay, Holly Woodruff, Debbie Vauhgn, Sandra Oberle, and Mary Portik led the team. Built For Speed Fast. Faster. Fastest. These words had a great deal of meaning to the members of the Frosh/Soph swimming team. According to swimming coach Gary Robinett, the main objective of the team was for each individual to improve his best time.

The team was led by the sheer speed of Dan Jenkins, Mike Fairchild, Greg Clark, David Cote, John Evans and Darin Dresser.

"The Frosh/Soph swimming team was strong in every event," commented Coach Robinett, who has been coaching swimming for 11 years. This all-around strength was needed for the team to achieve its second priority; winning league.

Winning Tradition Lives On

The year's varsity cross-country team was an outstanding one, as they won their fourth consecutive League championship. The team earned first place in league and took fifth place in C.I.F. 4A. Senior Scott Hakeman was second in league and tenth in C.I.F. Fellow Senior Ric Allen placed in C.I.F. before suffering an injury. Fred Zarrow and Mike Wood added strength to the team as did All Orange County Sophomore Phil Middleton and Junior Dennis Shook. Girls Continue Winning Ways

For the third year in a row the Varsity Girls Cross Country team competed in C.I.F. competition. Their season was highlighted by a win at the Mount Sac Invitational and a second place Empire League finish. The team was led by Holly Bean, who placed third in league, and Marcia Escobosa, who ranked eleventh in league. Most improved was Meg O'Neil and Frosh/Soph standout Karen Robert gave support to the Varsity. Lorraine Perez, Liz Watson, and Karina Paoletti rounded out the team.

The Team Hits Rough

After two unbelievable preceding years the Varsity Baseball Team suffered what coach Steve Leavitt referred to as "a total collapse." A collapse which stunned a previously optimistic coaching staff who were looking forward to yet another good year. The causes for this breakdown, however, were as diversified as they were numbered. "The teams pitching was weak, and consequently we weren't getting ahead of the other teams batters. Our defense wasn't making the plays they should have, our offense wasn't hitting when we needed them to and it may have been that coaching staff wasn't doing its job." Leavitt openly asserted. Despite their dismal record the team was loaded with many talented players, "but for one reason or another they just couldn't pull it together in the clutch." Two of the most consistent players were Richard Sandoval and Jon Stofer whom both did well in batting for the team.

The team ran into some rough waters during their second year in the Empire League. A league which is considered by many to be the toughest league in the state because it has four teams that are ranked in the top 10 in CIF. Despite these seemingly insurmountable odds none of the players lost their winning spirit.

Loaded With Talent

Loaded with talent, this year's Junior Varsity Baseball Team performed well for their audience. "Pitcher Larry Rosipajla was the best pitcher in the league," stated Assistant Coach John Guloti. Other outstanding teammates were Chris Saito-shortstop, Andy Vlastnik-right field, and Joe Cribari-second base. The team held practices every day after school and put out much effort, with the help of Coach Dane Ilertson. Their main ambition was to win first place in the league.

Two walk-on coaches Dave produced a strong team from raw talent. Rudy Meoli (Coach) and Timothy Finneran (Assistant Coach) had many new players this year. Outstanding players were: Jim Buck-catcher, Doug Sipple-third base, Mike Smith-first base, and pitchers Rob Hanna and Sean Blankenship. A Very Spirited Team

"Take me out to the ballgame. Take me out with the crowd."

"What crowd?" remarked shortstop Margaret Ziegler. A crowd was the only thing the Varsity Softball Team lacked this year. Fortunately, however, the team motivated themselves. "We're a very spirit team," outfielder Cyndi Ehlers stated, "We cheer each other." Motivation was a key factor which helped the team achieve its goals.

Realistic goals of the team were "first place in league and definitely going to C.I.F.," commented Margaret Ziegler. Coach Watson added, "We're a young, good, quick team that will do very well."

Quickness was the main asset speedsters as Shelley Gallagher, Margaret Ziegler, and Lori Rydel. Driving them home were sluggers, Stephanie Richards, Jill Matyuck, and Lisa Newmyer.

The pitching duo of Tammy Moore and Lisa Walczy were an important part of the team, "When things go down to the wire, we can count on our pitchers," noted rightfielder Jeanine Haerle, who has played varsity softball three years in a row, was that good catcher who really knew what she was doing," explained pitcher Tammy Moore.

The team thought a lot of Coach Watson. First baseman Annette David talked about Mrs. Watson with a smile on her face, "Coach Watson makes the season enjoyable for everyone and having fun is what its all about!"

Experience Describes J.V. Softball

Hard working, excellent attitudes and all-around experience describes the girls J.V. softball team. Experience is everywhere. Shannon Emrick, Libby Kingseed, Chris Haerle, Kim Schluter, Holly Piper, Danielle Treadway, Carrie Black and Kim Loyd all returned from last year's team. "We're a stronger team than years of the past because of the returning players," explained coach Tracy Brennan.

"We've improved a lot this season," pitcher Danielle Treadway commented. The hours of practice put in by everyone, to make the team the best it can be.

"Ms. Brennan is a good coach, who keeps us in shape," remarked thirdbaseman Chris Haerle. "In shape" was an understatement, with long distance running 3-hour-long practices, Coach Brennan has made the team members well-conditioned athletes.

The conditioning did pay-off. As the girls bombarded such teams as Valencia and Troy, (21-3), 16-2) respectively.

Off To A Running Start

Plagued with problems, the Boy's Track Team start their season with a 1-2 record in league. The team, which was compromised mainly of underclassmen, had top Senior athletes as well- Scott Hakeman having the most promise. Injuries and sickness disappointed Seniors such as Mike Wood, Fred Zarrow, and Ric Allen, making it difficult to stay in shape, and thus limiting their true capabilities. It did not however, limit their determination. The distance team finished strong and the mile relay team won best Frosh/Soph in Orange County. This was not at all easy, for they are in the toughest league in the county. Some top underclassmen were Brian Hieser (hurdles), Tom Ward (high jump), Bart Hakeman (triple jump and long jump), and Eddie Padilla (shot put and discus).

Keeping In Stride

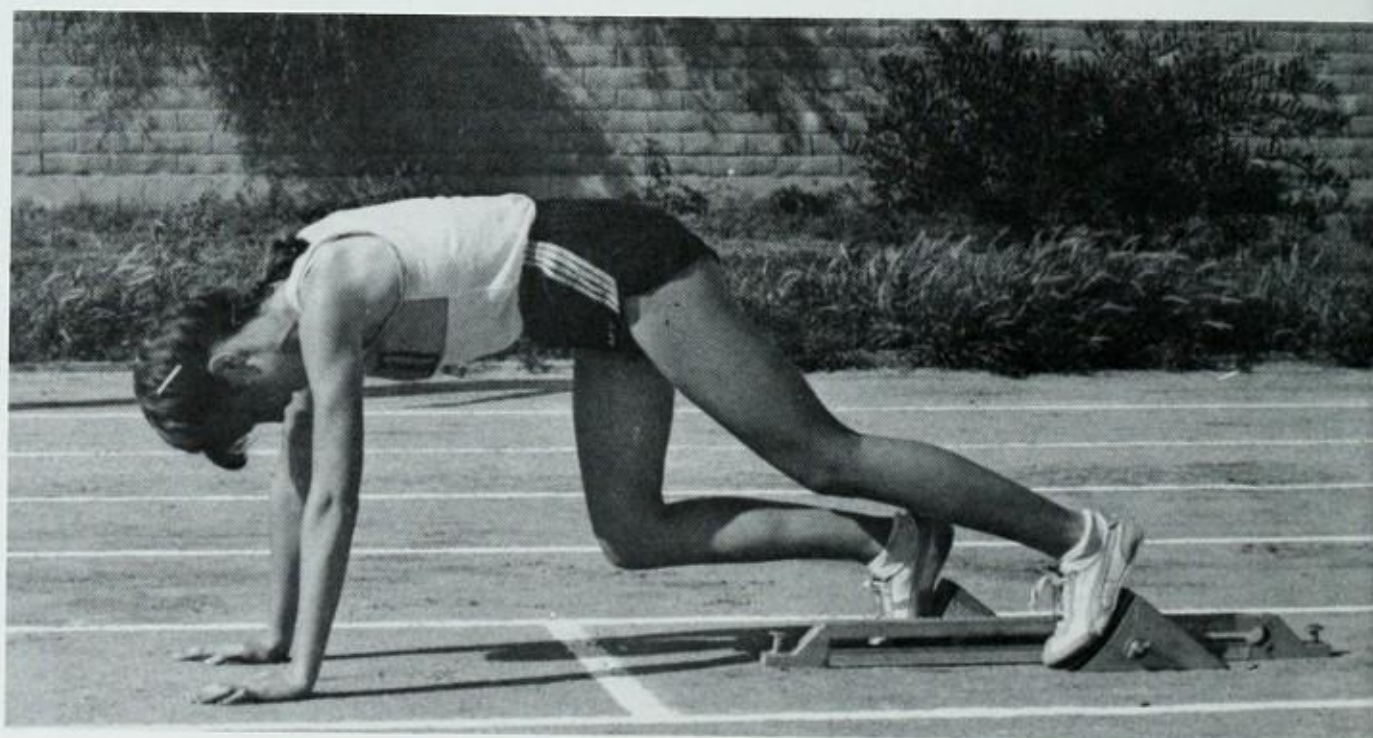

With a young team consisting primarily of Sophomores and Juniors, the girls got off to a 2-1 record in league play to equal last year's start, which remains their best ever. The improving team came back to win two in a row after their opening meet loss to the Aztecs. Apparently the girls were not as ready as they expected to be. But by the next meet, they had a better understanding of their potential and what they had to do to win. With the help of Sophomore Michelle Banks, the Hawks were the best prediction to win the league championship. Other top performers included Lisa Schofield, Caryn Christiano, Marcia Escabosa, Holly Bean, Meg O'Neil, and Colleen O'Higgins.

Able to leap long sandpits in a single bound, it's Jana Florentine.

The 1983 Girls Track Team.

Here's The End . . .

But It's Only The Beginning.

Long hours of practice caused many of this year's sports participants to endure grief, hardship, and friendship. The athletes spent much grueling time before, during, and after school hours, perfecting their technique for "The Big Bout!" Their dedication and spirit was an inspiration to all of us and unified El Dorado.

This year's football team, led by Coach Mel Morales, wasn't one of the best in E.D.'s history, but the team elevated some truly outstanding players. Pat Devaney was named All County Player along with All-League Players, Mike Alvarez, Russ Coulombe, Mike Levyel, and Shawn Ray. Ross Coulombe did an incredible job of kicking for the Hawks, a number of times kicking clear into the endzone. Juniors Matt Hayes and Shawn Ray were a big part of the team, with Hayes receiving a Hawk of the Year award. The entire team called this year, "A year of gaining experience."

Starting again, for the second year in a row, were fabulous basketball players, Mark Brubaker and Rusty Flora. Dave Carmo was also a star, receiving the Most Improved Player award. The teams highlight matched took place at the Santiago and Garden Grove tournaments, in which they won both.

When it comes to swimming, this year's eyes were upon Olympic-bound John Mckkanen, swimming as one of the top ten in the world. Katsuni Yoshida qualified for the Junior National Championships, while Rick Hawkins and Scott Mori, were both qualifiers for C.I.F. This spectacular team was led to their victories by a new coach, Tom Millich.

Soccer, led by Coach Richard Garcia, had an extremely competitive and talented year. Three year varsity player, Todd Waterman and goalie, Brian Hunt, exerted as much as physically possible, being recognized as All-League Players. Hunt also finished out the season, breaking a number of E.D.'s famed goalie records.

The 1982-83 Water Polo team had a successful season. They went undefeated in League and finished ranking fifth in the C.I.F. 4A division water polo standings. Four top layers placed on the All-Empire League team. Chris Ames, Ron Jones, Dirk Pinkerton, and Tony Bell, who also was named as the League's M.V.P. Some of the outstanding players of the Frosh/Soph team were Dave Cote, Rick Hawkins and John Kwillman.

"It's not how you start, it's how you finish," encouraged head wrestling coach Frank Gonzales. The wrestling started off on the wrong foot, but finished the season with a third place in the California State Wrestling Meet. Two wrestlers went to the meet, Mark Alex, who placed third, and Ty Pembleton, who by using the Gramby Roll, earned the right to be State Champion for his weight division. On the junior varsity team the outstanding wrestlers were Phil Agrusa, Mark Neu, and Rob Skripko. On the Frosh/Soph team the prominent wrestlers were Jim Hendra, Yourie Sharpe, and Doug Sipple.

The baseball team had many impressive players, Richard Sandoval with his hitting abilities; Jon Stofer was team captain and catcher; and strong pitchers like Ron Cozart and Richard Hayden. Junior varsity's baseball team's superior players were Jeff Petredes, Larry Rosipjala, and Chris Saito. The frosh/soph had remarkable players such as Jim Buck, Shawn Blankenship, and Doug Sipple.

Scott Hakeman and Ric Allen led the cross-country team in a victorious season, placing first in League and fifth in the C.I.F. divisional. The exceptional junior varsity team, had good runners such as John Golden and Jamie Kliss. The frosh/soph team was headed by Ron Lee and Tom Moran. The inexperienced girls team did exceeding well by capturing second in League. The team, guided by Holly Bean and Marcia Escobosa, looks forward next year to another winning season. The girls J.V. team had great runners like Angie Harrod, Sherri Hodsen, and Bonnie O'Brien.

Despite the lack of depth in the girls swim team, they still were swamped with talent. Saundra Oberle, Debbie Vaughn, Mary Portik, and Holly Woodruff led the team.

The volleyball team placed third in League and went all the way to the third round in C.I.F. before losing. Sharon Leonhardt, who received a scholarship to Boise State, Annette David, and Melanie Palmer were the leaders of the team. The J.V.'s outstanding players were Shannon Emrick, Libby Kingseed, Colleen O'Higgins, Holly Piner. The frosh/soph team had spectacular player such as Kisha Sanneman and Jennifer Jones.

The young and talented girls soccer team earned third in this season. The team had much talent all over the field. In the goal was Vickie Gould while Stacy Smith and "Tiny" Glomboske, were scoring the goals. The J.V. team had such talent as Lisa Renaud, Louise Walters, Megan Nelson, Erin Cromer, Alyssa Allen, and Cindy Barr.

The High point of this year's girls tennis team was beating the long time rival, Esperanza. The team finished fourth in League and missed qualifying by one match. Dinicola and Hassel placed third in League doubles.

Palmer, Harbord, and Leonhardt were the shining stars of Coach Nash Rivera's outstanding girls basketball team. This year's team finished as League champs for the second time since 1976. Palmer was on the N.O.C. All-Star team. Harbord earned all C.I.F. third team honors, played All-League and was the leading scorer. The M.V.P. was awarded to All-League Player Sharon Leonhardt.

Academics

The Few, The Proud, The

No, they are not Marines, they are a community service group which organized a successful Christmas project to which gifts and food were donated by NHS members, then wrapped and distributed to needy families. Perhaps observant students have seen a handful of them working at night school concessions or at the basketball games. All work and no play . . . well, the rest is well known and NHS members are in no way dull! They have time for fun too, conquering the ice at Brea Mall playing broomball, romping in the Arrowhead snow and even paring the course miniature golfing. With all 92 scholars working and laughing together, how could they go wrong?!

"This cue stick is a registered lethal weapon and I will use it if I am disturbed" states a serious Lisa Northrop.

C.S.F. Betters The Community

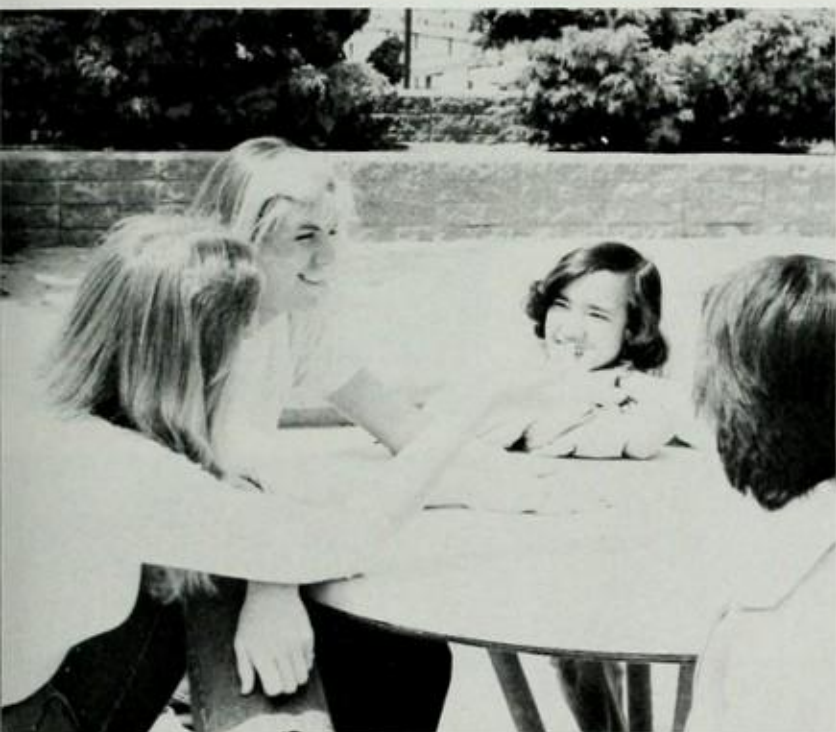

The California Scholarship Federation, consisting of 80 members, is one of the largest clubs on campus. It is an academic club that accepts members for their outstanding grades. Its purpose is to earn enough money to give out scholarships. In order to be accepted, the student must obtain at least 3 A's and one B in the designated subject area. The club has two application periods every school year.

The organization is advised by Mrs. Arena and Mr. Cardinale. The five officers are Joanna Keating-President, Joe Greenlaw-fundraisers, Stephanie Wangsecretary and historian, Debbie Renaud-activities, and Michelle Bradach-publicity.

Fundraisers include the sale of M&M's, which is done annually, and book covers. Activities are also held. They included a private party at Disneyland, pizza parties and progressive dinners, where members travel to different houses for each course in the meal. Another activity is the CSF Regional Conference. It's held each spring, and it has a wide variety of seminars for members to pick from.

C.S.F. officers Debbie Renaud, Joanna Keating and Michelle Bradach plan the next pizza party.

"I don't think that note about meeting after school means he want to propose!" exclaims Joanna Keating.

Math Team Was Adding Up!

It is hard to imagine anyone interested in permutations, logarithms, quadratic equations and math in general. But the Math Team is filled with students interested in all these things. The interest and ability in math skills and an inclination to work hard are the only requirements for joining the team.

The team competed six times in the Atlantic Pacific monthly contest. The tests include taking a number of difficult exams in all areas of high school math. Then the four highest scores are sent in for national competition against the scores of other high schools.

The twenty member team also contested in competitions at Orange Coast College, Pomona College, and at an exam sponsored by the Math Association of America. It did very well in competition, and won several awards. The President of the team was Mon-Ta Tsai. The Secretary was Sharlene Wang.

Decathlon For Brains . . . Not Brawn!

Housing? Science? Fine Arts? for fun? not quite. This year the Academic Decathlon, held at Westminster High School was not done for fun. The six students and coach, Joy Appleby, spent many an hour studying to spend the day, Saturday, the 23rd of October. Ten tests were administered, dealing with every subject most students tried to avoid during school hours. The team consisted of six students, two from each G.P.A. Joe Greenlaw and Winnie Wong, with a G.P.A. of 3.75 to 4.00 were the Honors students, Pat Galvin and Kathy Klinge were the Scholastic students with a G.P.A. of 3.00 to 3.74, and Tom Trerise and Kata Conlon made up the Varsity section with a G.P.A. below 2.99. Three of these were honored with medals for outstanding performance. Honor student, Winnie Wong, took third in speech, Varsity Tom Trerise got a second place in the essay, and Kata Conlon a second place in mathematics.

Can you believe that honors student Winnie Wong would actually associate with Varsity Kata Conlon?

Spanish Club Gains Popularity

Mexico has economically fallen but El Dorado Spanish Club is on the rise. Economically the Spanish club gained by selling Candy-Grams to help pay for their trip to Olvera Street. The club went first class, the Amtrak Way, to this famous Mexican street in Los Angeles. They toured the street and ate at the El Paseo Inn. Member Carol Gilbert stated "It was exciting; I had a great time."

The Spanish club president, Lori Marek, waits to announce the next activity.

Madeline Chitjian making her week fit around the club activities.

Parlez vous en frances? May be a question you would hear in French classes but you would definitely not hear it in the French Club. The club centers around the French culture not the language.

The club was involved in many cultural activities this year such as the Mardi Gras picnic and the planning of hot chocolate sales. The French club also teamed up with the Spanish club for an international dinner. A wide variety of food was brought in from all different countries. "The foods were mighty tasty," remarked Michelle Bradach. The athletically inclined members competed against the Spanish club in football games.

The Ecopeople

Bug Crazyed?

The Ecology Club. The name itself implies visions of bug crazed bookworms examining weeds under a microscope. This image however, is untrue. This years club, led by Isabel Dazey, set out to improve the club. First they painted their newspaper bins in the parking lot gold, and added their new symbol in black to the sides. The money provided from the bins was used for many club events. Horseback riding, whale watching, pizza parties, and scholarships just to name a few. Although the Ecology Club is not the largest club on campus, they're definitely in the running to become one of the most popular clubs of the future. Good luck.

Keeping Clubs Conscious

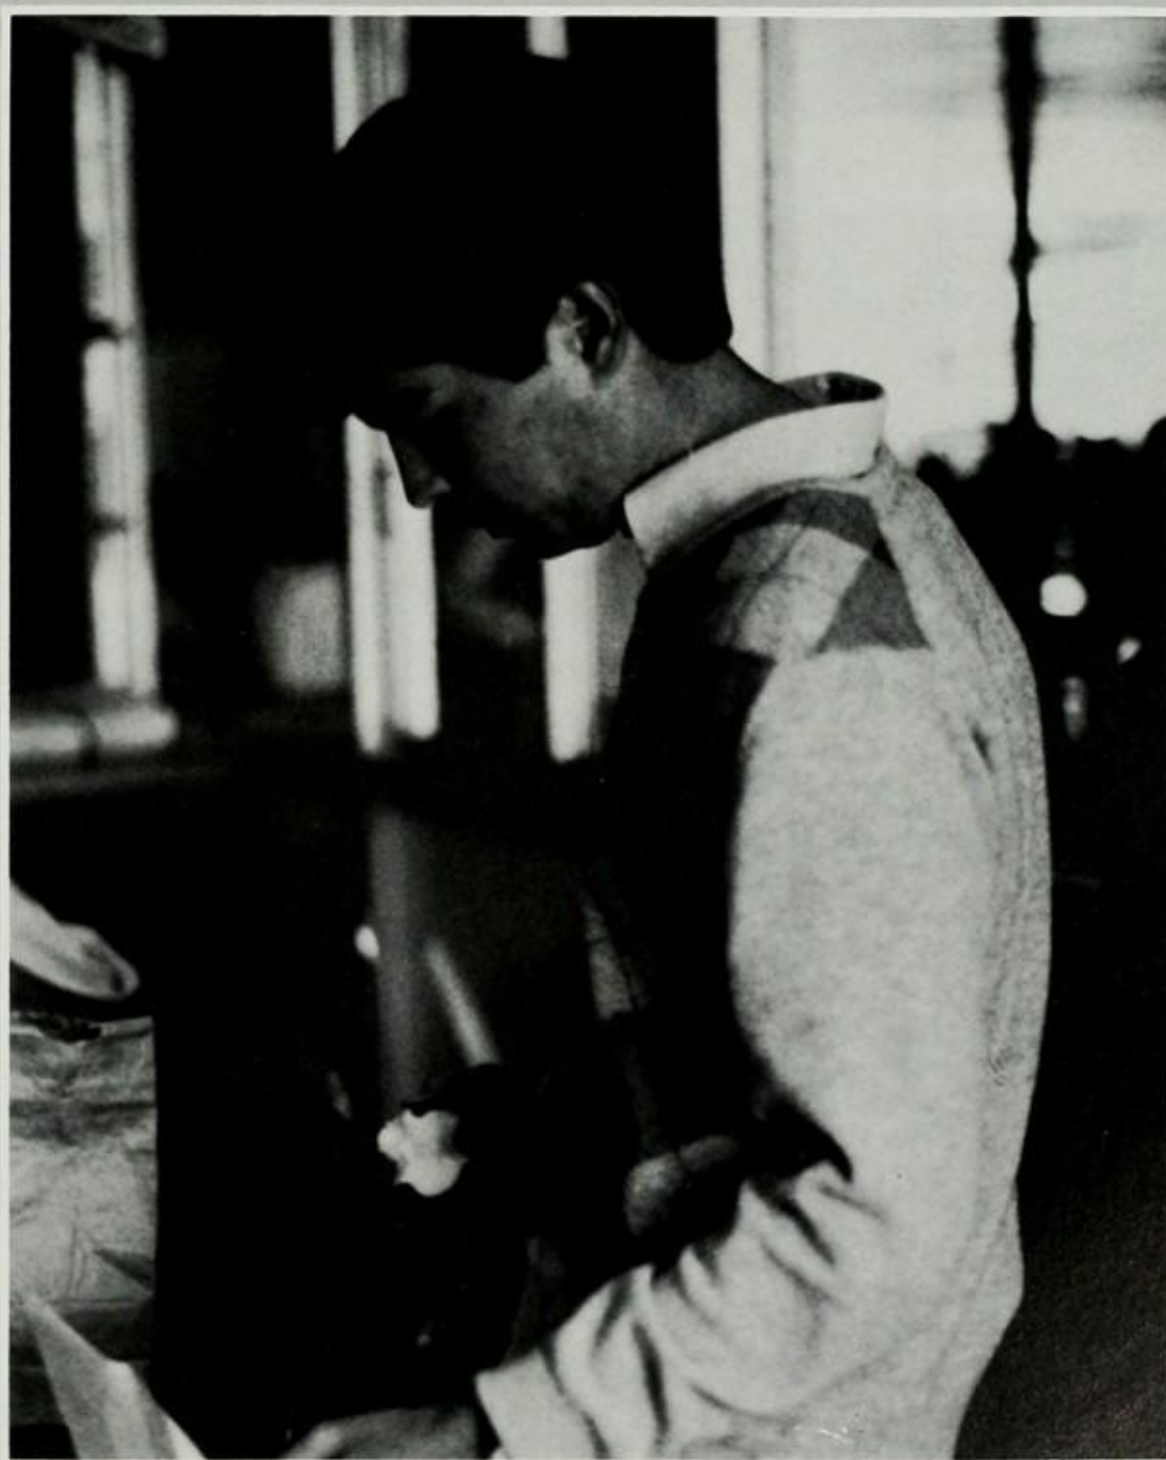

ICC was not one of the more well known clubs on campus because it was a closed club. Membership was restricted to one representative from each organization. Meetings were held occasionally and were headed by Cecilia Perry. During these meetings the club representatives would discuss their plans for activities, fundraisers and ask for any advice needed.

Cecilia made herself available for any questions and would give help when needed. Inter Club Council kept the activities and fund raisers running smoothly all year.

Some ICC members: E. Alvarez, L. Johnson, J. Keating, K. Wang, E. Halverson, B. Sakashita, M. Tsal, C. Lin, C. Perry and M. Fizzard.

Cecilia Perry offers her help to clubs to help them run their activities.

Learning The Way, FBLA

When the letters, FBLA come to mind, one might ponder as to what they mean.

FBLA, stands for Future Business Leaders of America, a very prominent organization here.

The group is based upon business, but sways towards the secretarial type jobs such as typing and shorthand. It basically shows you what skills would apply, or aid you in the future of a business career. Students in FBLA are also involved in running the student store. FBLA is an essential group which helps people prepare for the future, and is a much needed group at El Dorado.

Nina Carson seems surprised when she takes her first order for 50 packages of M&M's.

Scott Moore exclaims, "This is the last time I buy $5.00 worth of candy and pay for it all with pennies."

Maria Carchi smiles because she knows she's good.

Doing his impression of Doctor Frankenstein, Randy Lester says, "Igor, get me the wrench."

If I'm real casual about this, no one will know my hand's stuck, thinks Mike Muskavitch.

Don Ghrist exclaims, "They have just got to get some new equipment for this weight room."

Glen Mallory, prepares his arm for amputation.

Building A Better Future

Putting interests and skills to work is what VICA is all about. VICA stands for the Vocational Industrial Arts Club of America. By participating in VICA, students can prepare for future careers while enjoying the rewards of their work. There is not much paper work done in VICA. The work that is done is concentrated on building, repairing old and developing new concepts and ideas.

VICA includes wood, metal, auto shop, electricity and mechanical drawing. With this wide range of subjects, students can gain knowledge from the classes while doing something that is fun and will help them in the future years.

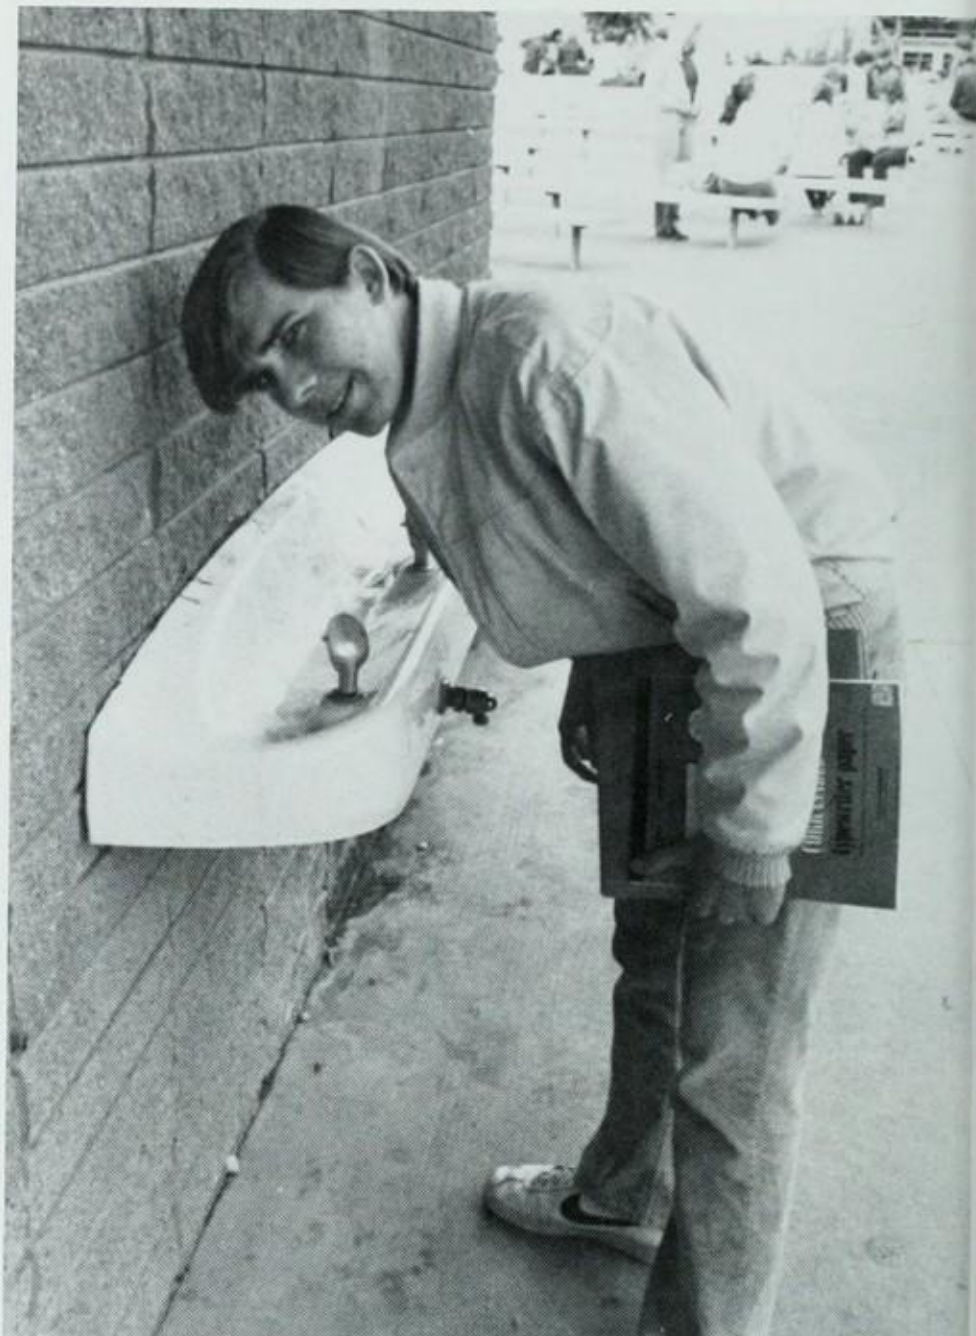

Organized Arguments

What did they do in that debate Club? Argue? Insult each other? Ignore another? Maybe they brought out the gloves and the last one standing was the victor?

Opinions varied but the Debate Club was a club that was very interesting, exciting, and most of all fun!

"We discussed many subjects," stated Senior Scott Hakeman, "be it economically, historically, or politically, we covered events and occurrences in which we were all interested."

The club met twice weekly at lunch and pondered over solutions and answers to school as well as nation wide problems. When you think of Debate Club, you think of Murphy's Law, "Whatever can go wrong, will go wrong, unless of course, the El Dorado Debate Club has handled it." stated Dave Freeman.

Conformity Is A Sin

Those radicals who roamed the campus this year did more than just keep their ideas to themselves. They felt everyone should realize what was going on so they formed the Political Awareness Club. One of the four founding fathers, Dave Cravotta spouted, "There was so much student apathy at El Dorado, we decided to incite students to think; to become politically aware. A forum designed for the free exchange of ideas was thusly created." Steve Baxter's reason for involvement was his "... dislike for the current administration and government." These views were not confined to their meetings but were printed in an editorial paper "The Agitator." Members wrote articles to express their mood on several current issues.

Steve Baxter passes out the first edition of "The Agitator", which was met with mixed reactions.

The sinister Leonard Boyarsky hypnotizes Dave Cravotta with his dripping pizza into believing he is a crazed madman.

At a typical PAC luncheon, Paul Soto spits, Dave Freeman sleeps on the "proud to apathetic" Dave Cravotta, Kata Conlon lusts after Leonard Boyarsky, and Steve Baxter contemplates the absurdity of existence.

Channel 7 news rewards outstanding athletes weekly. Tony Bell won the Prep Athlete of the week accolade during the school year. Tony, a superb water-polo player, started when he was seven years old, a year after he started swimming. He played AAU when he was little. Aside from El Dorado's polo team, Tony also takes part in a select team, Junior National. Tony is a junior on a senior-dominated team.

When asked about his future plans, Tony replied, "hopefully I'll receive a scholarship to play waterpolo in college."

Bank of America annually gives awards to outstanding students who compete in various categories. This year's Science and Math award recipient was Joe Greenlaw. Jasmine Murata received the award for fine and practical arts, and Paul Soto received the award for Liberal Arts.

For the fourth season in a row, El Dorado has produced the State Wrestling Champion. This year, Senior Ty Pembleton, 6-1, 183, snared the title. Wrestling in the 203 weight class, Pembleton was the underdog at the Fresno meet, but utilized the Gramby Roll to overpower his third and final opponent, thereby clinching the victory. With his judo background, quickness, and agility, Pembleton has earned numerous other honors such as the Los Angeles Times Player of the Week. The modest champion confessed disbelief when he was told he'd won. "I kept checking the score until the ref raised my hand." Pambleton has triumphantly followed in his three predecessors footsteps.

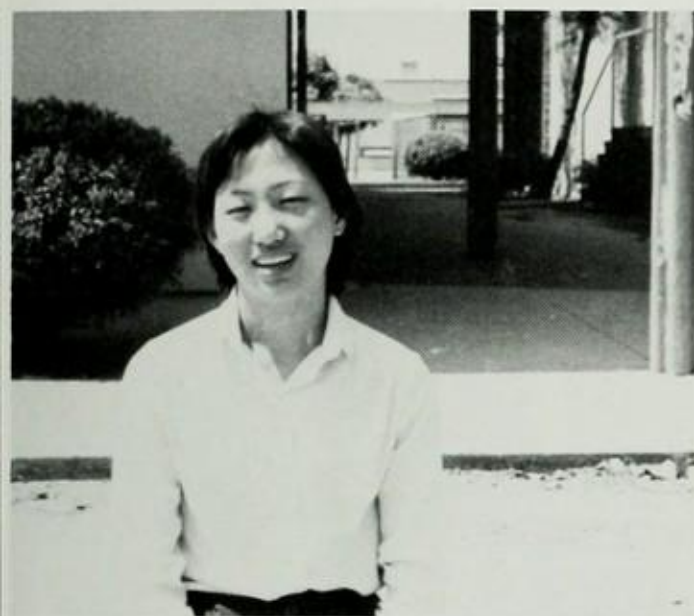

Lori Marek was chosen as the girls State Representative from El Dorado. El Dorado had 5 nominees, each girl was interviewed and Lori was chosen. Every High School in California sent one girl to represent their school, for one week in Sacramento. There the girls constructed their own government and listen to political lectures and such. "I'm really excited about going," stated Lori, "I think it will be a real good experience."

High achievers come a dime-a-dozen at El Dorado, but one student at E.D., Stephanie Wang, soars consistently above all. Fortunately, her high achievements have not gone unnoticed. She received a scholarship in engineering to UC Berkeley. From UC Berkeley she intends to go to graduate school with the eventual goal of becoming a chemical engineer. "But with the wide field in chemical engineering," stated Stephanie, "is not too easy to decide what to specialize in. I'll figure that out within the next few years."

Stephanie also received the award naming her the Orange County Engineering Student of the year. Stephanie added, "It was a tremendous honor for me to get such a thing. I hope I can live up to the reputation for the award I received."

Pam McGaw received a scholarship offered by Irvine County Leadership Conference. This is the first year this scholarship has been offered. A representative from each school in Orange County was awarded. Pam was chosen by the E.D. scholarship committee for her leadership position and her academic abilities.

Connie Nguyen received a scholarship to attend North Western University. She plans to become a medical doctor of emergency specializing in trauma cases.

Fishing Club Strikes Again

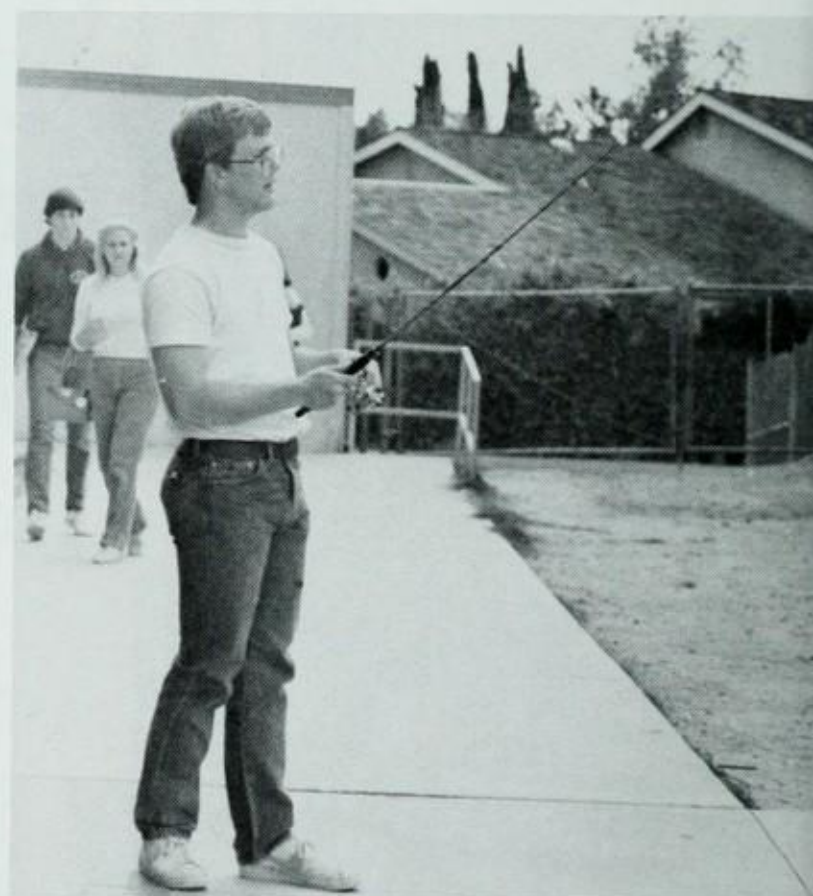

In the 1981-82 school year, a new club was formed on the El Dorado campus. It was then that some students realized that fishing takes a little more than luck and a great deal of patience. Together, Tom Bette, representative of Western Outdoors Publications, and advisor Charles Titus brought this organization into existence. Now, after their second season, the El Dorado "Fish Hawks" Fishing Club has shown its abilities on and off-shore. "We had three casting derbies and three major fishing trips this year," said club President Dave Sims, "one bay fishing trip and two deep-sea trips out of Helgren's Landing in Oceanside." "We also kept busy with some professional guest speakers, several film productions, and a rod building clinic." Many prizes and awards were given out at the club's awards banquet to the most outstanding "Fisherman of the Year."

Seniors Who Know It All

College representatives have been coming to El Dorado from the time school started, and now more than before. El Dorado students are in high demand because of their excellence in academics and athletics. Over the past two years, Mrs. Ann Test has reorganized the program of college recruitment at El Dorado by creating the College Advisory Council. This group, which consists of one representative from each Senior English class, meets with Mrs. Test twice a month to learn about coming visits by recruiters. These students then inform their classmates of these opportunities.

Mrs. Test has expressed pleasure over the student responses to the council: "We are having more students coming to hear the college counselors; thus our students have a better picture of what college is all about before they go. That is what the Council is all about."

Judy Van Den Bosch restrains herself from outbursts of joy because she is so happy to be a member of the council.

Jim Pope and Lonnie Haralson are as amazed by the wonder of college as they are by Sunny Delight.

Junior Class, A Class With Pride!

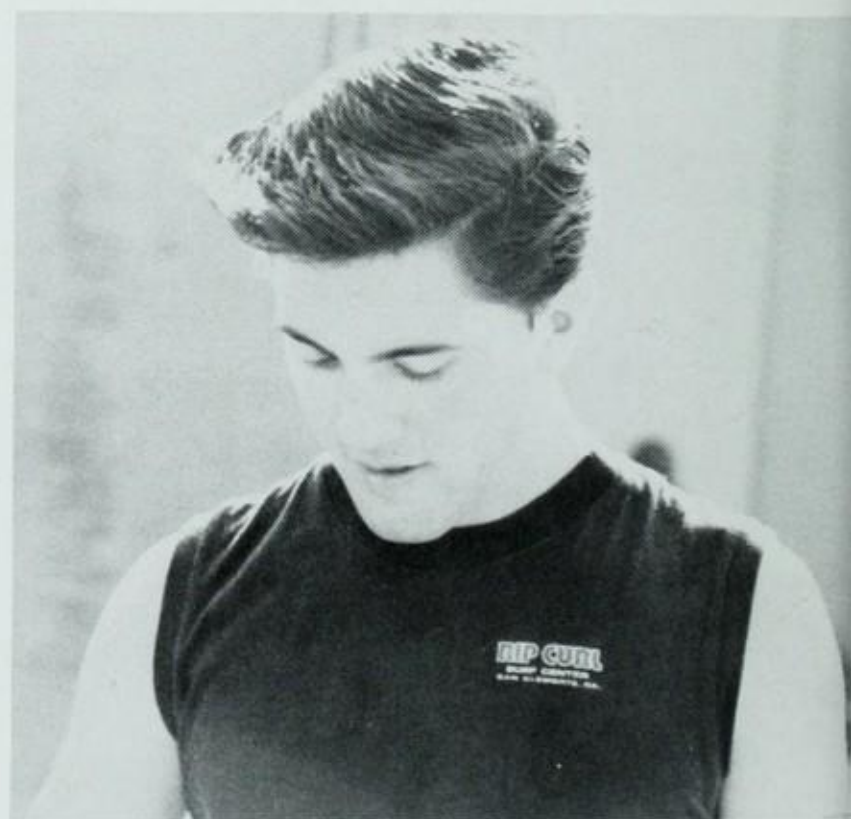

When you think of Juniors, you think of pride. The people in the Junior class had pride and determination, qualities which helped their class create some outstanding projects. The class of '84 organized this year's Prom, and not only did the officers help out, but so did the entire Junior Class. With the type of cooperation the students gave through the entire year, next year's senior class will truly soar through '84.

That Will Always Oversee All!

The Junior Class Cabinet did an excellent job this year. The Junior Class Cabinet had the responsibility of organizing the Junior-Senior Prom, and setting up committees for the Homecoming Dance. The cabinet organized many fund raisers including selling various items such as t-shirts and buttons. The members of the cabinet feel that the Junior Class is full of "great active people, with pride that will oversee all," stated Debbie Renaud, Junior Class Treasurer.

What Is A Junior?

Juniors, When you hear the name Juniors you think of a little youngster, or maybe daddy's favorite son. Some people think of a local restaurant, and others think of school.

Here at El Dorado, our Juniors are none of these things. They are, though, a well balanced, mature class, that handles a large part of the school spirit.

Video Mania

He's cute and runs through the block being eternally chased by Blinky, Pinky, Inky, and Clyde. Everyone loves this little yellow fellow with the big mouth. His name? Pac-Man. He is just one of the many "people" you'll see in the arcades.

Arcades are gathering spots for large numbers of high school students. In arcades you're able to work off the nervous tension you acquired in Mrs. Appleby's fifth period geometry class. For just a quarter you can jump through traffic and onto logs or try to save a fair maiden from a hairy ape. Afterwards, you can discuss your strategy with a friend or someone new. Who knows what the biggest attraction of the arcade is? Entertainment, boys, girls, or just the thrill of winning.

A Class Of Excellence

The class of 1984 is a special class. The students of this class became upperclassmen. Many new things happened to them, getting their driver's licenses, going to Prom, and getting prepared for "Senior Life" was all part of the class of 1984.

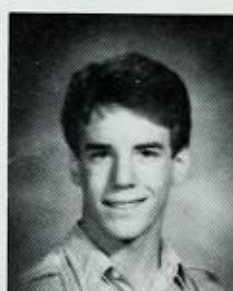

It has been said that the Senior year is always the hardest. Juniors learn how to think and become independent upperclassmen. Entrance exams for college and College Night helped the Junior figure out what career and college to pursue, if any. Besides preparing for life, the Junior had some extra-curricular activities such as class rings and going to dances. These and more were some of the highlights of the year.

The Longest Wait

As the year comes to an end and it seems that all the pressure and waiting is over, the Juniors are just starting that long wait for seniority. For 11 years they have been kicked and pushed around by the upper classmen. Now it's just a matter of time.

How will they count down the time? Will it be by months, weeks, days, maybe for the anxious ones hours? Well, however you do it, it will come soon enough; so just sit back and enjoy the wait.

Dennis Shook has a flashback of his freshman year.

A Familiar Ring

What has a familiar ring to it? A telephone, five minute bell, and the class of 1984 all have a familiar ring. The Juniors received their familiar ring this fall. Their class ring. Junior Michelle Bradach, couldn't wait until the class rings came so she could display her upperclassmen El Dorado spirit in a traditional way. "They were so pretty that you wanted to show them off to everyone," said Junior Debbie Herdt.

And boy did the Juniors show off their rings by getting their peers to turn them. On folders you would notice tallies to help them remember how many had turned their rings like notches that were dug into a Colt six-shooter. The tallies added up and Juniors got the chance to ask that lucky person to be victim number 84.

Working Together; Creating The Future

Being exclusively made up of girls, the Sophomore Cabinet found compatability and unity no problem. Their decisions and ideas were normally drafted at various slumber parties which the officers held. They had fun together and their friendship made things easier to accomplish. Yet, aside from the "fun" the Sophomore Officers had several activities to add to the class of 85's future. Their fund raisers consisted of selling things at football games and concessions at basketball games. They also helped to put on the Homecoming dance and put on the 50's dance. The president of the class, Holly Piper, had goals to see unity within the class. She also hoped there would be an increasing amount of Sophomore class spirit. She looks forward to the Sophomore classes future years. "Our class has the potential to be one of El Dorado's finest."

Sophomores Are:

When you hear the word Sophomore you may think of many things. Here is one way to look at it . . .

Supreme-Greatest in importance; Ultimate
Outgoing- Friendly and unreserved
Persistent- Going on; continuing; lasting Humorous- Comical; funny
One-track- Limited to a single idea
Magnificent- Splendid; lavish; sumptuous
Outstanding- Projecting upward or outward
Rare- Highly exceptional; unique
Energetic- Having or displaying energy

The Art Of "Goal" Tending

Sophomore Ambitions

Every once in a while, an underclassman wishes to give the world an idea of what he or she has planned for the future. Like the Seniors, underclassmen want to let us know what some of their goals are for the school year, their lives in high school in general, or maybe even for life afterwards. Here are what some of them said:

Traci Lombardo - "I'd like to travel, possibly as an airline stewardess."

Mike Broth and Steve Choate - "Both of us would like to go to college out of this area, if possible."

Doug Sorensen - "I just don't want to be pushed into anything that I don't want to do."

Yvette Comer - "I'd like to settle down to a nice house, a nice car, money and a wonderful hubby!"

Brendan Sharpe and Phil Carlilie - "If we can get out of high school with our diplomas, we'll be happy."

Michelle Norcutt eating the lunch of a purse, clothes, and All-American milk.

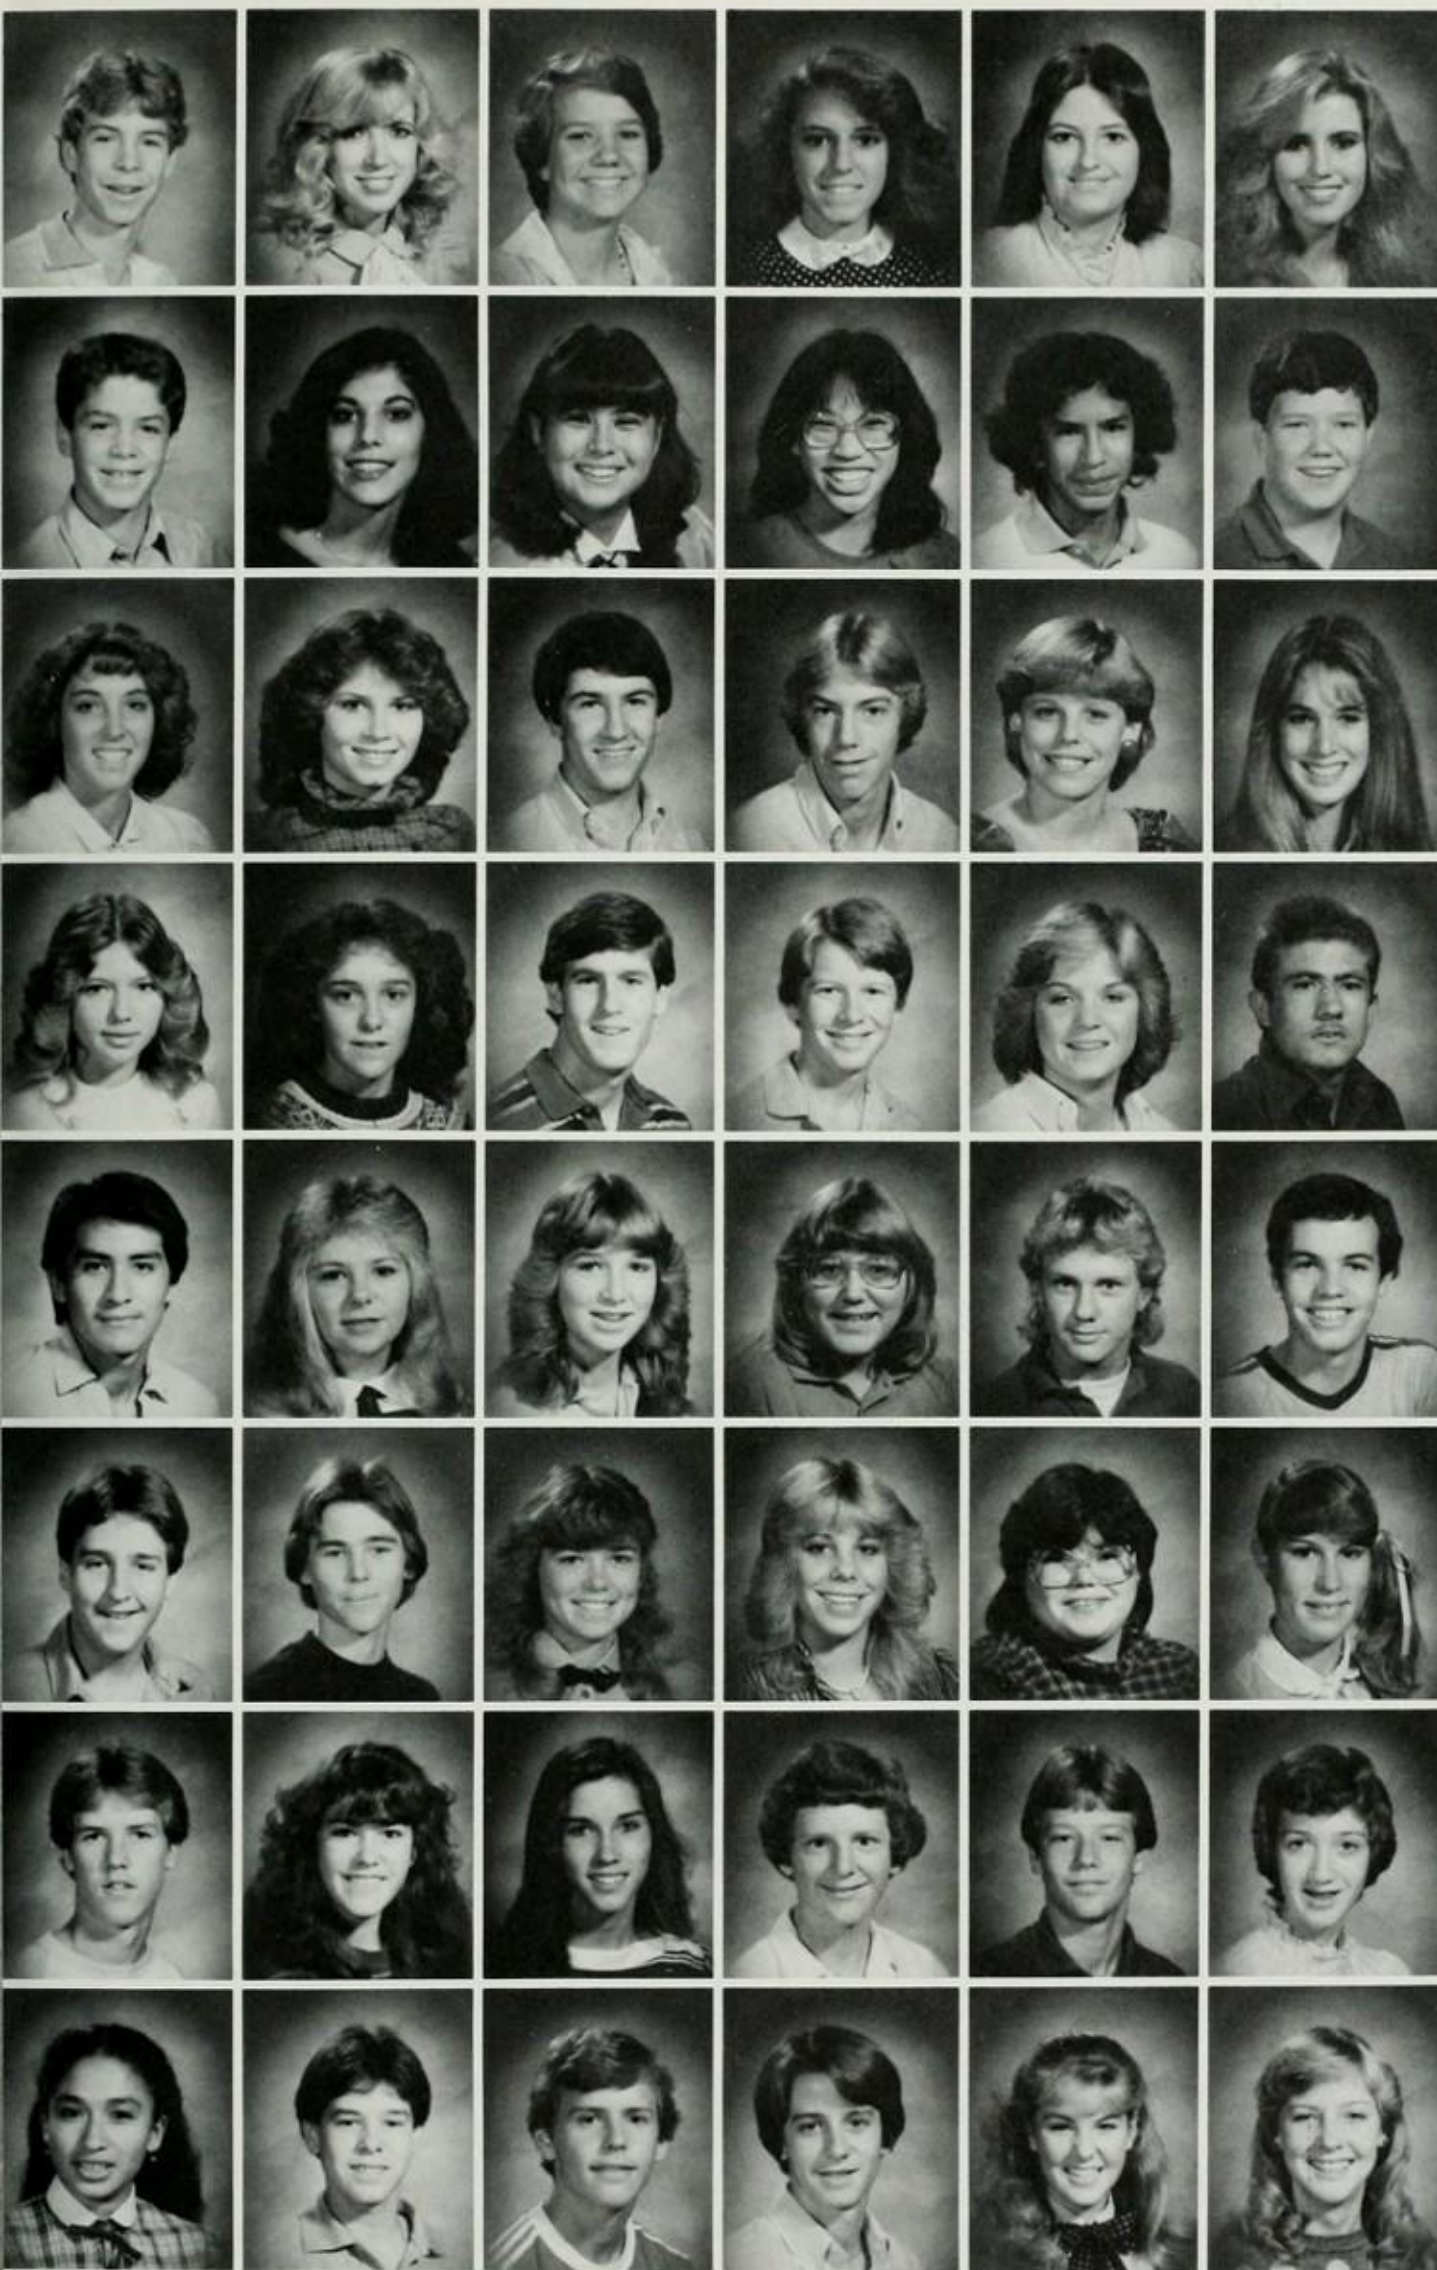

Many sophomore women seem attracted to Senior Mike La Borde's new musk oil.

Brian Fleming's grin shows he's enjoying his conversation with Larry Duke. And all the time people thought Freshmen had no fun.

No More Trash Cans

Being a Sophomore means not being pushed around or thrown in trash cans. Sophomores are transitional students, moving from frightened Freshmen to upper-lowerclassmen. "Being a sophomore gave me more independence and freedom," stated Jenny Noss.

The Class of 1985 has good qualities. There were approximately five Sophomores that started on the Varsity Football team and the Soph-Frosh Baseball team did well. Doug Frate said, "Our class does good in sports and academics. I feel we need more school spirit at assemblies. In general our class is outstanding."

Driving Sophomores

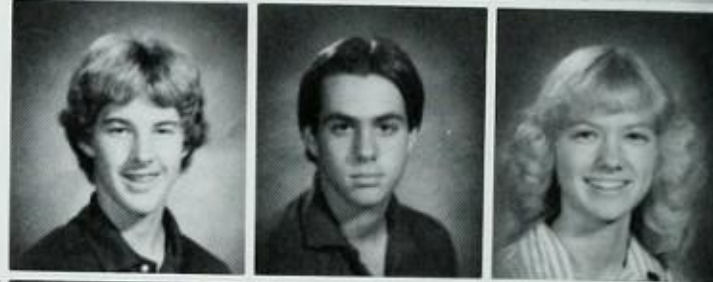

We'll it's finally here! The year where the Sophomores become drivers. The best part of being a Sophomore is getting your driver's license. Here at E.D. we have an excellent drivers Education Program headed by Brian Kursbard. The class lasts for one semester where each student answers questions and takes tests concerning rules on driving. The true test comes when each student is put in a real, moving car and told to drive. Many of the students have had experience, but then again you have those who can't even release the emergency brake and start the car.

"Driving is the number one cause of teenage death, and it is a very important class to take for future drivers," says Kurzbard. The main point that Kurzbard stresses to all his students, "Always remember to buckle up, it will always save your life."

High School Friends

"Make new friends but keep the old, one is silver and the other's gold," is a song most students have heard whether they want to admit it or not. Mods, punkers, rock-a-billys, and hard rockers have heard this song in elementary school. This song tells of the importance of friends by comparing them to silver and gold. High school friends are invaluable. In the hectic life of students, friends help keep it all together. Parents and teachers add up to pressure that only friends can relieve.

Eugene Martinet asks Eric Nickus, "Hey, friend, what flavor did you say that was".

Definition Of A Sophomore

Sophomore: a second-year student in a four year high school. Sophomores are known as being the ones in Health and the big deal class are minor compared to the enthusiasm and spirit that the class of 1985 shows, especially in Athletics. Sophomore Phil Middleton broke records right and left in Track, while leading the Varsity Volleyball team to the C.I.F. quarter finals was Sophomore Shelley Gallagher. Robin Jimmerson sums it up best, "Sophomores are awesome."

Sophomores . . . Looking Forward

Sophomores have many things to look forward to. Becoming upperclassmen and leaving high school were just a couple of things that motivated the class of 1985. Sophomores gaze longingly at the "Senior Quad" knowing that someday they themselves will be the "Big people on campus." Academics were also important to the Sophomores. Roger Kavigan said "Being an upper-lowerclassman was okay, but being a lower-upperclassman is something I have been looking forward to for a long time." This attitude along with the good academic and athletic achievements which we have seen in the past year are destined to produce a very proud graduating class in 1985.

Freshman Seek New Horizons

Dan Sutherland-Pres.

"I know our class is one of El Dorado's best classes both athletically and academically", stated Freshman class president Dan Sutherland. His personal goals for the class were to have the entire class focus into what the class is doing.

The Freshman officers did several things to raise money and they are off to a good start and they're looking forward to having a big party on their grad. night in '86. They helped put on Homecoming and they put on a dance themselves. "The group worked well together. Everyone seemed best fit for their position. They thought about the good of the class not for themselves," said Dan. The officers are looking forward to their upcoming years knowing that '86 will always strive for the top.

An Exceptional Student

Amongst the new class of Freshmen were many outstanding students. Many of the young Freshmen participated in sports and other school activities during the past year. A typical example is Kieth Moll. Kieth achieved a 3.5 this year and won a place on the High Honor roll. Academics, however, was not his only strong point. In fact, Kieth also excelled in many sports here at E.D.; in football, baseball and wrestling. He was on the unbeaten League Champion Football team, J.V. Wrestling, and the Freshmen Baseball Team. On his off time away from school he enjoyed scuba diving, hunting and fishing. In this way he has already contributed much to this school.

Kieth Moll winces in disgust as he chokes down his sour milk.

The Freshmen Class

What is faster than a thundering herd of turtles, more powerful than a conventional pillow, and able to leap out of trash cans in a single bound? Why, Freshmen, of course! Now that they know what it's like to be Freshmen, the class of '86 will move ahead one small step to experience the life of a Sophomore. They will rid themselves of those immature habits that have plagued them since Tuffree.

Now able to find their way around campus without occasionally asking for directions, these "creatures" need not carry their locker to class, for they will be able to find their locker without getting lost. Hence, they will have no more excuses for being late to their classes. As Sophomores the guys will be "calm and suave" while the girls will be all "skin and phones", but everyone knows that sophomores are just overgrown Freshmen.

"It's fun. I have lots of friends at El Dorado and there is just so much more to do here," commented enthusiastic Freshman Barry Dahmen.

Barry's big dream is to someday play varsity basketball for El Dorado. But as for now he is content watching and cheering for his older brother Brian, who is a starter and key player for the varsity.

"It's like being a rookie ballplayer. You learn a lot by the environment, and it's exciting to see your growth day by day," stated Barry. Barry's unique; he LIKES being a Freshman. Unlike others who can't wait to get the respect of an upperclassman, Barry feels that "maybe I am a little different, but I enjoy being a Freshman and I am in no big hurry to be a upperclassmen."

Barry himself was a starter for the Freshmen Basketball team and played a key role in the team's success this year. Besides sports, Barry is a good student maintaining a 3.0 grade point average and plans to someday be a professional sportscaster.

Freshmen; A Bottomless Pit

What's it like being a Freshmen?

Who knows? The only way to really find out is by asking the Freshmen themselves.

Freshman Jeff Boucher commented, "I really enjoyed being a Freshman, you're in a sense a rookie, and you deserve to have insults thrown at you. But when the upperclassmen start throwing you in cans and pushing you around the fun has kind of gotten out of hand."

He has summed up much of the treatment of Freshmen. It's a long uphill climb, that is tiring and almost endless. But it's also an avid tradition that may never end.

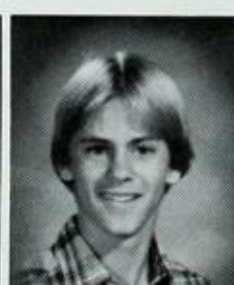

The class of 86 is one to watch out for, be it in academics or athletics. Some of El Dorado's outstanding Freshmen are, Jim Sammons, Pat Houston, Jim Buck, and also Jill Mutich.

The Freshman class was one that well not be forgotten. Their emotions dealt with their pride, be it loud screams or looks of disgust, they always were in the thick of things. "They were better than the classes in the past," stated Activities Director Mr. Rodriguez, "they participated much more and were very cooperative."

Freshmen are a weird breed. They're small and shy, as they enter a whole new world. In spite of all the upperclassmen who want to introduce them to a trash-can, Freshmen are capable of doing anything they want; Football star Doug Sipple led the Freshmen to league championship; Greg Clark led the Water Polo team to a league championship; and, of course, Freshman class president, Dan Sutherland led the whole Freshman class.

The Unusual Breed

Favorite classes were a rarity in upperclassmen due to the on-set of Senioritis, but Freshmen in their infinite wisdom had chosen a few.

If you had asked most people this year what their favorite class was, they would have probably laughed and walked away. But if you caught them in a more serious note, when their friends weren't peering over their shoulders, you might have been surprised. Kathleen Chiechi, a Freshman, said with a giggle in her voice, "Geometry's my favorite. I like Mr. Woy because he is a nerd." Another Freshman, Teresa Petry stated, "I enjoy Pre-Algebra because Kristen Lennings is in the class and Mrs. Alexander is so nice."

People had different reasons for liking certain classes. Freshman Shawn Dillion liked drama because he could act wild and crazy.

We're Not So Funny

They were the joke of the school. You could find them wandering around campus avoiding Seniors, the Senior Quad, and most likely, the trash cans. Who were they? The Freshmen of course!

Once again El Dorado was invaded by these small people. Fresh from jr. high, these students came to El Dorado hoping for acceptance and the great social life depicted in the movies. Unfortunately for most of them, their hopes did not come true. Freshmen only found ridicule, rejection and most often, the inside of trash cans.

Fortunately though, Freshmen endured their first year and will be a great contribution to keeping El Dorado a superior school.

One of our infamous El Dorado Freshmen takes one look at the Senior Quad and fears for his Sophomore year.

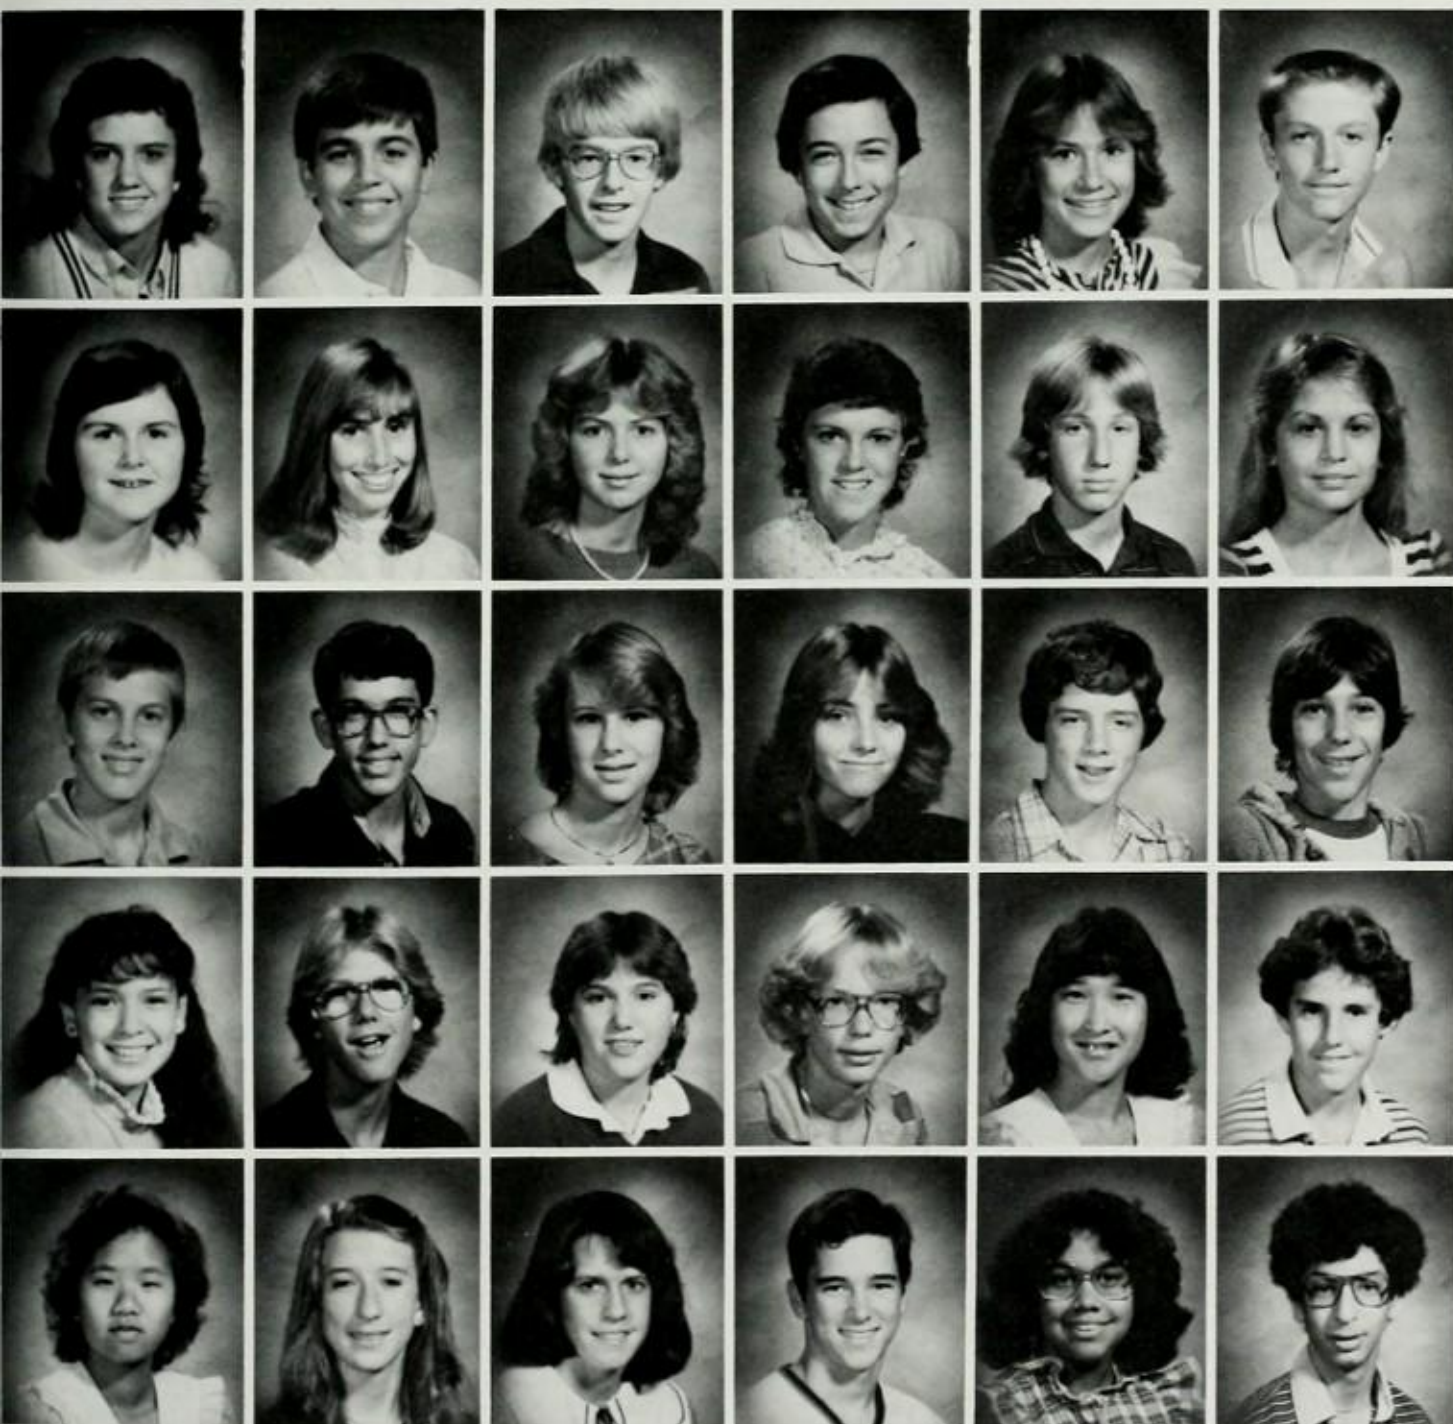

Even Freshmen Have Dreams!

When some of us look back on our Freshman year all we remembered was the amount of abuse we received. We knew we had dreams but most of them were far-fetched. Still a few Freshman had sensible dreams of their future and strove to obtain them. For example, Julia Barkley has had a dream of becoming an actress. She was enrolled in Mrs. Jones' intermediate drama class. She auditioned for Dark of the Moon and for the musical Grease, and has planned to continue in all of El Dorado's other dramatic activities.

Many people hoped and prayed for their dreams to come true, but only a few people went out and tried to achieve them through work and perserverance. "I haven't worked as hard as I should have, but I am going full force next year," replied Julia.

Julia Barkley waits patiently for her interview to end.

Jerry Jertberg Is A Man Of Principle

When asked if he likes his job Mr. Jertberg said, "Ha! Ha! Well I wouldn't have stayed here for 16 years if I hadn't enjoyed it. It isn't the type of job you stay at very long if you don't like it." Mr. Jertberg has been at El Dorado ever since the school opened in 1967. He was an assistant principal before he became principal.

This is his ninth year as principal and he considered this year to be "one of the better ones." He also said that the students are consistently stronger year after year. Mr. Jertberg considers the new freshmen class to be "one of the best ever" in terms of their behavior, academic standing, and athletically. "They seem to have a lot of leadership in the class which other classes in the past have lacked." When asked about the Senior class he said that they were one of the better Senior classes. Mr. Jertberg said of this year, "This is a very good year. The students have been doing well in sports, grades, and have overall good behavior."

Mr. Jertberg stated affirmatively that "El Dorado is probably one of the top notch high schools, and that it ranked high comparatively to other high schools in the state." He continued on, "We have good curriculum coupled with students, a great faculty, and a sports program." It seems quite evident that Mr. Jertberg is openly proud about the great school that he has contributed so much to.

"Forget it Ron, they're not gonna let us out," says Ms. Ervin to Mr. Cozart.

Gary Cardinale; History In The Making

If you asked most students who they thought were some of the most outstanding teachers at El Dorado, undoubtedly the name Gary Cardinale would often come up. Mr. Cardinale has been teaching twelve years at El Dorado, and intends to go on teaching indefinitely. He stated that he enjoys teaching, and if he had not enjoyed working with kids he wouldn't still be here. He teaches U.S. History and another history course, American Frontier. Mr. Cardinale is also one of the Varsity baseball coaches and is also an adviser for C.S.F. He proceeded to say that he tries to become involved in a major part of kids lives when they're in high school.

One of the main contributing factors that makes him a great teacher is his obvious enthusiasm about the subject he teaches. He said that "History is very important because mankind can learn how to correct and avoid his past mistakes. Unfortunately I don't think most people understand it's importance." Because of this apparent lack of interest in history by most people Mr. Cardinale attempts to make his class enthralling. Fortunately for his students he succeeds. He explained, "Since most kids aren't going to go around the world learning about history first hand, I try to bring history to them." Truly he is an asset to El Dorado.

Question: What have you found to be the most innovative excuse by a student for not turning in an assignment?

Mr. Leavitt: "Dog ate it."

Mr. Disbennett: It was last year. "My ferret took it and hid it under the bed." (And that's a true story!)

Mr. Sonnenburg: He was in jail all night. (Also true)

Mr. Leonard: "I was attacked by a band of wild gypsies on the way to school."

Mrs. Cass: "It was in my dad's car. The leasing agent came and took the car while I was sound asleep and left us another car."

Mr. Pence: "My mother picked it up with her papers and took it to work."

Mr. Cardinale: "One morning the sister of one of my freshman students made my student go home with her because the sister, who was a senior, was wearing see-through pants with red polka-dot underwear and everyone was making fun of her. The senior made the freshman go home with her because the freshman had clean clothes and the senior did not."

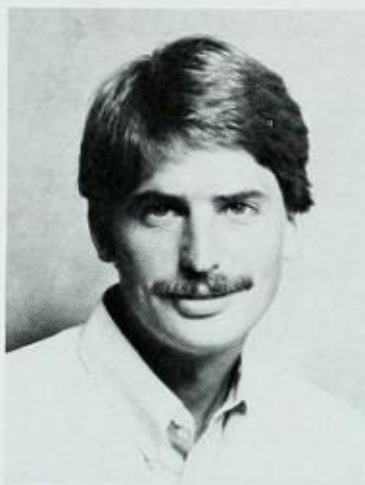

Mr. Dutcher: The student usually says that I lost it - and I usually believe him. That's not the most innovative, but it is the most effective.

Teachers Add Class

The educational staff here at El Dorado is without a doubt one of the best in Orange County. Some of the teachers have been here since the school opened in 1966. The friendly relations among the staff help ease the tension that Monday mornings present. Our teachers are a definite part of the classroom atmosphere, and a student's attitude in the classroom is greatly affected by the teacher's own personal way of teaching. At El Dorado we are fortunate enough to have teachers that are intelligent yet humorous, thus providing a suitable background for the learning situation.

Films That Caught Their Eye

Faculty's Favorite Movies

C. Grosse - Chariots of Fire - The music was great and the story spotlighted a humble man who made a tremendous difference in his "world."

A. Leonard - E.T. - The plot resembles how the young grow up in America and to me, was very nostalgic.

M. Sonneburg - My Favorite Year - The movie had excellent acting combined with a great script. Comedy done by serious actors is always the best comedy.

D. Chadez - Chariots of Fire - This movie was very realistic unlike many other sports movies. The portrayal of the athletic struggle was well done.

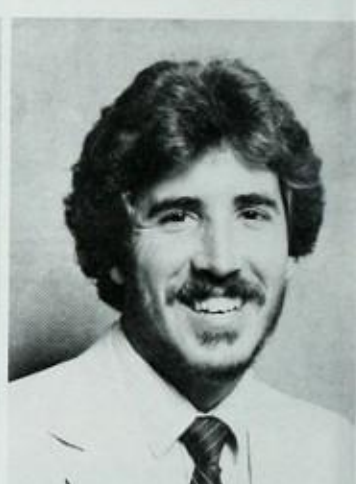

K. Pence - E.T. - I'm a fuddy duddy when it comes to movies but I enjoyed E.T.

T. Brennan - Rocky III - I always enjoy seeing the underdog win. Besides, the hit music kept the story moving.

Hepp's Mysterious Realm

Although many El Dorado students talk about him, little is known about the REAL Mr. Hepp. One of five original teachers still at El Dorado, Mr. Hepp has seen the evolution of our school. "The '60's hippie era brought us confusion. The '70's period complicated the school process when students made up their own curriculum. Now in the '80's, the momentum in school is back to the basics."

"It's enjoyable to work with young people and help them expand their awareness."

Mr. Hepp has always enjoyed reading and helping students use ideas of the past for use in the future. "It's enjoyable to work with young people and help them expand their awareness." After 31 years of teaching, Mr. Hepp has influenced many El Dorado students but is still deeply touched when former students thank him for helping in their success. "If I helped only one student in my life, my job has been worth while."

Shirley Jones looks on in disgust while William Wright turns his head in disapproval.

Here we are, at the end of the book. Our 1982-83 school year is gone. All the football games, dances, assemblies, friends, are things of the past now. A book has been closed, but a brand new one is about to be written. The year we have just finished will now become a cherished memory we will forever hold dear in our hearts. The Freshmen will now learn the fine art of driving, the Sophomores will receive their class rings, the Juniors will obtain the long-awaited title; Senior. For the Seniors, we will be ending a very special chapter in our lives and assume the responsibilities of the adults we have become. Like E.T., we all have been strangers here at El Dorado, but slowly, tentatively, we reached out with our hands and hearts and in return found love, friendship, happiness as well as pain and loneliness. Yet, these experiences have helped us to grow, to become better people. We will never forget our high school years, and all that went with them. So, although this is an ending to one part of our lives, it is the bright new beginning of another.

Brent
 go to bad
 because I miss seeing
 you. Remember how much fun we had in
 Mr. Sullivan's class? well see hopefully I will see you in the summer.
 Love
 Wendy
 Roberts

Brent,
 It was great having you in my English &
 History class. you a real funny guy. Hope you have a good summer
 See you next year.

ME
 Mel,
 This is to my favorite bud! You're great, Mel! But, you've got to stop kissing all those girls ~~or~~ or you are going to get mono.
 Good luck in all you do.
 Have an awesome summer and take care. I'm going to miss you.
 P.S.
 If you want to call me

Brent
 what can I say I really didn't get to talk to you but I really didn't
 But I can say that you are a pretty cool guy, and that I am glad that we friends next year. Well see you around next year, and maybe we the summer.
 Anthony a call and will give me a call and get some chicks. How would you like that. 528-34127 Bob 528-0677 Tony

BRENT, THEODORE, MEL ...
 How many names do you have? you're really sweet hope to see you at PPC later b/c I won't be at ED too much!
 Have a fun summer
 See you around
 Big Time
 Love,
 Janna
 Feathers (Blink)
 Friendship

It's been quite a year with you in 3 of my classes! HOPE TO
SEE YOU NEXT YEAR
IN E.D.

P.S.
THANKS FOR LETTING ME BORROW YOUR BATHING SUIT.
HAVE A GREAT
SUMMER!
Scott
Vedick

Brent,
I'm so glad I got to know you! You're one of the sweetest guys I've ever met. I can't wait to see you in the summer!
Best of luck in everything you do!
Have ya Gats,
Patsy

Brent, (Mel, Pescado, Fisher)
Hope you have a great summer. See you at E.D. John Evans.
P.S. work on your laugh,
it's getting old.

Brent,
hi you don't know me
but your really funny and
I just wanted to say hi!
Stay happy K"
Irish Moke

Brent,
hi! thank you for all the fun times in English - me and you really got on Mr. Pickney's mind. - you a really special guy and a good friend to me! I hope to see you in the summer
have a great one!
Keep in touch - 996-6728
Love Suzanne

Brent,
I'm really glad you were in my Spanish, and English class.
You made them really fun.

See you
next year.

Brent,
The first time I saw you I knew you were a cute little sweet guy, I'm glad I became friends w/you
your a great little guy
Love your new friend

Frank Domita

Brent,
Even though you can be a pain sometimes you can also be nice. I well can't believe how well you and Mr. Robinson get along. See you next year maybe.

Brent,

Well my boy the year is almost over, and all you have is 3 more to go. Keep up the football, maybe you'll start growing. Don't be too hard on the ladies this summer.
If you ever have a problem or need a date (like Faith) just look me up in the phone book.

Take it easy

Brent,
I'll just start off by saying if you get in trouble with some "lully" th can always call on me.
But seriously though, you did me a lot if your my radio I know I am your big brother, but your you've got 3 more years
I have a lot more than one if you have any problems or anything, #524-9938
See you
Brent
